U. S. STEEL TO 180 1-2 IN BULL DRIVE

St. Joseph Lead Records Upturn of More Than 8 Points—Price Over 50 Points Above 1928 Low.

CALL MONEY RENEWAL RATE 6 PER CENT

Wide Assortment of Issues Lifted to Record High Prices for Extended Periods in Last Hour.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The bull party took complete control of the stock market today, as United States Steel was bid up to a record price for all times at 180½. Disregarding the increase in brokers' loans to near record levels, a major buying movement developed. Blocks of 5000 to 35,000 shares frequently changing hands. Otis Elevator mounted 15 points. Simmons, St. Joseph Lead, International Nickel, and Greene Cananea Copper seven to nine points.

The previous high price for United States Steel of $176 a share was established two years ago upon declaration of a 40 per cent stock dividend. Twenty-five years ago the stock sold as low as $8.37½ a share.

The close showed the average of 50 industrial stocks 210.4 against 210.0 yesterday; 20 railroad shares 135.4 compared with 134.7 and 20 utilities 202.3 against 201.3 yesterday.

A flood of new money appeared in the market and the call money renewal rate was marked down to 6 per cent. While New York banks, as shown by the Federal Reserve statement, are putting little new money into the market; the recent high rates have attracted a large influx of funds from out-of-town banks and large corporations. New bond offerings this week totaled $12,600,000, as against about $18,000,000 last week and $123,000,000 in the corresponding week last year.

Sinclair Gets Some Vacuum Stock.

Business news continued generally favorable. The Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation announced that it had acquired a block of Vacuum Oil in exchange for some French oil securities. There was bullish activity in several high-priced specialties, Johns-Manville scoring an extreme gain of 13 points to a new high record of 213.

International Nickel new stock was a spectacular feature, opening 5¾ points higher and then extending its gain to 7⅝ by touching a new high record at 64⅞. National Cash Register ran up more than five points to a new high at 107½. Spiegel May Stern, Greene-Cananea Copper, Radio and Electric Auto Lite sold 5 to 7 points higher.

U. S. Steel common returned to the leadership of the market in the early afternoon. Standard plate Glass advanced 3 points to 8 in response to report of proposed increased tariff on glass. Public utilities were in brisk demand, with People's Gas, American Water Works and American Power & Light in the forefront of the advance.

Canadian Pacific, with a gain of nearly 6 points, was the leader in the railroad group.

Strong buying lifted a wide assortment of issues to record high prices for extended periods in the last hour, United States Steel making a new high for all time at 180½ which represents an advance of more than 13 points for the week. St. Joseph Lead and Simmons mounted each 8 points, Rossia Insurance and Electric Auto Lite 4¾ and 7.

The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 4,900,000 shares.

A membership on the New York Stock Exchange was sold today for a new high record price of $620,000, an advance of $5000 from the previous sale.

The first sale of Standard Oil of New York was a block of 25,000 shares at 45, up ½. Commonwealth Power advanced 2½ points on the first sale, and Columbia Gas and Consolidated Gas each opened a point higher. Johns-Manville moved up 2 points. Mohawk Carpet fell back a point on the first sale.

Loans Near Record High.

No change was made in the 5-per-cent rediscount rate by the New York Federal Reserve Bank. The increase of $71,000,000 in

BYRD TELLS HOW HE FOUND NEW ANTARCTIC HARBORS ON FARTHEST SOUTH FLIGHT

ST. LOUISAN PILOTED BYRD ON HIS FLIGHT

DEAN SMITH.

PILOT DEAN C. SMITH ATTENDED THE PRINCIPIA FROM 1912 TO 1917

DEAN CULLEN SMITH, air mail pilot, who handled the controls of Commander Byrd's plane on the first exploration flight in Antarctica, attended the Principia academy here from 1912 to 1917, when he enlisted in the army air service.

Smith played on the Principia football team and was a popular student.

After two years in the army air service, Smith became a mail pilot, a position he has held continuously since. He flew between Chicago and Omaha for a number of years. He was flying the night air mail from Cleveland to New York when Byrd induced him to join his South Pole expedition.

Smith is 28 years old, unmarried, and is six feet four inches tall. He weighs 180 pounds. His mother, Mrs. Rhoda B. Smith, now lives at Sacramento, Cal.

WILKINS STORES HIS PLANES TO AWAIT RETURN NEXT YEAR

Supplies Also Housed in Weather-Tight Buildings; Expects Boat in 10 Days.

DECEPTION ISLAND, Antarctica, Jan. 17.—(Via Whaler Hektoria and KUP, San Francisco Wireless Station).—We continued our work today toward getting ready for our departure from Antarctica.

Both our airplanes now are wrapped securely to withstand the rigors of the Antarctic winter. Likewise our supplies have been well housed in a weather-tight building to remain until our return next season, when we will continue our exploration work.

We expect a boat to call here on its way to the Falklands in 10 days but we are not certain that we can connect with the steamer leaving there Feb. 4.

Names One for Lindbergh, Other for Chamberlin — Nearness to Magnetic Pole Makes Mariner's Compass Useless.

BAY OF WHALES, Antarctica, Jan. 16. (Delayed).—It has been difficult to get here, the farthest point South that a ship can go, but today we have felt repaid for the 11,000 odd miles of sea over which we have sailed since the bark City of New York left the United States last August, for we find ourselves at the threshold of the unexplored areas.

We have lost no time in flying out in one of these areas. At 3:45 o'clock this afternoon Dean Smith, Harold June and I took the air in our Fairchild plane, the "Stars and Stripes," setting a course to the southwestward. In five minutes we were looking into areas never before seen by man as far as we know.

It did not take us long to find out that our nearness to the South Magnetic Pole made all three of our magnetic compasses entirely useless, so we had to use the sun compass. The magnetic compass started swinging immediately after our skis left the ice and kept on swinging until our return.

Names Harbor for Chamberlin.

First we flew over an uncharted harbor about three miles deep which is on the west side of the Bay of Whales, near Floyd Bennett Harbor. As we flew over this harbor, I found myself comparing this flight over the ice and snow with trans-Atlantic flying, and with our compasses swinging, I thought of the trouble Clarence Chamberlin had with his compass at the beginning of his trans-Atlantic flight.

So I decided that I would name it Chamberlin Harbor.

There stretched ahead of us a great snow-covered ice field that the eye of man was looking upon for the first time. That always gives me a kick, and is one of the great lures of the unknown. The ice we were flying over should be several hundred feet thick. How much of it is above the water, or land that some of it rests on, was impossible to tell.

Some miles to our left we could see a ridge formed by great pressure in the barrier, and this seemed to extend well over 15 miles.

Dean Smith was at the stick, filling up the whole forward part of the cabin with his six-foot-four of brawn. Just behind me sat June at the radio.

Temptation to Go On.

The business of looking out the windows with glasses searching for something new to put on the maps was a fascinating one.

Although we had sleeping bags, a sled and other equipment in the plane to give us a chance to get back in case of a forced landing, we were determined not to give in to the great temptation of going on and on.

This was the first day a plane had ever flown so far south and, since the compasses were acting badly, we would be unable to steer a straight course if we were caught in a fog or snowstorm.

After covering about 25 miles, we saw an inlet ahead, running north and south. This did not show on the maps we had, so here was something we could add to the charts of Antarctica.

Hundreds of Seals on Ice.

We flew over it and found it to be a beautiful formation in the barrier. At its mouth, the ice cliffs to the eastward and westward, rose vertically nearly a hundred feet from the water, where it is about 1500 feet wide.

A mile back from the entrance of the inlet the bay ice began. It was smooth as a billiard table and extended for several miles. Then it narrowed and curved somewhat to the southwest.

Here we saw hundreds of seals lying on the ice alongside a pressure ridge. They turned on their backs and craned their necks to see what manner of bird was making such a terrific noise. There was some excited movement among them, for a moment, but they soon went back to their lazy sleep.

The inlet curved again to the southward and wedge-shaped It ended in a point a few miles away, being there filled with great blocks of ice.

Far to the South the barrier appeared to rise to an altitude of 400 or 500 feet.

To the westward we saw a cloud formation, which at first looked like high land. It was exactly like a cloud we had seen on the trans-Atlantic flight which we would have been certain was land had we not known that we were then in the middle of the Atlantic.

We could hardly think of our

TORNADO KILLS EIGHT PERSONS IN THREE STATES

Two Children Dead in Demolished Farm House 20 Miles South of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

SCHOOL IS BLOWN DOWN AT MAUNIE, ILL.

Three Pupils and Woman Lose Lives There 25 Hurt—Woman Victim at Ft. Branch, Ind.

By the Associated Press.

Seven children and a woman are known to have been killed and several persons were reported injured in tornadoes that swept over parts of Southeastern Missouri, Illinois and Indiana shortly before noon today.

The known dead:

Marjorie Hargraves, 4 years old, and her brother, Buddie, 3, killed when the storm demolished the Hargraves farm home 20 miles south of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Mrs. William Brown, living near Benton, died of injuries.

Bernice Tucker, daughter of a Methodist minister, Dorothy Mae Henry, and a child named Erwin killed when a schoolhouse at Maunie, Ill., was razed. A Mrs. Newman also was killed at Maunie.

Mrs. Mary Nolan was killed at Fort Branch, Ind.

Reports were that 25 children in the schoolhouse were injured. All available physicians and nurses were rushed to Maunie early this afternoon from Carmi, Ill., eight miles away.

The storm also was reported to have caused heavy damage, but no loss of life, at Texas City, Ill., about 16 miles south of Carmi. Many buildings were reported to have been unroofed.

High winds and heavy downpours of rain, accompanied by hail, hit several other Southern Missouri and Illinois towns.

Three Killed in Wreck of Schoolhouse at Maunie, Ill.

By the Associated Press.

MAUNIE, Ill., Jan. 18.—Three school children were killed and about 25 others were injured, two seriously, shortly before noon today when a tornado wrecked the three-room frame public school building here in which about 125 children were attending classes.

The fact that most of the children were in the midst of a blackboard recital, standing close to a wall that afforded some protection from flying debris, probably prevented a greater tragedy. Many of the children escaped without a scratch.

The dead: Dorothy Handley or Henry, 11. Bernice Tucker, about 12. A child named Erwin.

One arm was torn from the body of Margaret Rose, another pupil, and Lula Weare suffered a fractured leg.

The tornado cut a narrow path through Maunie, with the schoolhouse directly in the center of it. Other buildings were damaged, but no other casualties were reported.

The terrific wind swept between two trees on either side of the schoolhouse without breaking a branch from any of the trees. Most of the children injured received minor cuts and bruises.

Reports that a smaller country schoolhouse about eight or nine miles north of Carmi had been razed by the tornado were not verified here late today.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 18.—A wind storm sweeping across Southern Indiana and Illinois today was reported to have caused the death of two school children at Maunie, White County, Ill., and the death of a woman at Fort Branch, Ind. Much property damage was caused.

Several residences were reported damaged in the vicinity of Maunie and a school house was said to have been wrecked. At Fort Branch two houses were demolished, reports said. The woman reported killed was Mrs. Mary Nolan. Her husband, David Nolen, was seriously injured, and a 5-year-old grandchild also was injured.

Tornado 20 Miles South of Cape Girardeau Kills Two.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Jan. 18.—Two children were killed about 11 a. m. today when a tornado demolished their farm home, 20 miles south of Cape Girardeau. Marjorie Hargraves, 4 years old, and her brother, Buddie, 3, were killed. Their father, Loren Hargraves, was reported seriously hurt.

No other casualties were reported in this district, but a garage and several other farm buildings in the path of the wind were wrecked. Mrs. Hargraves and two other small children escaped injury.

The tornado came in the wake of a heavy rain and hail storm. It swept northeast into Illinois. A high wind, which did no serious damage, swept over this city.

CASHIER SLAIN BY ROBBERS WHO TAKE $10,000 IN HOLDUP OF OVERLAND STATE BANK

SUES TO BAR CITY FROM SECTION OF AUDITORIUM SITE

Counsel for Trustees and Heirs of Charles H. Peck Estate Alleges Fraud in Taking Title to Tract.

ACTION MAY DELAY WORK ON PROJECT

Procedure for Memorial Held Invalid Because It Has Not Been Kept Separate From Plaza Plans.

Suit was filed in Circuit Court today to enjoin the city from taking title to a large piece of property in the Municipal Auditorium site, on the ground that the condemnation for this site was carried out as part of the Memorial Plaza condemnation, thereby perpetrating a fraud in law on the property owners.

The city is preparing to take over the auditorium location so that construction can be started this summer, but the suit may delay this important project, for completion of which civic interests have been clamoring.

Plaintiffs are the trustees and heirs of the estate of Charles H. Peck—Miss Elizabeh I. Peck, Mrs. Rebecca P. Dusenberry and Mrs. Belle P. Bryant. Their attorneys, S. T. G. Smith and Gustave A. Stamm, announced that similar suits would be filed today in behalf of two other property owners in the same city block, Fred E. Hampson and Vivian Kirkpatrick.

Alleges Procedure Is Invalid.

It is contended in the Peck suit that the city lacks the power to condemn land for a plaza and use it for an auditorium, and that the whole procedure is invalid. The 1923 bond issue provided $6,000,000 for the plaza site, including the blocks to be taken for the auditorium, and for a war memorial building, while another item provided $5,000,000 for the auditorium with authority to spend this money for the site, too. The suit avers that each bond item should be treated separately and that the city has no right to mingle them.

For convenience, and because it was intended at first to spend the whole $5,000,000 for auditorium construction, the city condemned the whole property as for the plaza, but Comptroller Nolte has ruled that the auditorium location must be paid for with auditorium bond money. Last Tuesday the city paid $764,140 into Circuit Court in order to take possession of the auditorium portion of the land.

The Peck estate owns land fronting 71 feet on Market street and 230 feet on Johnson street, at the southeast corner, occupied by a three-story hotel and store building and 10 dwelling houses. It was allowed $145,000 by the condemnation commissioners, although Attorney Stamm asserted it had proved a $300,000 value. Exceptions to this award have been filed by the estate and the city, the city asserting it was too high. The tax assessment value is about $100,000.

Mayor Miller told the Convention & Publicity Bureau last May that owners of the Peck property and another parcel were responsible for the delay in starting the auditorium.

Hearing to Be Jan. 31.

Judge Sale issued an order returnable Jan. 31 for the city to show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

"In an opinion given the City Plan Commission on Jan. 25, 1927," said City Counselor Muench today, "I held that the city would be warranted in putting buildings on the plaza, especially since the plans for the plaza circulated before the bond campaign represented a number of public structures on it, so that the people voted for the plaza in the sense that it was to be a combination of open spaces and buildings. A plaza is generally considered as a civic center.

The Supreme Court has held that the auditorium would be a public building, for which expenditure of bond funds would be proper. I think it is a good idea to get this question of the right to use the plaza threshed out right now."

SENATORS ASSAIL DRY ENFORCEMENT BY THE TREASURY

Plan to Put Department of Justice in Charge Offered in Debate on Appropriation Bill.

ONE WOULD GIVE JOB TO MRS. WILLEBRANDT

Prohibition Agents Helped Republicans in Presidential Campaign, Robinson Declares.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. — The perennial prohibition row flared out again in the Senate this afternoon and in the course of it some of the drys quarreled among themselves as to whether the enforcement of the dry laws should be taken away from the Treasury and vested in the Department of Justice.

The proposed transfer is known to be under consideration by the President-elect, and it is doubtless one of the questions upon which he hopes to receive guidance from the prohibition Investigating Commission he has promised to appoint. Hoover has not committed himself either way on the subject but there is a well-defined impression that he has been favorably inclined toward the change.

Whether or not there is basis for this belief, it has been sufficiently widespread to cause uneasiness among the dry organizations. Notice of it was taken recently in a publication by the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, which reiterated its strong opposition to any transfer of the enforcement functions. This has steadily been the position of the Anti-Saloon League and other dry organizations.

Says Treasury Is Burdened.

Senator Glass (Dem.), Virginia, who helped to write the enforcement plank of the Democratic platform, brought up the subject by declaring that it had been the considered judgment of every Secretary of the Treasury for the last 12 years that prohibition enforcement should not be saddled upon the already heavily burdened Treasury, but should be removed to the department in which it logically belonged—the Department of Justice.

Glass declared the transfer would have been made except for the opposition of the Anti-Saloon League.

Speaking from his knowledge of the Treasury Department as a former head of it, Glass said that the Secretary of the Treasury, because of his numerous other duties, had very little to do with the enforcement of the dry laws and ought not to be charged with their failure.

"This enforcement," he said, "manifestly should be under the Department of Justice, where all the laws are supposed to be enforced."

Jones Favors Present Status.

Senator Jones (Rep.), Washington, a dry spokesman, while conceding that Glass's views were entitled to respect, said he was "rather inclined" to oppose the transfer. He said that one of the reasons for the present inadequacy of enforcement was the constant change that had been made in enforcement methods.

Glass was supported by Senator McKellar (Dem.), Tennessee, another dry, who expressed the conviction that enforcement would be "infinitely better" under the Department of Justice than it is at present.

Though repeating his view that no change should be made, Senator Jones said it would "go a long way" with him if he could be assured that the prohibition unit would be moved over bodily and placed under some such Assistant Attorney-General as Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt.

"She could be depended upon to enforce the law," said Jones. "I have the utmost confidence in her ability and integrity."

Mention of Mrs. Willebrandt brought sarcastic comment from Senator Blaine (Rep.), Wisconsin, who said that the "estimable ma-

BANK ROBBER FOUND DEAD, ANOTHER SHOT

One of Three Men in Dederick (Mo.) Burglary Apparently Killed Self.

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Kan., Jan. 18.—Two of three men surprised early yesterday robbing a bank in Dederick, Mo., were found near there today, one dead, apparently a suicide, and the other critically wounded.

The dead man was identified as Chelsey R. Allen, 28 years old, of Pittsburg, who, officers believed, had fired a revolver bullet through his own head to end suffering from buckshot wounds inflicted by the night watchman at Dederick, who fired at the men as they fled from the bank. A revolver was in his hand.

The body was found in a pasture half a mile south of Dederick, near where Robert Clark, 26, also of Pittsburg, was found wandering, suffering from buckshot wounds in the head. A third man, also identified as a Pittsburg resident, is being sought.

Clark was taken to a hospital at Nevada, Mo., 12 miles west of Dederick, where it was said his condition was critical.

The night watchman at Dederick discovered the three men working in the bank about 2 a. m. yesterday. He called the Sheriff at Nevada and went back to the bank to watch. The men apparently discovered his presence and fled, the watchman firing after them. They abandoned a motor car identified as belonging to Allen.

Four Persons Shot in Chicago Bank Holdup.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Three bank employes, including the cashier, assistant cashier and a policeman, were shot today in a fight between the bank employes and five holdup men who rushed into the Franklin Trust and Savings Bank on East Thirty-fifth street, waving pistols.

More than 50 shots were fired in the bank within five minutes. The robbers escaped with about $2000.

The holdup men, all Negroes, entered the bank in the heart of the Negro district, shouting "hands up!" only to be met with the resistance of the employes who opened fire. The robbers, firing as they advanced, seized an estimated $2000 before they fled.

Edgar F. Olson, cashier, was wounded in the left arm and hand; Leo Poquette, assistant cashier, was shot in the right leg, and Martin French, Negro guard at the bank and former policeman, was shot several times in the body and seriously wounded.

GOV. CAULFIELD BECOMES GRANDFATHER; IT'S A BOY

The birth of a son, last night, to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barksdale, 6015 Pershing avenue, made Gov. Henry S. Caulfield a grandfather. The Governor, in announcing the event at Jefferson City today, said, "They are talking about naming him after me."

Mrs. Barksdale, the Governor's eldest daughter, and her husband, were at the inauguration Monday. The Governor and Mrs. Caulfield will come to St. Louis tomorrow to see their first grandchild.

SHOT DOWN WITHOUT PROVOCATION AFTER THEFT

T. V. Phelps, Principal Owner of Depository, Shot in the Back, Dies Soon Afterward.

TWO GRAB CASH, TWO WAIT OUTSIDE

Looters Enter Depository at 1:15 P. M.—Intimidate Five Persons There and Flee in Auto.

Toddie V. Phelps, cashier and principal owner of the Overland State Bank at Overland, was shot in the back and fatally wounded by one of four robbers who stole about $10,000 from the bank at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon. He died at the Overland Hospital at 3:40 o'clock.

The shooting was without provocation. At the command of two of the robbers who entered the bank, while their companions remained outside in an automobile, Phelps opened the vault in the rear of the depository. He and one of two men customers who were in the lobby went inside the vault upon order and remained there quietly while the robbers scooped up all the currency in the place.

The customer who accompanied Phelps into the vault was Merrit Hamilton, a street car conductor, of Argyle avenue, Overland.

Deliberately Shot Down.

There is a small barrel-type safe inside the vault. Phelps was ordered to open it, but was unable to comply. While he fumbled with the combination, one of the robbers, who had a sawed-off shotgun, repeatedly told him to hurry, threatening to kill him. The other robber, who had a revolver, begged his companion not to shoot. After they had taken the money, however, and while Phelps stood with his back turned, the one deliberately aimed his shotgun and fired. Then the pair ran to the waiting car and drove away.

The shot was fired at close range and tore a two-inch hole in the cashier's back, on the left side. About 22 shot entered the body. Phelps was carried to the hospital, two doors away, and attended by Dr. John O'Connell, County Coroner, who conducts it.

Mrs. Phelps was summoned to the hospital. They have no children.

Those in the bank at the time besides Phelps and the two customers were George Hoech, 22, the bookkeeper, of 8727 Olden avenue, Overland, and Mrs Agnes Wilkinson, janitor, 2623 Woodson road. The robbers cursed Mrs. Wilkinson, in ordering her to remain in the lobby and "keep her mouth shut." Hoech and the other customer were made to take seats in the office space behind a railing. Hoech had been busy in a teller's cage.

"Don't Press Buzzer."

The robbers leaped over the railing and summoned Phelps from a rear room. One of them cried to Hoech, "Don't press the buzzer," referring to the sort of alarm many banks maintain, but there was none in this instance.

In leaving, the robbers took a quantity of money from a teller's counter. As far as could be determined at first, they left no money in the bank except a small amount of change.

The robber with the shotgun appeared to be about 35 years old and the other robber about 32. They were dressed shabbily and were not masked. Hoech observed their companions in the automobile. One of these was at the wheel and the other in the rear seat.

Within two hours after the robbery, Hoech had identified pictures of two men with police records, as the men who were in the bank, and their arrest was ordered. Photographs of finger and heel prints left on the bank railing by the rob-

OKLAHOMA HOUSE GETS 10 CHARGES AGAINST GOVERNOR

Report for Impeachment Brought by Committee Which Asks for Johnston's Suspension.

REFERENCE IS MADE TO MORAL TURPITUDE

Violation of Constitution, Wilful Neglect of Duty and Incompetency Are Also Alleged.

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Jan. 18.—Ten charges of impeachment against Gov. Henry S. Johnston were reported to the Oklahoma House of Representatives today by its Investigating Committee. Charging the Governor was interfering with the progress of the investigation, the committee asked for his immediate suspension from office.

The Governor was generally charged by the committee with violation of the constitution and laws of the State of Oklahoma; wilful neglect of duty, incompetency, and corruption in office

The committee used the term "moral turpitude" in a general description of the charges in the report.

Summary of Charges.

A summarization of the charges, as presented by the committee in its report, follows:

1. Issuance of pardon and restoration of citizenship to R. D. Crossthwaite.

2. Diversion and misappropriation of funds paid to J. W. "Buck" Eldridge, special agent for the Governor.

3. Unlawful issuance of deficiency certificate for the banking department, creating the position of assistant attorney, law clerk and stenographers for the years 1927-28.

4. Unlawful issuance of deficiency certificates for the banking department, creating the position of assistant attorney, law clerk and stenographer for the years 1928-29.

5. The unlawful expenditure of money pursuant to an illegal contract with one Kirby Fitzpatrick employed as a special attorney for the State Banking Department.

6. Unlawful issuance of deficiency certificates to continue the State issues commission after refusal of the Legislature to make an appropriation for the years 1927-28.

Unlawful act Cited.

7. Unlawful issuance of deficiency certificate to continue the State issues commission after refusal of the Legislature to make an appropriation for the year 1928-1929.

8. Unwarranted authorization of interference by militia with orderly conduct under claim of right of members of the Legislature to assemble peaceably.

9. Unlawful and wrongful attempts to interfere with the functioning of committee on investigation of Legislature, judicial, executive and other departments of State and intimidation of witnesses to be called by said committee.

10. General incompetency.

The committee, in presenting its report, charged that the Governor "by his executive and official position and through his employes, organization and friends, is resorting to every manner of means to hamper, delay and interfere" with the investigation, with the result that "witnesses are being intimidated and many witnesses made inaccessible."

"Sinister Influence."

"A full, impartial, complete and free investigation cannot be obtained unless such sinister influence is prevented," the report continued, and "* * * can only partially be prevented by the suspension the said Henry S. Johnston as Governor of the State of Oklahoma."

Commenting on the impeachment move, Gov. Johnston declared that if the evidence gathered by the Investigating Committee was read in the House, that body would vote to consider the charges.

"The charges," he said, to reporters, "are utterly false. You know me. I am not guilty of any of the things attributed to me in them."

J. W. Mansell, pardon and parole officer, who appeared recently before the Investigating Committee of the Oklahoma House to testify in regard to issuance of a pardon by Gov. Johnston to R. D. Crossthwaite, a fugitive from the State penitentiary, died at his home today of a heart attack.

flights of 1927 without remembering the fellow who so thoroughly showed us how to do it. So we decided to name the newly discovered inlet for Lindbergh.

With the compasses acting as they did, it seemed unwise to go farther, and, with the feeling that before going on longer flights we should get more wise to the conditions of visibility down here, we headed the plane shipward.

It was impossible for us to tell how high we were above the ice and snow. We might be a hundred feet or might be a thousand.

Motor Stops Dead.

When a little more than half way back to the ship, the motor stopped dead. Believe me, that gave us another kind of a kick.

As Smith nosed the plane toward the snow, none of us was looking forward with any pleasure to the landing—he decided with his usual quick way of thinking that one of the gas tanks had gone dry and he instantly turned the proper valve. Our downward speed started the engine again.

When we got back to the ship, conditions of visibility were much worse than at the start, but Smith made a perfect landing on the bay ice near the ship, judging his altitude from the water and the ice edge, and showed for the second time today that he is a very excellent pilot.

Sees Huge Unknown Area.

We examined carefully 1200 square miles of the hitherto unknown area that it would have taken the foot traveler weeks to explore. Again we marvel at the airplane. So we don't agree with some English authorities that aviation can do nothing down here.

All of us are pleased with the performance of the "Stars and Stripes" on its initial flight of exploration.

The mechanics and pilots deserve a lot of credit for the thoroughness with which the plane was disassembled, crated, prepared and loaded for the long voyage through the tropics and ice regions.

Without the careful testing they did in the States, we could not have gone on a flight of exploration on the first day we put the plane together on the ice.

OWEN CONTINUES STORY OF FLIGHTS

By RUSSELL OWEN.

(Copyright 1929, by the Post-Dispatch and New York Times. World Rights Reserved.)

This story is published exclusively in St. Louis in the Post-Dispatch. All news articles from members of the Byrd party, or from special correspondents assigned to it, will appear only in the Post-Dispatch in this city.

A STORY of the first flights over Antarctica by members of the Byrd Expedition, Commander Byrd himself surveying 1200 square miles in one of seven trips in the air, was begun yesterday by Russell Owen, the Post-Dispatch-New York Times correspondent. The first flight of Capt. Alton Parker was detailed, then one with Dean Smith at the controls and later one by Harold June, with Bernt Balchen in the machine with him. From there the story goes on:

BAY OF WHALES, Antarctica, Jan. 16 (via New York Times Radio Station and Mussell Rock Radio Station, Robert Dollar Co., San Francisco.) — When Sverre Strom, the giant Norwegian mate who had turned dog driver for the time being, came in, he was shaking his head over the things which had passed him in the air.

"I stopped the dogs and watched you go by," he said, "and then I said to myself, 'Here I am a thousand years behind the times.' Ja. a thousand years, sweating and pulling and doing in three hours what you do in 10 minutes. It made me feel old, like an Eskimo."

The immensity of this land can be sensed only from the air. It burst upon us, a place of desolation—for 30, yes, for 40 miles on either side—a lost land of white.

Sees Vast White World.

The effect was magical. We had had days of mucking around on dirty snow amid dogs and ropes and piles of drab things, with the barrier always in the foreground closing us in and the sea behind us. And then in a moment the barrier had dropped below. All the unlovely things of a hard existence were left and we floated in a new world of peace and cleanliness and vast extent.

It was a supreme detachment and, with a feeling of awe, we looked out on the rolling wastes far inland, which no one had ever seen before today. Even the vision of Capt. Amundsen and his men, who traveled here so much, was limited by their earthbound sledges.

Seals Basking in Sun.

The edges of the bay were outlined sharply in the clear light by the winding and broken line of the barrier walls, white cliffs which made bays and promontories around which they ran crumpled into the pressure ridges. Seals basked in the sun around air holes, which were barely visible.

As we flew farther in, the feeling of isolation was increased a thousand-fold and there was a weird and unearthly sense of flying toward a limitless horizon, and there was an opalescent shifting of light and shadow.

The snow and the sky merged in a curiously dappled effect where a cloud fell on the snow, but which was cloud and which was shadowed snow it was impossible to tell from our height. It was a mere speck in an awful solitude.

Flies Over Cheering Men.

But as the plane rushed eastward, one orange house stood out clearly and near it and the boxes of material and a hole where the new house will go, were men waving their hands.

It was all their labor that this swift creature of the air might wing its way inland and leave them. There is rare devotion to a cause among the many men who do the unglorious but hard work of the expedition.

The plane dropped to within 200 feet of the roof of the house and then zoomed up again and turned southward and back toward the ship. As it did so, Bernt Balchen pointed to one side to the site of Framheim, where Capt. Amundsen lived for a year. It has been covered by the snows of many blizzards and, so far, not a trace of it has been discovered.

Men Watch Drift Ice.

As we were going back toward the edge of the ice, it was possible to see how general is the outward movement of the drift ice. It dotted the dark surface of the ocean as far as could be seen, little floating specks of white.

Balchen dropped carefully toward the surface, so difficult to define down here, and landed with the quick, hard impact usual when using skis.

dam," as he called her, was about to be criticised by a House Committee for having placed an undercover agent in the Atlanta Federal penitentiary to spy upon the Warden.

Jones indicated that he was not impressed with the criticism.

The debate centered around the proposal of Senator Harris (Dem.), Georgia, that the Treasury be given $25,000,000 additional with which to enforce prohibition. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has expressed his opposition, to the appropriation.

A charge that prohibition enforcement machinery was mobilized to help the Republican party in the last election was made by Senator Robinson of Araknsas, the Democratic leader and candidate of his party for the vice presidency in the recent campaign.

Employes of the prohibition service, he declared, were informed as to the course they were to pursue in the campaign "where to go; how to vote and what influence to exert."

The Senator make his statement after Senator Norris had declared that politics was the motivating influence in the appointment of prohibition enforcement workers.

Says Politics Rules Jobs.

The Nebraska Senator asserted that he and his colleagues agreed upon a man to direct enforcement work in their State, but he was appointed only after a representative of the Prohibition Bureau had twice asked Norris if he knew his man was a Democrat. The man's superior qualifications were not considered, Norris declared, but his political connection with given great weight.

A move to change the proposal of Senator Jones (Rep.), Washington, for an appropriation of $250,000 to permit the prohibition department to disseminate information urging law observance, so that the information instead would be distributed under the direction of the President, was made by Senator Glass (Dem.), Virginia, who offered a substitute to that effect. The Jones proposal also would appropriate $1,000,000 for additional field workers.

Norris declared no effort was made to determine why a man wants a particular job.

Chance to Make Money.

"Usually it is to make money out of the prohibition work," he added. "A man in certain jobs can make a million dollars the first 30 days of his service if he wants to."

Norris said Government employes had told him that employes of some embassies were making a practice of selling liquor by the bottle. He described as another evil in enforcement the "issuance of permits to influential men."

"I am not saying there was bribery," he added. "It's politics."

Norris read a long series of articles, purporting to show how Chester P. Mills, former Administrator in New York City, had been hamstrung by political influence.

Calls for Honest Effort.

Referring to Mellon's recent suggestion that a survey should be made to determine how the proposed extra money should be spent, Norris said the Secretary might fairly be judged "a failure" if after eight years in office he is ready only for another survey. He suggested that perhaps Mellon should not be judged too swiftly because he was "not in sympathy with prohibition."

Asserting that a fair attempt to enforce prohibition had not yet been made, the Nebraska Senator called on wets and drys to unite to see that such an attempt was made. If after an honest effort to carry out the law, it is shown to be a failure, he said Congress should not hesitate to make changes.

Norris read testimony by Mrs. Willebrandt, that Secretary Mellon had appointed a Mr. Littleton to prosecute prohibition cases in Pennsylvania, involving bribery, without her approval and over her protest. The appointment of Littleton, Norris declared, resulted in a move to nolle pros the cases, which was denied by the presiding Judge.

"Money Not Honestly Used."

"If this demonstrates anything," the Nebraska Senator said, "it demonstrates that there has not been a fair attempt to enforce prohibition, that the money we have appropriated has not been properly and honestly used."

JOHN D. SR. SAID TO HAVE JOINED FIGHT ON STEWART

Elder Rockefeller Represented as Being Aroused Over Attitude of Chairman of Standard Oil of Indiana.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The New York Times says that John D. Rockefeller Sr., although retired, has thrown the full weight of his influence and may even assume actual direction of the fight his son, John D. Rockefeller Jr., is making to prevent re-election of Robert W. Stewart as a director and chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

At the Standard Oil Building, the elder Rockefeller, who still is recognized as the titular head of the Standard Oil group, was represented as being more aroused than he has been over any other dispute that has arisen since he turned over his affairs to his son.

It was understood, the Times says, that he regards Sewart's attitude as an affront, and that he has passed the word along to all of his connections that every effort must be made to wrest control of the Standard of Indiana from the present chairman.

Stewart, arriving in New York this morning, said that his main business here was in connection with the internal affairs of the oil company and that his visit had "no connection whatever" with the fight to remove him from the leadership.

Asked if he was here to get proxies, Stewart replied: "Absolutely not. I am not here in this proxy matter at all. I am here on affairs of the company which I do not care to make public. I shall only be in New York until Saturday and I do not want to discuss the fight with Mr. Rockefeller Jr.

"I do not care to indulge in any of the band wagon talk. The proxies will be voted on March 7 and those alone will settle the fight. Proxies change daily and no one can tell in avance how the vote will go."

"Organization Behind Me."

Asked whether he expected a close contest, Stewart said:

"No one can forecast that at this time. The organization is behind me and the board of directors is behind me. This is a very strong argument in my favor.

"I prefer not to say definitely that the directors resent Mr. Rockefeller's attitude, but I will say that they are strongly in favor of me."

Commenting on the report that John D. Rockefeller Sr. had come to the aid of his son, Stewart said he would not believe the report until he had seen "unquestionable proof."

"I have been with Mr. Rockefeller for 25 years," said Stewart. "I have given him and the company unquestionable support and I have no intimation that he will not support me."

Comment on Sutherland's Action.

Told that Howard E. Sutherland, Alien Property Custodian, who by virtue of his office holds the voting power of more than 12,000 shares of Standard of Indiana, has assigned to Rockefeller Jr. the proxies of that stock, Stewart asserted: "Mr. Sutherland does not know a single member of the organization and I am confident that he made no effort to investigate the affairs of the company before taking the position he did. I am sure that if he made an investigation he would change his stand in this fight."

Stewart concluded his interview with reporters with this sentence: "I sincerely hope that Mr. Rockefeller Jr. will have a nice time on his visit to the Riviera."

EARTHQUAKE LAYS VENEZUELAN CITY OF 25,000 IN RUINS

25 Reported Dead and Many Injured in Cumana — Preliminary Shock Warned Many Persons.

By the Associated Press.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Jan. 18.—Emergency measures were in full swing today to give aid to the stricken inhabitants of the port of Cumana, leveled by an earthquake early yesterday morning.

Fortunately a light, preliminary shock drove the inhabitants of the city into the streets and plazas, thus saving countless lives when the entire city crumbled in ruins.

The newspaper Universal today estimated the number of dead at 25 with numerous injured, some of whom were still being taken from the ruins.

The Government is giving free transportation to all who wish to go to Cumana to succor their families. Free telegraphic communication also has been opened. The Governor of an adjoining state rushed to the scene yesterday with first emergency supplies and President Gomez has telegraphed the Governor of Cumana to spare no expense in helping the stricken inhabitants. The National Government will bear all costs of this relief. The Venezuelan Red Cross and other organizations have opened relief subscriptions.

The Dutch steamer Commewijne, from which first reports of the earthquake were received, rendered invaluable service in transmitting wireless messages until the reestablishment of the telegraph lines late in the afternoon.

Cumana, which was founded in 1520 is the first Spanish settlement in Venezuela. It was previously destroyed four times by earthquakes, in 1530, 1766, 1797 and 1853. The city's population is about 25,000.

Cumana is about a mile above the mouth of the Manzanares River, about 25 miles east of Caracas. The raw products of the region are coffee, tobacco, sugar, lumber and cotton.

NO SUCH THING AS ELECTRON, ENGLISH SCIENTIST DECLARES

Word Merely Helps "Our Inadequate Intelligence to Form Mental Pictures."

(Copyright, 1929, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos., the New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The electron has no real existence, Prof. A. S. Eddington of Cambridge told 40 puzzled Fellows of the Royal Society yesterday.

The foremost scientists in England declared themselves unable to understand the demonstration of relativity which Eddington summed up by saying:

"Electrons are only dummies used to help our inadequate intelligence form a mental picture."

Sir Oliver Lodge was moved to champion the electron, so derisively treated by Eddington.

"I do not understand a word of it," Sir Oliver remarked. "It is rather rough on the electron to be called a dummy 30 years after it was born."

17 CHARITIES GET $500 EACH IN WILL OF LOUIS P. ALOE

No Estimate, but Estate of Former President of Board of Aldermen Is Thought to Be Large.

The will of Louis P. Aloe, president of the A. S. Aloe Optical Co., and former President of the Board of Aldermen, who died last Saturday, was filed today, leaving his estate to his widow, after bequests of $2500 each to four children and $500 each to 17 charities.

Mrs. Edith R. Aloe, the widow, was appointed sole executrix. The estate is thought to be large, but her attorney, Forrest C. Donnell, said no estimate could be made at this time.

The children are Mrs. Clara Belle Weissbein, Mrs. Viola Avis Marx, Mrs. Louise Patrica Leopold and Mrs. Isabella Earl Baer.

Bequests of $2500 each made by Mr. Aloe in his will, dated Jan. 28, 1926, to his brother, Col. Alfred Aloe, and his mother, Mrs. Isabella Aloe, were canceled by their deaths.

The charities named in the will are: Bethesda Corporation, Convent of Good Shepherd, Father Dempsey's Home, Father Dunne's Newsboys' Home, Washington University Students' Loan and Scholarship Association, Jewish Community Center, Jewish Home for Crippled Children, Home of Aged and Infirm Israelites, St. Louis Colored Orphans' Home, St. Mary's Infirmary, Hebrew Immigrants' Aid and Sheltering Society, Jewish Orphans' Home, Provident Association, Salvation Army, St. Vincent de Paul Society, Jewish Orthodox Old Folks' Home, Negro Y. MERCHANTS' GROUP AGAINST EARLY CHANGE IN PARKING LAW

Thorough Tryout of Present Measure Urged Before New Ordinances Are Adopted.

A resolution opposing any new ordinances regulating or limiting the parking privilege downtown until the present parking law is "thoroughly tried out," was adopted by the Associated Retailers yesterday.

The organization, comprising the larger stores and some of the specialty shops, is particularly opposed to the bills pending in the Board of Aldermen, one of which would prohibit daytime parking on the main streets of the congested area. The other would make Olive and Locust streets one-way thoroughfares between Fourth street and Twelfth boulevard. Representatives of the Associated Retailers will appear before the Legisative Committee of the Board of Aldermen when a hearing on these measures is held on Jan. 24.

It is the belief of the Associated Retailers that the present law prohibiting parking downtown in the rush hours and limiting it to one hour between 9:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. is not enforced strictly.

Spray Keeps Rabbits Away.

By the Associated Press.

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—Dr. W. E. Pleger, State Plant Board entomologist, has composed a spray solution to keep rabbits and other enemies of tender young foliage at bay. It is made of 1½ ounces of lead arsenate and 1 ounce of linseed oil to each quart of water, and may be applied with an atomizer, or a squirt gun such as is used in the household for killing flies. A spray tank uses too much fluid.

MARSHAL FOCH HAS GOOD DAY; DOCTORS FIND HIM STRONGER

New Heart Stimulant Has Highly Satisfactory Results; Patient Has Fine Appetite.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Marshal Foch was so much better today that his doctors were actually talkative when they left his bedside after a consultation of two hours.

"His heart is better and stronger," said Prof. Laubry.

"I am satisfied with the improvement in the condition of the kidneys," said Dr. Heitz-Boyer.

"And you may say for me that I found the Marshal's general condition somewhat better this morning," said Foch's regular physician, Dr. Davenieres.

Together they issued the following bulletin: "There is a slight improvement in the condition of the heart and kidneys.

A new heart stimulant which was given to the Marshal this morning had highly satisfactory results, said Dr. Davenieres.

"The effects of the new treatment have been excellent," he said. "The Marshal ate lunch with a fine appetite and we were able to tell him of the great interest everyone has been taking in his illness apparently as much in the United States as in France."

"This has been a good day for Marshall Foch," said his doctors when they left the residence this evening.

HIGHER GAS RATE DELAYED TILL NEW SCHEDULE IS FIXED

This Will Add $600,000 a Year to St. Louis Consumers' Bills by Service Board Order.

EVERYBODY EXCEPT BIGGEST USERS HIT

Three of Five Commissioners Gave Decision, One Dissenting and One Not Sitting in Case.

New gas rates for St. Louis authorized by the Public Service Commission yesterday and providing for an increase in the bills of domestic consumers and probably for a general rise to all except the largest industrial users and house-heating customers will not go into effect until a new schedule of rates has been filed by the Laclede Gas Light Co., and approved by the commission.

In its order the commission allowed 10 days for appeals or other pleas, and then will fix a time in which the company must file a new schedule of rates in lieu of the proposed one suspended by the decision announced yesterday.

Under the new schedule the company will be permitted to earn a return of 7½ per cent on a valuation of $47,000,000, which the commission said was a fair valuation for rate-making. It was estimated by engineers of the commission that this would add $600,000 a year to the revenue of the company, which, of course, will be obtained from customers through readjustment of rates. The schedule of rates proposed by the company would have provided $1,400,000 more revenue a year, it was estimated, an increase of about 18 per cent.

The New Schedule.

The new schedule will contain a minimum charge of 75 cents a month which will pay for only 300 cubic feet of gas, additional consumption being charged for at a certain rate a thousand feet, the maximum of which will be 95 cents a thousand. The present rates provide for a maximum of $1 a thousand cubic feet and a minimum monthly charge of 50 cents which pays for 500 cubic feet of gas.

It is the application of the 75-cent minimum charge that brings about the increase in the domestic consumer's bill despite the reduction of maximum rate from $1 to 95 cents a thousand feet.

Under the new rate a consumer of 500 cubic feet will be charged 44 cents a month more than under the old rate. He will be charged 75 cents for the first 300 feet and 19 cents for the next 200 feet at the rate of 95 cents a thousand, a total bill of 94 cents. Under the old rate of $1 a thousand feet the minimum charge of 50 cents for 500 cubic feet would have paid his bill in full.

A consumer of 4000 feet a month would have his bill increased 27 cents. He would be charged 75 cents for the first 300 feet and $3.52 for the remaining 3700 feet at 95 cents a thousand, a total of $4.27. Under the old rate his bill would have been $4.

What the Company Asked For.

The schedule of rates the company had proposed was as follows:

For the first 400 cubic feet or less a month, 90 cents.

For the next 14,600 cubic feet a month, 95 cents a thousand cubic feet.

For the next 50,000 cubic feet a month, 85 cents a thousand cubic feet.

For the next 100,000 cubic feet a month, 75 cents a thousand cubic feet.

For all over 165,000 cubic feet a month, 60 cents a thousand cubic feet.

Pending submission and approval of the new schedule the present rates will remain in effect. These rates are as follows:

First 7800 cubic feet a month, $1 a thousand cubic feet.

Next 6800 cubic feet a month, 90 cents a thousand cubic feet.

Next 50,000 cubic feet a month, 80 cents a thousand cubic feet.

Next 100,000 cubic feet a month, 70 cents a thousand cubic feet.

All over 164,500 cubic feet a month, 60 cents a thousand cubic feet.

Three of Five Made Decision.

The valuation allowed the company was about $1,500,000 less than had previously been recognized for rate-making. In 1926 the valuation of the gas property was fixed at $45,600,000 and later betterments and additions bringing it up to approximately $48,500,000 were recognized.

The city of St. Louis took a part in the present case, which had been pending since April, 1927, contending for a reduction of about $8,000,000 in the valuation.

Yesterday's decision at Jefferson City was concurred in by Chairman Ing and Commissioners Hutchinson and Porter, the latter in a separate opinion. Commissioner Calfee filed a dissenting opinion and Commissioner Painter did not sit in the case.

Calfee's Dissenting Report.

Commissioner Calfee's dissenting report dealt chiefly with a contention the commission should have made a greater reduction in the valuation. He did not say how much more should have been eliminated but declared the going value allowance should have been reduced and that the commission should have made a reduction for accrued depreciation. He said that in the valuation case the company contended there was virtually no accrued depreciation, in the property, in order to obtain as high a valuation as possible. In the rate case, he said, the company contended for a greater allowance to take care of depreciation and submitted evidence of wear and tear, and approaching obsolescence of equipment. He said this evidence was not consistent with that offered in the previous case.

INJUNCTION HALTS DEPOSING OF BOOTH

Officer of Salvation Army Falls Dead in Debate Over General's Successor.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The high council of the Salvation Army was today restrained by the Chancery Court from electing a successor to Bramwell Booth, deposed General. The injunction operates until after a hearing by the court, which was set for 10:30 a. m. next Monday.

Wilfred Greene, who appeared in court on behalf of Bramwell Booth, told the tribunal that the case was of great urgency because the high council was in session and would proceed with its action unless restrained from selecting a successor to Gen. Booth.

The application was made before Justice Eve by Greene and two associates. Greene explained that he asked for an ex parte injunction against Samuel Hurren and other members of the high council. He told the court that the defendants had passed a resolution declaring Booth unfit for office and purporting to remove him. He added that the council was in session with the object of appointing a successor.

Counsel submitted an affidavit from Booth's solicitors giving the grounds upon which the injunction was asked. This set forth that Bramwell became General in 1912 on his father's death under the deed of 1878 which gave the founder life tenure in the generalship and power to appoint his successor. The affidavit declared that William Booth had purported to alter the trusts, powers and provisions in the deed of 1878 by the deed poll of 1904 so as to make provision for action should a General cease to perform his duties of office. Greene told the Court that the late William Booth had no right to do this as it amounted to varying a charitable trust duly constituted under the original deed.

The injunction was served on the high council in session at Sunbury this afternoon. Catherine and Mary Booth, daughters of the general, were present. The injunction caused great commotion.

Commissioner Haines, vice president of the high council, fell dead tonight at Sunbury.

His death came at the conclusion of an emotional speech before the council which was then considering the election of a successor to Bramwell Booth.

82 PARKING LIGHT VIOLATIONS

Police Arrest 25 Other Drivers With One Lamp on Car.

Continuing their drive against violators of the parking light ordinance, police last night issued summonses to 82 car owners for neglecting to leave lights burning on their parked cars.

In addition, 25 drivers were arrested for driving with only one headlight.

JAMES O'BRIEN, NOTED CHINA MENDER, DIES

Operated Olive Street Shop for 40 Years — Funeral to Be Held Monday.

The little china-mending shop which for 40 years has stood at 3234 Olive street is locked today and on the door is printed: "Closed on account of death."

James O'Brien, the proprietor descendant of an old Irish family of glassmending craftsmen, who for two generations has repaired St. Louis' broken heirlooms and art treasures, died yesterday at 74 years. He lived above his shop with his wife, Ellen, and his only surviving daughter, Helen Theresa.

Mr. O'Brien, although of Irish descent, was born in Gloucestershire, England. He came to St. Louis in 1888 at the solicitation of R. B. Gray, who until 25 years ago operated a china-mending shop on North Broadway.

St. Louisans soon learned that the deft fingers of "O'Brien down on Olive street" could take the most fragile piece of French cloisonne, the most delicate marble statuette from Italy, and join its fragments so the cracks could scarcely be detected. So skillful was he at his trade that he was able many years ago to demonstrate at street fairs how an empty egg shell might be broken and made whole with no crack visible.

This master of his art scorned slipshod methods. To him glue was anathema. With a diamond drill he bored tiny holes in pieces of broken china. Into these openings he hammered bits of copper wire imported from England. The wire is flat on the side placed next the china and rounded on the outside so no rough edges are left to interfere with the handling of the mended piece. After this process is complete the outer side of the object presents an unblemished surface.

Last March Mr. O'Brien's health failed and he was forced to abandon his work. The mending of marble and pottery went on at the little shop, however, for his 28-year-old daughter had been carefully trained in the craft since childhood. She intends to carry on the family tradition. After her father's funeral she will reopen the shop.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 9 a. m. at St. Francis Xavier Church, Grand and Lindell boulevards. Burial in Calvary Cemetery.

WOMAN DIES OF INFECTION FROM ERUPTION ON HER LIP

Mrs. Betty Reed, 35, Head of Millinery Firm, Succumbs at St. John's Hospital.

Mrs. Betty Reed, 35 years old, head of a downtown millinery concern, died yesterday at St John's Hospital from blood poisoning resulting from an eruption on her lip. Her physician said he did not know how the poison set in unless Mrs. Reed inadvertently picked a fever blister.

Mrs. Reed, who was taken to the hospital Monday, resided at the Berger Hotel, 6668 Delmar boulevard.

brokers' loans brought the total close to the high record established just before the December break. Dealers have advanced the offering rate on bankers' acceptances from 4¾ to 4⅞ per cent, but this was regarded as a technical adjustment, as the former quotation of 4¾ was largely nominal.

Brunswick Terminal advanced 2 points to a new high at 44 on reports that the Manganese ore return on its new tract averaged between 44 and 46 per cent.

Pennsylvania Railroad common opened with a block of 15,000 shares at 82 and then advanced to the highest price since 1902.

KIDNAPED, TAKEN INTO COUNTY AND ROBBED OF $28.20

Enos Boyd and William Phillips, Caretakers, Are Forced Into Auto in Rear of 2015 South Grand.

Two bedraggled men walked into the Magnolia Avenue Police Station at 3:30 a. m. today and reported having been kidnaped and robbed. They were Enos Boyd and William Phillips, caretakers of the Royal Astor Apartments, 2015 South Grand boulevard.

At 11 o'clock last night they were walking in an alley behind the apartments, between Castleman avenue and Russell boulevard, when one of two men stepped out of a parked automobile, displayed a revolver and commanded, "Get in, gentlemen." Boyd and Phillips got in the car and were driven east to Broadway and south into St. Louis County, where they were robbed of $22.85 and $5.35, respectively, and put out.

"Keep your mouths shut or you'll see us again," one of the robbers said, in parting. The caretakers walked back into the city and borrowed carfare from a newsboy on which they proceeded to the police station.

Held Up at Door of His Garage and Robbed of $58.

Albert Eckman, 3957A Lafayette avenue, sounded his horn when he found the path to his garage in the alley blocked by another car. Two men stepped out of the shadows and robbed him of $58, after which they took the other car out of the alley.

Philip Fish, 1823 Biddle street, was pushing his automobile when three Negroes drove by and asked for a match. They got the match and, at the point of a revolver, $60 and a check for $18.

Other holdups reported: White Castle restaurant, Eighteenth and Walnut streets, robbed of $10; restaurant of Harry Weherle, 6007 South Broadway, $13 taken by a man who ate dinner there; grocery of Max Levitt, 2201 Papin street, $20; grocery of Ruben Shapiro, 2201 Carr street, $27, Kroger store at 4200W Ashland avenue, $48; Gladys Benson, 4461 Olive street, purse containing $5.70 and articles valued at $10.

Bishop Johnson's Home Looted.

While Bishop Frederick Foote Johnson of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri, and his wife, were seated in the living room of their apartment at 5450 Delmar boulevard last night a prowler broke a latch on a bedroom window and stole a pearl necklace valued at $200, the property of Mrs. Johnson.

A few minutes later a young man, presumed to be the same burglar, was discovered in the bedroom of the apartment of William Polster, 5540 Delmar. H leaped through a window and escaped with $50 and jewelry valued at $250.

While Mrs. Mary Martin, 4956 Northland avenue, was scrubbing her front steps yesterday afternoon, a sneak thief entered the house at the rear and stole $460 from a hiding place in the kitchen cupboard.

A Zulu's head, a Japanese mermaid, an Indian tom-tom, a stuffed snake and the skeleton of a mouse, taken from the museum of Dr. Elbert Lee, 1718 Market street, who valued them at $400, have been recovered with the arrest of two employes who sold them to a Collinsville resident for $40.

THEFT 30 YEARS AGO MAY SEND MAN TO PRISON FOR LIFE

Discovery of Offense Puts Michigan Prisoner Under Habitual Criminal Act.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 18.—Because he was convicted 30 years ago of the theft of a horse and buggy, Edward Van Fleet faced trial here today on a habitual criminal charge that, if sustained, will send him to prison for life.

Van Fleet, now 45 years old, was arrested last November on a charge of stealing groceries. Investigation developed he had been previously convicted of assault and that after serving a sentence on that conviction had killed a fellow prisoner.

Going further into his record authorities discovered that as a 15-year-old boy he had been convicted of stealing a horse and buggy.

Van Fleet said his family was without food and that he was forced to steal groceries.

CASHIER IS SHOT; $10,000 STOLEN AT OVERLAND BANK

bers were made by the city officers.

The authorities were informed by a man who was outside that the robbers were in a blue Nash touring car bearing 1928 Missouri license 264-331. This car was reported by William Griersdors of 731 Rubert avenue to have been stolen from in front of 4221 Delmar boulevard this morning.

In New Quarters.

The Overland State Bank is at 2555 Woodson road, in the business center of a populous, unincorporated suburb, in a new $25,000 building into which it moved yesterday. It was to have had a grand opening tomorrow. Previously the bank was at 9321 Midland avenue.

Phelps was 52 years old, married and resided at the Congress Hotel, Union boulevard and Pershing avenue. He came here about seven years ago from Salisbury, Mo., his faamily home, and bought a majority of the bank's stock. He had been prominent in Northeast Missouri financial circles.

The bank is about 20 years old and has a capital of $10,000. Conrad H. Reinemer is its president and Gus C. Etz vice-president. About 10 years ago an unsuccessful attempt was made to hold it up.

Two Other County Banks Robbed in December.

Two St. Louis County banks were robbed last month, the Bank of Manchester, at Manchester, Mo., being robbed twice, on Dec. 3, when $3000 was taken, and on Dec. 27, when the loot was $6224. The Midland Savings Trust Co., 6135 Page boulevard, was robbed of $3120, Dec. 4. Other banks near St. Louis which were robbed last month were the Bank of Bourbon, Mo., $2000, Dec. 15; the Crystal City (Mo.) Bank, $5200, Dec. 22, and the Bank of Foristel, Mo., $1239, Dec. 29.

Slayer Finds Out How Serial Ends.

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 18. — A condemned prisoner's interest in a magazine serial story, the conclusion of which would not have been available in the regular course of events until after he had been executed, brought an advance copy of the publication to the Allegheny County jail from New York by special messenger. The magazine sent the copy when it learned of the case. The prisoner is Paul Jawarski, robber, convicted of killing a payroll guard, and sentenced to die next Monday. "It's the end for me, too," said Jawarski as he finished the story.

"COLONEL" OF CAMPUS MADE ONE IN FACT

Morris Boorstin, in Charge of Washington U. Premises, on Governor's Staff.

Morris Boorstin, superintendent of grounds and buildings at Washington University for 24 years and known to 24 successive student bodies as "The Colonel," is now a Colonel in fact, as well as nickname. He was among the 37 persons appointed Colonels on Gov. Caulfield's staff, and, resplendent in his braided uniform, led the inaugural ball.

Some member of the class of '05 dubbed Boorstin "The Colonel" when the campus was removed from Twenty-seventh and Locust streets to its present large acreage fronting on Skinker road. The title stuck. Even members of the faculty never speak of "Morris" or "Mr. Boorstin." It is always "The Colonel."

A squat and portly man, Boorstin came to the university when there were no trees or walks on the campus. He had four men working under him and he directed them as a field marshal directs an army. Trees were planted, walks were laid, hedges were put in the ground. He now supervises 80 men and 12 women. The heating, the cleaning, the policing, the alteration of university buildings are supervised by Boorstin.

Boorstin was born in Russia and came to this country at the age of 18. He speaks several languages. In his English there lingers a trace of Russian accent, more marked when he is angry. He served 10 years in the United States Army and was a Quartermaster Sergeant in the Philippines.

Many students have been helped through school by the Colonel. He has lent money to them, helped them obtain employment, "fronted" for them when they were in trouble.

Gov. Caulfield, an alumnus of Washington University, has known Boorstin several years. Boorstin supported Caulfield in the primaries and worked for his election. Clarence M. Barksdale, attorney and son-in-law of Gov. Caulfield, was a member of the class of '22 at the university and knew the Colonel well. Daniel Bartlett, Caulfield's law partner, also an alumnus of Washington University, is a friend and admirer of the Colonel.

KING PASSES A QUIET DAY; QUEEN GOES ON LONG DRIVE

Patient Able to Have Longer Talks With Family; Not Yet Allowed to Read.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn, physicians to King George, issued a bulletin this evening which said:

"The King had a quiet day. There is no change to report in His Majesty's condition. The next bulletin will be issued tomorrow night."

The Daily Mail said today that the King had enjoyed long periods of sleep during the last few days and his interest in palace affairs had reawakened. He was not allowed to read, however, since the effort at concentration might prove too great.

The King was having much longer talks with members of the royal family, especially Queen Mary. Her visits to his bedside are more frequent, although they are limited to 10 minutes each time, lest the King's strength be overtaxed.

OLIVER T. LEDFORD SUED FOR DIVORCE

Wife Alleges Ex-Secretary of Commonwealth Steel Co. Left Her to Live in Backwoods.

Alleging that her husband deserted her in order that he might live alone in the backwoods away from all care and responsibility, Mrs. Winifred C. Ledford of 4615 Lindell boulevard has sued to divorce Oliver T. Ledford, former secretary of the Commonwealth Steel Co. The case will be tried by Circuit Judge Taylor in Domestic Relations Court Thursday.

The petition states that Ledford "had been imbued for three or four years with the idea that he must retire from all business activities and live in the backwoods somewhere by himself where he will be free from all care and responsibility." It is stated that he made ample provision for his wife and their daughter, Rae, 17 years old, and then deserted them on Jan. 6. The Ledfords were married in April, 1904.

An investigator for the court reported that Ledford is now living on his farm near Danby, Mo.

$8,000,000 BANK IS CLOSED

By the Associated Press.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 18.—Exchange National Bank of Spokane failed to open its doors this morning, a simple statement of the closure was posted by W. H. Baldridge, National bank examiner in charge. The bank was approximately $8,000,000 in deposits.

By the Associated Press.

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, Jan. 18.—The First Exchange National Bank of Coeur d'Alene closed today. Notice on the dor said "Closed by Order of the Directors." E. E. Flood of Spokane is president.

FOUNDLING WRAPPED IN PAPER

A baby boy, apparently on a few hours old, was found on the doorstep of a home at 5055 Beacon avenue early today. The infant was wrapped in several layers of newspapers.

At City Hospital it was said the child apparently was uninjured by exposure or treatment. Unless the infant is claimed from the hospital in a few days it will be placed in an orphan asylum.

MILLIONS IN PROFITS ON LEAD STOCK RISE

St. Joseph Company's Shares at $89—Many St. Louisans Benefit.

Millions of dollars in paper profits are accruing to St. Louisans as a result of rises in the market value of stock in the St. Joseph Lead Co.

The stock, with a par value of $10 a share, jumped to a record high of 89⅝ on the New York Stock Exchange today and closed at 86¾, a gain of 5½ over yesterday's close of 81¼, or a gain of 16⅜ during two consecutive trading days.

Unusual activity in the issue is shown by sales of 109,000 yesterday as compared with 585,000 for all of 1928 when the market price ranged from 37 to 71½.

Three reasons are advanced for upward movement of this stock—prosperity of the company, general bullish activities, and pool operations in metal stocks. The fact that this lead stock is closely held and not likely to be put on the market is appreciated by the pool operators.

Of the capital stock of $19,504,380, par value, approximately one-fourth is held by St. Louisans. The annual dividend rate, including extras, is $3 a share. In addition there have been stock dividends.

The board of directors includes these St. Louisans: Firmin Desloge, J. H. Grover, D. K. Catlin and M. F. Watts. Offices are at New York and Bonne Terre, Mo.

REVOLVING DOOR TRICK AGAIN

Second Prisoner Escapes From Chicago Police in This Way.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Word has gone out to Chicago policemen that the revolving door trick must be stopped.

A prisoner escaped several weeks ago by going all the way around in a revolving door while his captors stopped inside. He surrendered the next day, explaining that his conscience hurt him.

Jack Hendricks held up a Loop restaurant last night. As he was leaving a clerk seized the revolving door and held Hendricks imprisoned until police arrived. There also is a revolving door at the Detective Bureau. After Hendricks had been booked, Policemen Kleintz and Sundheim started with him to the detention home. Sundheim stepped inside the revolving door first. Next came Hendricks. Kleintz waited his turn, intending to enter the compartment behind Hendricks. Half way through, Hendricks gave the door a violent push, and Sundheim went past his destination and on to the floor, inside the bureau. Hendricks, meanwhile, was on his way down the avenue.

CUSTOMS CHIEF IS TRANSFERRED IN GRAFT INQUIRY

S. C. Sleeper, Head of Border Patrol in Detroit, Ordered to Florida — Says He Will Resign.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 18.—Sumner G. Sleeper, chief of the customs border patrol here, asserted when informed yesterday that he had been ordered to a Florida post that the wide open activities of rum runners on the Detroit River were a direct result of inefficient policies in Washington.

He told Ernest W. Camp, national commissioner of customs, he would resign rather than accept a transfer with the implication that an alleged collapse of prohibition activities here was due to local inefficiency.

"Under present circumstances," he said, "it is virtually impossible to stop rum-running on the Detroit River."

He charged that men employed in the border patrol were not in sympathy with prohibition and so were easily susceptible to graft.

Sleeper's transfer followed an investiagtion into charges of alleged graft and conspiracy among customs border patrolmen, started in November. The inquiry resulted in 20 border inspectors being held on graft charges and three others on charges of perjury. Attaches of the District Attorney's office estimated $2,000,000 had been paid as bribes to members of the patrol.

Sleeper declared the investigation was started at his request. He said he still believed customs laws could be enforced here providing meddlers were not given authority in local administrative problems and members of the patrol received reasonable salaries.

"I am all through trying to enforce prohibition laws, unless I stay here," was his ultimatum to Commissioner Camp. He was ordered by Camp to go to Washington for a conference. Sleeper came here in 1927 from Rockland, Me.

SENTENCED TO LIFE TERM ON LIQUOR LAW CHARGE

Michigan Man, Father of Five, Sentenced Under Habitual Criminal Act.

MANISTIQUE, Mich., Jan. 18.—A life term in the State prison at Jackson, was imposed today upon Tony Papich, liquor law violator, by Judge Herbert W. Runnels. The sentence was mandatory under the provisions of the habitual criminal code. Papich was convicted of liquor offenses five times.

Standing before the bar as the sentence was pronounced, Papich, married and the father of five children, broke down and sobbed.

Hagenbeck to Visit St. Louis Zoo.

HAMBURG, Germany, Jan. 18.—Heinrich Hagenbeck of the famous zoo of that name plans to sail for New York early in February in response to requests from various American cities to modernize their local zoos after the Hamburg pattern. The cities he will visit are Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago, Toledo, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Cleveland.

FOUR BOYS KILLED IN NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB ROOM FIRE

They Apparently Had Been Sleeping in Place Fixed Up in Dairy Building in West Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18. — Four boys were burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed their club rooms in the 2-story brick Scott-Powell Co.'s dairy plant in West Philadelphia.

The victims, Martin Lawless, 14 years old, J. McCormack, and two others, as yet unidentified, apparently were asleep in the building.

Their bodies were found by firemen in the ruins. No one was aware that any persons had been in the structure when the fire broke out.

The club rooms had been built in a deep alcove in one corner of the building and the dairy officers did not know it was used by the boys of the neighborhood.

ST. LOUIS EDUCATORS INSPECT TECHNICAL SCHOOL AT DETROIT

Committee Will Return Sunday; Also Visited Toronto, Pittsburg and Cleveland.

DETROIT, Jan. 18.—The committee of 10 members and executives of the St. Louis Board of Education, touring Northern and Eastern cities to get ideas for the projected $3,700,000 vocational school in St. Louis, spent today in this city devoting most of their time to a study of the Cass Technical School.

The Cass School does not prepare students for colleges or universities. Its instruction is of both preparatory and collegiate rank and its students are prepared for the professional and industrial world by means of a co-operative and part-time work and school program. The school is open six days a week from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. and has an enrollment of more than 13,000 students.

The committee arrived here from Cleveland under the leadership of Arthur A. Blumeyer, president of the St. Louis Board. Mrs. Elias Michael is the only woman member of the group. The committee will leave Detroit Saturday evening, arriving home Sunday morning. The week's tour has included inspection of schools at Toronto and Pittsburg as well as Cleveland and Detroit.

FINED $5 FOR PASSING SIGNAL

John H. Farish Jr., Freed of Charge of Speeding Jan. 11.

John H. Farish Jr., 5221 Westminster place, was fined $5 and costs today by Police Judge Rosecan for disregarding an automatic traffic signal Jan. 11 at Kingshighway and Washington boulevards. A charge of speeding was dismissed for want of evidence.

Farish was arrested after an early morning chase of about a mile over West End streets by Motorcycle Policemen Leffler and Engler, who fired several shots in the air before Farish, who said he thought they were highwaymen, stopped. Judge Rosecan, in dismissing the charge that Farish was driving 45 miles an hour, said he didn't think Farish could have made four turns, as testified, and maintained that speed.

6 HURT, $150,000 LOSS IN DETROIT EXPLOSION

Thought to Be Reprisal for Columbus Day Killing of Italian Marcher.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 18.—Six persons were injured seriously and a furniture store, a motion picture theater, a grocery and a restaurant were destroyed by an explosion at Gratiot and Harper avenues shortly before 1 o'clock this morning. The damage was estimated at $150,000. No one was killed.

Police believe the explosion was planned as reprisal for the fatal shooting of an Italian marcher in a Columbus day parade here last October.

Two of the injured are under police guard in a hospital for questioning and a third man found hiding in the vicinity is held for investigation.

Detectives investigating said the explosion was caused by gasoline, two drums of which were found in the alley behind the furniture store.

The seriously injured are: Jose Zangaro, 36 years old, and Philip Cusmano, 25, held as police prisoners in a hospital; Mrs. Harriet Umlve-dross, 38, Mrs. Elsie Miller, 32; Harry Corden, 38, and Frank Young, 52. Zangaro and Cusmano were found pinned under the wreckage.

The third man held is Giralamo Pecararo, 32, found hiding in the vicinity.

Search is being made for John Garrisi, 45, proprietor of the furniture store. Relatives said he started with his family for Chicago yesterday after having received several threatening letters.

Besides the buildings destroyed several other places including a branch bank, a bakery, a laundry and a dry goods store were damaged by the explosion.

Not Guy B. Newburn's Suggestion.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—A dispatch by the Associated Press describing the Federal Trade Commission's hearings on public utilities financing last Sept. 21 contained an inaccurate reference to Guy P. Newburn, of Nashville, Tenn. The dispatch said that M. B. Darnall of Florence, Ala., had named Newburn as having first suggested that the Alabama Power Co. might be interested in paying to have Darnall's newspaper editorials circulated. This statement was erroneous.

OREGON FROGS TO BE USED TO COMBAT ALASKAN MOSQUITOES

Ermine Al[illegible] to Be Sent to One of Aleutian Islands to Kee[illegible] Down Rats.

By the Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 18.—Alaska's mosquitoes will have a new enemy next spring—the large Oregon bullfrog. The bullfrogs will be introduced into the territory by the Alaska division of the United States Bureau of Education in an effort to combat the pest. The big green and brown frog long has been noted in Oregon as the natural enemy of mosquitoes.

The frog has been unknown in Alaska.

With the start of warm weather frogs will be shipped from Oregon to small islands of southeastern Alaska and planted in the deeper ponds. Small islands were chosen because results can be ascertained easily there.

If the experiment proves successful a general importation will follow. It is believed frogs can survive even the cold winter of northern Alaska.

Ermine will be sent to Atka island of the Aleutian chain in southeastern Alaska to combat rats. The first rats landed years ago from a wrecked ship and, unchecked, they have become exceedingly numerous.

EX-CASHIER SENTENCED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Former Employe of Murphysboro, Ill., Depository Exonerates Woman.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., Jan. 18.—Frank Balumer, former cashier of the Citizens' State Savings Bank & Trust Co. of Murphysboro, was sentenced today in the Jackson County Circuit Court to serve from one to 14 years in the penitentiary for embezzlement and forgery. He pleaded guilty.

He was charged with embezzling $7500 from the bank and forging a check for $300. In his plea he exonerated Mrs. Rose Lewis, bookkeeper and wife of State's Attorney Fletcher Lewis of Jackson County, from any blame, saying that Mrs. Lewis, who was arrested on a warrant with him, charging her with embezzlement of $2100, had not been in collusion with him.

A special State's Attorney presented the case, State's Attorney Lewis having withdrawn because his wife has been accused. Lewis said after Balumer's plea had been entered and sentence passed, that Balumer's statement taking full blame for the shortage should exonerate his wife, and that he thought the case against her would be dropped.

RAISES FINE FROM $200 TO $500 ON APPEAL

Gayer Tells Flirt He'd "Knock His Block Off" if Girl Had Been His Daughter.

A $200 peace disturbance fine, levied against Emmet W. Brownlee of 3956 Folsom avenue Jan. 2 in Police Judge Beck's court, on complaint of Miss Flora Banache of 5955 Clemens avenue, was boosted to $500 yesterday by Judge Gayer on Brownlee's colorful appeal to Court of Criminal Correction.

Miss Banache testified a man who said his name was Stevenson telephoned to her Dec. 30, asking her to meet him at Hamilton avenue and Delmar boulevard, and promising to bring gifts of silk lingerie. She agreed and called police. She said Brownlee met her and said he was Stevenson, and was arrested by a policeman who also kept the rendezvous.

Brownlee took the stand and testified it was all for a friend. One Stevenson, he declared, owed him $5. He had called on Stevenson to collect, and the acquaintance explained he had a date which he could not keep, and asked Brownlee to be his proxy, a proposal to which the defendant obligingly consented. He said he was just telling Miss Banache that Mr. Stevenson had sent him when the policeman inopportunely interrupted.

"Where is this fellow Stevenson?" inquired Judge Gayer. Brownlee didn't know Stevenson's first name, address, occupation or whereabouts.

"Were you drinking?" pursued the Court.

"I never take a drink," Brownlee gravely responded.

"A sober man doesn't often do a thing like this for someone he doesn't know," suggested the Judge.

"I guess I was a little foolish," the defendant conceded. He was about to leave the stand when Judge Gayer called him back to ask, "How about that underwear and stuff which police found in your machine?"

"Stevenson told me to give it to her," Brownlee explained. He added that he did not intend to give it to Miss Banache, but to keep it for his wife in lieu of the $5 Stevenson owed him.

"Yes," drawled the Judge, nodding sagely, and listened to defendant's counsel, who argued that the testimony showed nothing to constitute a disturbance of the young woman's peace.

"You think that's no disturbance?" asked Judge Gayer. "It's just enough disturbance that I'd knock his block off if it was my daughter. This fine is raised to $500."

12 HOURS IN CELL WITH FRACTURED SKULL; DIES

Victim's Injuries Were Wrongly Diagnosed at City Hospital Jan. 7.

Lawrence Leahy, 65 years old, a molder, 4428A Floriss place, who spent 12 hours in a cell at Carr Street Police Station suffering with a fractured skull because of an error in diagnosis at the City Hospital Jan. 7, died today at the hospital of his injury.

Leahy was found unconscious on the sidewalk at 720 Morgan street at 11 a. m., Jan. 7, and was taken in an ambulance to the hospital. Dr. Earl Simpson of the hospital staff examined him in the receiving room and pronounced him suffering from lacerations of the scalp and alcoholism. He was taken to Carr Street Station, booked as drunk on the street and placed in a cell for release when sober. All he could remember was that he had fallen down somewhere.

Twelve hours later Leahy lapsed into unconsciousness in his cell and was taken back to the hospital. Dr. Fred Emmert discovered a skull fracture and said his condition was serious. He remained at the hospital until his death at 3:45 a. m. today.

An inquest is scheduled for tomorrow.

$1,000,000 GIFT TO PROMOTE HUMAN WELFARE AND WISDOM

Fund Established by Lucius N. Littauer for Mental, Moral and Physican Improvement.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Lucius N. Littauer, wealthy philanthropist, retired glove manufacturer of Gloversville, N. Y., and former representative, let it be known yesterday that he has set a fund of $1,000,000 to be used "to enlarge the realm of human knowledge, to promote the moral, mental and physical improvement of society so that the sum total of human welfare and wisdom may be increased and the cause of better understanding among all mankind promoted."

The administration of the fund has been placed in the care of the Lucius N. Littauer Foundation, which was incorporated by him recently as an agency for his future philanthropies. The directors of the foundation will have their first meeting on Littauer's seventieth birthday, next Sunday.

"I want this gift spent," Littauer said, "for the general welfare of mankind. It will be devoted to all sorts of charitable, beneficial and educational movements which tend to make man happier."

Progress of Civilization Marked by Mode of Living

To be satisfied with the bare necessities of life is to turn back the pages of civilization. Nowadays things must not only be useful, they must be artistic as well.

This is the idea that has dictated the policy of the Prufrock-Litton Furniture Company, Fourth and St. Charles streets, where artistic furniture costs no more than the commonplace.

Their Semi-Annual Furniture Sale now on offers some extraordinary values in quality furniture. Visit their store Saturday!

POWER FIRM PAID $23,000 FOR ITEM OF PROPAGANDA

Authors of Unfavorable Report on Government-Owned Ontario Plant Got $8830.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Details of the rural electrification project being conducted in Maryland by the National Electric Light Association in co-operation with others were given in the Federal Trade Commission's power utilities investigation today by Paul S. Clapp, managing director of the association.

Clapp said the University of Maryland, various utility companies and State agricultural organizations collaborated in the experiments. The Electric Light Association, he added, had budgeted $12,500 for the project and this amount was matched by contributions from Maryland power companies.

The witness read a letter dated last Oct. 18, in which Dr. R. A. Pearson, president of the University of Maryland, disavowed any "official or organic" connection between the project and the university.

The letter, which was placed in evidence by Robert E. Healy, commission counsel, said the university representatives were interested in the project from the farmers' standpoint and declared no person connected with the university was receiving any financial benefit from the work. Dr. T. B. Symons, head of the university agricultural extension division, was named as secretary-treasurer of the project.

U. S. Represented.

Clapp testified that the project was directed by a Maryland committee which also included representatives of the Maryland Farm Bureau Federation, the State Grange, the State Dairymen's Association, the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs, and the United States Department of Agriculture.

He produced a statement of income of the Electric Light Association from dues for 1927, which showed that $887,962 had been paid by 780 companies. This listed individually the utility companies paying more than $500.

Healy submitted a letter written in April, 1927, by Clapp to John W. Lieb, vice president and general manager of the New York Edison Co., which attached a memorandum of names of candidates for directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce. This called attention to the men named as having the support of the Electric Light Association. Among those designated were M. S. Sloan, president of the Brooklyn Edison Co., and P. H. Gadsden, vice president of the United Gas and Improvement Co., Philadelphia.

Objected to Investigation.

After identifying this, Clapp also identified a speech made by him before the national executive committee of the Electric Light Association in September, 1927, at Chicago. In this he cited the Walsh Senate resolution, under which the present inquiry is being conducted, as a problem to be dealt with.

"There are 3,000,000 men and women in this country who have expressed their confidence in this industry by investing their earnings and savings in it," he had said, "and the vital thing in regard to the Walsh investigation that would affect not alone this industry but would affect all businesses is the shaking of the confidence of those people in the security of those investments."

In this speech Clapp also had expressed opposition to Government operation of power plants citing the Muscle Shoals project, and contending that "once the Government starts to operate the generating facilities, the cost of generation will increase."

$23,000 for Propaganda.

The report on the Ontario (Canada) Government-owned power project, as compared with privately owned and regulated electric utilities in the United States, which was prepared for the Electric Light Association by Murray and Flood, New York, was dealt with in testimony by George W. Oxley, publicity director of the association. He identified copies of checks totaling $8830 paid by his association to Murray and Flood.

A letter from William S. Murray, written Feb. 8, 1922, said the firm had gone into its investigation with an open mind and "in an effort to determine whether or not the plan of the Hydro-electric Power Commission in Ontario applies in the United States."

It added that "an exhaustive analysis of the facts in both countries has convinced me that it does not and I believe the language of the report is not open to other interpretation."

Another check and voucher showed that the association had paid $14,537 for the printing of 10,000 copies of the Murray and Flood report.

WOULD LOWER RATE ON LOANS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 18.—Representative George F. Ballew of Livingston County, introduced a bill today to reduce the interest rate of the so-called small loan companies from three and one-half per cent a month to two per cent a month.

The present authorized interest amounts to 42 per cent a year, and Ballew's bill would reduce it to 24 per cent a year.

ERECT POSTURE AS A COMMERCIAL ASSET

Dr. F. H. Everhart Discusses Its Relation to Health and Disposition.

Posture as a promoter of pleasing personality, commercial prospects and positive health, was discussed by Dr. F. H. Everhardt last night at the Y. W. C. A. in the fifth of a series of "health week" lectures. Poor posture in youth, h warned, may mean poor health in middle age.

"Nutrition" will be the subject of a lecture by Miss Angeline Carlson of the Red Cross at 7:30 tonight at the Y. W. C. A., 1411 Locust street. It will be the last of the series.

"With an erect posture," said Dr. Everhardt, "there almost always is found a cheerful expression accompanied by confidence and determination, which helps to make what sometimes is known as a pleasing or striking personality. Conversely, in almost all cases of drooping head and flat chestedness and general poor posture, the facial features and the general appearance of the individual present a picture of dejection and depression.

"This indicates the second reason for acquiring a good posture, namely, its commercial value. Other things equal, a business man prefers to hire a person of erect posture.

"The third reason for acquiring a good posture is health. Poor posture means a decrease of vigor and vitality, which manifests itself more particularly beginning with middle age. It has a direct ill effect on health.

"The cause of poor posture is found in a hereditary factor, general bodily weakness and, probably, the most important factor, faulty postural habits.

"The remedy of poor posture is a thorough and correct understanding of the mechanism involved in good and in poor posture, and a willingness and determination to carry through the proper corrective program. The third factor is a general building up of the muscles and the resistance of the individual."

MOVE TO IMPEACH JUDGE C. S. HARDY OF LOS ANGELES

Resolution Charging "Misdemeanor in Office" Is Introduced in the California State Assembly.

By the Associated Press.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 18.—A resolution for the impeachment of Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy of Los Angeles was introduced in the State Assembly today by Representative Walter Little of Los Angeles. The resolution provided that Judge Hardy "be impeached for misdemeanor in office," the charges resulting from his accepting a $2500 legal fee from Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, while he held a position on the bench.

After considering Judge Hardy's case at Miami Beach, Fla., Wednesday the executive committee of the American Bar Association expelled him from membership on the grounds of unethical conduct.

Commenting on the impeachment move, the jurist declared that his opponents in a controversy with the California Bar Association feared d feat in a case which has reached the State Supreme Court and "hope to rush this other attack through before the Supreme Court makes its findings known."

A decision of the Los Angeles Superior Court upholding Judge Hardy in his refusal to testify before a committee of the State Bar Association concerning his dealings with Mrs. McPherson has been appealed to the Supreme Court.

Judge Hardy has asserted that there was nothing wrong in accepting the McPherson fee. He contends the money was for advice given before the evangelist was prosecuted for conspiracy in connection with her story of having been kidnaped several years ago.

Mrs. McPherson's check for $2500, which was accepted by Judge Hardy, was dated Aug. 12, 1926. At the time Judge Hardy was on the Superior Court bench and Mrs. McPherson was before another court on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice. Judge Hardy testified in behalf of Mrs. McPherson in her conspiracy trial.

SAYS SUBWAYS AND 'L' LINES WOULD BEST DEVELOP COUNTY

J. R. Thursby, New Realty Board Head, Makes Address at Installation Session.

Construction of subways and elevated car tracks would do more to develop St. Louis County than any other improvement, James R. Thursby, newly elected president of the St. Louis County Real Estate Board, said last night at a meeting to install officers at the Westborough Country Club.

Construction of improved highways, made possible by State and county bond issues will bring many new home owners to the county. B. Cordell Stevens, retiring president, estimated present population at 206,000, as compared to 105,000 in 1920, and called attention to the increase in assessed property valuation from $23,000,000 in 1920 to $221,000,000.

Other officers installed were: S. Charles Harvey, first vice president; Robert W. Renkel, second vice president, and Enno Kraehe, secretary-treasurer. John B. Edwards, former member of the St. Louis Board of Election Commissioners, and Charles J. Daly, president of the St. Louis Real Estate Exchange, also spoke.

91 INDICTED FOR MONOPOLY

New York Poultry Combine Alleged to Have Hired Gunmen.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—An indictment charging 91 defendants with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law was returned yesterday by a Federal grand jury after a six-weeks' investigation into the live poultry trust in the metropolitan area.

The indictments contains four counts and charges conspiracy to restrain trade, conspiracy to monopolize, attemp to monopolize and monopolizing. It alleged that dealers enlisted gangsters and gunmen to maintain a monopoly in the live poultry trade. Among defendants named in the indictment were the Greater New York Live Poultry Chamber of Commerce, Benjamin Simon, supervisor for the organization, and Local 167 of the International Brotherhood of Chauffeurs, Teamsters, Stablemen and Helpers of America.

Texans to Restrict Potato Crop.

By the Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex.—Acreage planted to early potatoes in the lower Rio Grande Valley will be 26 per cent below the 10,500-acre total of last year if present intentions of farmers are carried out, according to Charles Sperle, truck crop specialist of the United States Department of Agriculture. Farmers found much difficulty in marketing their crop at satisfactory prices last year.

County Democrats' Quota $3500.

Collection of $3500 as St. Louis County Democrats' contribution toward the $1,500,000 deficit of the Democratic National Committee, was started today by a committee headed by George C. Bolte, editor of the St. Louis County Leader, a Democratic newspaper published at Clayton.

SMITH MADE DIRECTOR OF TRUST COMPANY

He Was First Depositor in Institution That Has $29,579,000 Assets.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Alfred E. Smith has been elected a director of the County Trust Co. of New York.

James J. Riordan, president of the trust company and friend of the former Governor, said the matter of the chairmanship had not been determined and would not be until after the return of Smith from a vacation in the South.

Should he accept the chairmanship, he would devote the greater part of his time to the affairs of the trust company, while a mere membership on the board would leave him free to undertake some other commercial venture as his main effort.

The County Trust Co. opened for business on Feb. 23, 1926, with a capital of $1,000,000 and a surplus of $500,000. Smith, then Governor, was its first depositor. The bank's total assets on Wednesday were reported as $29,579,188 and the capital, surplus and undivided profits on the same day amounted to $2,133,175.

Directors of the company include William F. Kenny, John J. Raskob and M. J. Meehan, personal friends of Smith.

The loans to cover the $1,500,000 deficit of the Democratic National Committee were arranged through the County Trust Co. The bank, however, holds only $200,000 of notes.

EX-GOV. SMITH'S RADIO APPEAL BRINGS AVALANCHE OF CHECKS

Virtually Every Contributor to Fund to Wipe Out $1,500,000 Deficit, Wants Copy of Speeches.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The radio appeal of former Gov. Smith for contributions to wipe out the $1,500,000 deficit of the Democratic party has brought an avalanche of checks and pledges of funds.

Hundreds of letters, accompanied by checks ranging from $5 to $100, and telegrams promising checks to follow by mail have been received by Smith, John J. Raskob, National chairman, and James W. Gerard, treasurer of the National Committee.

Virtually every contributor has requested from one to 100 copies of the book containing Smith's campaign speeches, which he announced would be given each contributor of $2 or more who requested it.

A request for 100 copies was received from Mayor Otto Bernstein of Monroe, La., who telegraphed: "I obligate myself to take 100 copies of your speeches during your great effort to perpetuate the Democratic party. I think what you are doing is the greatest effort on the part of one man our common country has ever witnessed."

COOLIDGE THANKED BY WOMEN

Praised by [illegible] Cause Conference for Signing Kellogg Pact.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—As the final act of the fourth conference on the Cause and Cure of War the presidents of the 10 national women's organizations participating, called at the White House today to present President Coolidge with copies of a resolution thanking him for signing the Kellogg peace treaty.

"We share the pride and happiness that must be yours in having crowned your administration with an act of such lasting value to humanity," read a statement prepared by the women. Mrs. John M. Hanna, president of the Young Women's Christian Association; Mrs. John F. Sippel, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, Miss Belle Sherwin, president of the League of Women Voters, and Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, presented the resolution in the name of the conference.

TRADE COMMISSION NOMINATION

Charles H. March of Minnesota Chosen by Coolidge.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Charles H. March of Minnesota was nominated by President Coolidge today to be a member of the Federal Trade Commission, succeeding Abram Myers, who has placed his resignation in the hands of the chief executive.

50 Years on Courier-Journal.

By the Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 18.—Harrison Robertson, chief of the editorial staff of the Courier-Journal, today entered his fifty-first year of continuous service on that newspaper. Mr. Robertson's first half century on the staff was celebrated last night at a dinner at the Pendennis Club at which Judge Robert Bingham, editor and publisher of the Courier-Journal, presented to him a modern statuette in bronze of "Winged Victory."

Man in Auto Hit by Train Dies.

By the Associated Press.

PANA, Ill., Jan. 18.—George McCullough, 44 years old, Irving, Ill., farmer injured yesterday afternoon when a train hit an automobile at Irving, died today in a hospital at Hillsboro. Dr. W. V. Parkhill, 70 years old, of Irving, who was injured in the same accident, is still unconscious. Hiram Bell, third occupant of the car has two fractured ribs.

TWO HOUSEBOAT DWELLERS FINED ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Dry Agents Deny They Confiscated Suppers as Well as Contraband.

Paul Whitehouse and Charles Brown, who live on a houseboat anchored in the Ohio River, near Shawneetown, Ill., were fined $150 each for violation of the prohibition act by Federal Judge Wham, in East St. Louis, yesterday. The men charged prohibition agents with confiscating their duck supper, as well as liquor, but the agents testified that, when they announced their identity, Whitehouse said he had lost his appetite and invited the officers to help themselves.

Other fines and jail sentences assessed by Judge Wham, on pleas of guilty, were as follows: Clifford Richeson, Salina, Ill., $200 and four months; Walter Williams, Shawneetown, Ill., $100 and 90 days; Clifford Lodgson, Shawneetown, Ill., $300; and in East St. Louis, Ralph Johnson, $400 and five months; Sidney Brown, $200 and seven months; George Morton, $100 and 90 days.

BRIAND PLACES KELLOGG TREATY BEFORE DEPUTIES

Impressive Reception Given Minister — French Ratification Likely to Be Unanimous.

PARIS NEWSPAPERS CRITICAL OF U. S.

Monroe Doctrine Interpretation Removes Latin-America From Any Application to Pact, One Says.

By ARNO DOSCH FLEUROT.

(Copyright, 1929, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos., the New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Aristide Briand, Minister of Foreign Affairs, yesterday placed the Kellogg pact before the Chamber of Deputies for ratification.

The reception accorded the statesman who had helped foster the treaty renouncing war as an instrument of national policy was impressive. There was a tumult of handclapping, frequently punctuated with shouts of affection, and the spacious room of state took on something of the aspect of an opening night at the opera.

Ratification likely will be unanimous. Neither the demonstration of the Deputies nor the ready promise of prompt ratification, however, is silencing voices of skepticism.

The Paris press seemed in harmony in finding grave fault, not only with the French Government, but with the United States Government. Thus Pertinax, editor of the nationalist Echo de Paris, inquires on what grounds the French Government assumes that there are no reservations to the terms of the pact?

Interpretation Scrutinized.

Editors agree with Pertinax that the interpretation drawn by American Senators, based on allegiance to the Monroe Doctrine, deserves critical scrutiny. The French attitude, they accusingly point out, is "rather that of trying to wish the reservations out of existence by pretending there is none."

The facts are the contrary, they say.

"What are we to think of the Kellogg pact?" asks Pertinax. "Let us admit it was developed in response to the inner political movement in America and expresses to the world an aspiration toward good will and mutual tolerance.

"On the other hand, the United States from now on will have the vague right to mix in European quarrels. Neither the League of Nations nor the system of defense behind it will be able to function until Washington has expressed itself.

Slap at Senate Irreconcilables.

"As Washington has just shown once more how slow it is about making decisions, any future aggressor will have a free field."

This slap at the irreconcilables in the United States Senate resounds even more vigorously in the signed editorials of other newspapers.

Pertinax concludes his analysis: "As to the Monroe Doctrine interpretations, they simply remove Latin-America from any application to the pact."

Henry Barde, in L'Ouvre, begins: "We might as well face the facts. The Monroe Doctrine is no longer the doctrine of President Monroe. Its importance is that it no longer protects America against European intervention. It now tends rather to establish the right of the United States to interfere in other American republics."

This French editor does not entirely dismiss the Kellogg pact with the American interpretation. "Nevertheless," he says, "let us not underestimate the importance of the Senate ratification. It may prove the bait for an eventual collaboration—Oh! very cowardly at first—between the League of Nations and the United States."

Roman Newspaper Optimistic Over Peace Prospects.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, Jan. 18.—Osservatore Romano, commenting in a leading editorial on American ratification of the Kellogg treaty, says:

"The richest Power in the world has declared itself against war. 'The conscience of peace' may have a small and stormy beginning, but once born it will not die."

The tone of the entire article is laudatory of the effort made and the result achieved.

Geneva Editor Considers U. S. Support to League.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Jan. 18.—International circles were impressed by an editorial in the widely read Journal de Geneve stating that ratification of the Kellogg pact "by the powerful, rich and ambitious United States constituted a development whose importance to the history of peace can scarcely be over-emphasized."

"Henceforth," says the paper, "the League can talk with the United States in the event of war peril and say: 'The Kellogg pact has been violated, what are your intentions?' Henceforth, the aggressor at least will encounter the passive, though none the less terrible, reprobation of the United States."

The article concludes with the declaration that the pact increases security and therefore justifies reduction in armaments.

Plate-Glass Tariff Increased.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—President Coolidge has proclaimed increases in the tariff on plate-glass as follows: The duty on sizes not exceeding 384 square inches is increased from 12½ cents to 16 cents per square foot; sizes between 384 and 720 square inches from 15 cents to 19 cents per square feet; sizes above 720 square inches from 17½ cents per square foot to 22 cents per square foot. The change will become effective Feb. 16.

Austrian President Thanks U. S.

By the Associated Press.

VIENNA, Jan. 18.—Appearing in the first talking film made in Austria by United States citizens, President Miklas today transmitted a glowing message of praise to the people of the United States for their assistance, not only to Austria in its days of adversity, but their constant encouragement and support to the nations of the world. The Austrian President said that it was gratifying to see an increasingly large number of Americans studying in Austrian universities and scientific institutions.

Progress of Civilization Marked by Mode of Living

To be satisfied with the bare necessities of life is to turn back the pages of civilization. Nowadays things must not only be useful, they must be artistic as well.

This is the idea that has dictated the policy of the Prufrock-Litton Furniture Company, Fourth and St. Charles streets, where artistic furniture costs no more than the commonplace.

Their Semi-Annual Furniture Sale now on offers some extraordinary values in quality furniture. Visit their store Saturday!

OGDEN MILLS' EX-WIFE AGAIN SEEKS DIVORCE

Brings Suit in Paris Against Sir Paul Dukes, British Author and Musician.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Lady Dukes has filed suit here for divorce against Sir Paul Dukes, British author and musician. She formerly was the wife of Ogden L. Mills, Under-secretary of the United States Treasury. She and Sir Paul were married secretly at Nyack, N. Y., in October, 1922.

Lady Dukes was born Margaret Stuyvesant Rutherford, daughter of Lewis K. Rutherford, in New York on Nov. 11, 1891. Her mother later married the late William K. Vanderbilt.

Lady Dukes was married to Mills in France Sept. 20, 1911, and divorced him in 1919.

Sir Paul was knighted for his work as head of the British secret service in Russia in the early days of the soviet regime.

Lady Dukes appeared on the New York stage in April, 1928, in Alexandre Gavrilov's "The Ballet Moderne."

The Dukes' address was given as 180 Riverside Drive, New York, in the petition.

Miner Kills Wife and Self.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 18.—Bert Izzard, Danville, Ill., miner, shot his wife and then shot and killed himself during an argument at the home of his wife's half sister at Normal, north of here, yesterday. Mrs. Izzard died two hours later at Brokaw Hospital. Mrs. Izzard had left Danville three weeks ago and, after filing suit for divorce, went to Normal to live with her relatives.

CHARGED WITH STOCK FRAUD

Stock Brokers Indicted in Sale of $500,000 of Shares.

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 18.—Morris Berman and Henry A. Newman, Philadelphia and New York stock brokers, formerly in business here, were indicted by the Federal grand jury yesterday on charges of fraudulent operating involving the sale of approximately $500,000 worth of stock here. They are charged with using the mails to defraud.

Alleged misrepresentation in the sale of stock for manufacturing a device to be used in recording dictation forms the basis for the charge.

LEGISLATURE GETS CONSTABULARY BILL

Shartel's Measure Presented to House—20 Bills Are Introduced in Senate.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 18.—Twenty more bills were added to the Missouri Senate's legislative work yesterday, the second day for presentation of new measures.

A measure to repeal the small loan bill, authorizing loans of less than $300 at an interest rate of three and a half per cent per month, was introduced by Senator Searcy of Eminence. The law was passed by the 1927 assembly to strike at loan sharks in large cities. Senator Searcy said he would introduce another bill, restoring the law which makes it a felony to charge an usurious rate of interest.

A measure introduced by Senator Brogan of St. Louis would raise the State income tax exemptions to comply with Federal exemptions, $1500 for single persons and $3500 for married persons. The bill failed of passage in 1927.

Bill on Drainage District Taxes.

Senator Dearmont of Cape Girardeau introduced a measure to equalize and adjust assessed valuation of land in drainage districts. It is planned, he said, to make it possible for State and county assessments to take into consideration the benefit assessments against land in drainage districts.

Measures providing for registration and voting of members of the Missouri National Guard while absent from the State on duty, and exempting national guard members on duty from jury service and poll tax, were presented by Senator Casey of Kansas City.

Bills introduced in the Senate and House would change the time for holding court in the thirty-third judicial circuit, embracing Butler and Ripley Counties. The new schedule would fix the first Monday of January, April, July, and October for Butler, and the third Monday of March, June and November for Ripley.

Aid to the Missouri Workmen's Compensation Commission to hear the increasing number of cases would be provided under a bill presented by Representative Duensing of Lafayette County, chairman of the House Workmen's Compensation Committe. It would give the commission not more than five referees at salaries not exceeding $4500 a year, to hear cases. The three commission members now hear all controversies.

State Constabulary Bill.

The bill for the proposed State constabulary system, sponsored by Attorney-General Stratton Shartel and the Missouri Bankers' Association, was introduced by Representatives E. R. Meyer of Kansas City and E. W. Nelson of Marion County. The force, under direction of a superintendent appointed for four years by the Governor, would consist of 20 picked men, while sheriffs, deputies and police officers in cities would be ex-officio members. They would receive $7.50 a day for services outside their county or city. Headquarters of the State force would be here at the Capitol. The men would be equipped with motorcycles, fast automobiles, modern firearms, and would receive half-hour reports through special radio sets from State radio station WOS here. The bill carries an emergency clause to make it effective at once if passed.

Uniform Aviation Laws.

Two bills to provide for adoption of a uniform law governing aviation and aviators in Missouri, virtually the same as Federal regulations, were introduced by Representative George W. Meyer and E. R. Meyer of Kansas City and Sid Rollings of Boone County. Both were presented in the Senate yesterday.

Representative Phil Fowler of Adair County presented the proposed automobile license reciprocity act urged by Charles W. Becker, Secretary of State. It also was introduced in the Senate. It would provide that automobiles driven into Missouri from border states would not be required to have a Missouri license if Missouri cars were not levied against in the state from which the visiting car came. This is designed to give Missouri "a comeback" at border states that have been forcing Missourians who drive into adjoining states on business to take out an additional license.

W. VIRGINIA COAL MEN OPPOSE LEGISLATION

Spokesman Says Bituminous Industry Should Be Free to Work Out Problem.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. — A. M. Belcher of Charleston, W. Va., representing the West Virginia Coal Association, told the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today that in his opinion no legislation was necessary to deal with the bituminous situation.

The coal industry, he said, in testifying against the bill to regulate the industry, should be permitted to work out its own salvation. The bill under discussion is supported by the United Mine Workers and has been opposed throughout the committee hearings by coal operators.

Belcher declared that "the best minds," of the industry are setting themselves to the task of solving their problem.

"The very nature of the situation that confronts us in the industry itself," he said, "is the stimulus for a gigantic effort which is being made within the industry itself and not by extraneous forces and which will bring about a readjustment, progress and contentment to those engaged in the industry.

"We do not believe that any legislation is necessary. To concede that legislation is necessary is to admit that the coal industry needs the special protection of the Federal Government. In order to give this protection the Government must in some measure, at least, exercise control of the industry.

"To exercise control over private industry is to violate every tradition we have of the powers of the Federal Government and we do not hesitate to say that even if it were possible for the Federal Government to enter the field of private industry, its doing so would be subversive not only of the best interests of the Government itself, but would be subversive and destructive of the best interests of private industry as well."

The West Virginian contended that the bill was unconstitutional because it proposed to permit for the coal industry the very things that the antitrust laws prohibit.

DOROTHY WILLIAMS

Makes Missouri Mother Proud

Don't let constipation and its attendant ailments, such as headaches, biliousness, feverishness, fretfulness, sallow, "broken-out" skin, etc., pull your child down and make her puny, listless and underweight. At the first sign of bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness, give her a little California Fig Syrup.

Children love the rich, fruity flavor of California Fig Syrup, and it never fails to start lazy bowels quick, cleanse them thoroughly and give tone and strength to them and to the stomach so these organs continue to act normally, of their own accord. It stimulates the appetite, helps digestion, makes rosy cheeks, bright eyes, helps build up and strengthen children.

A well-known Missouri mother, Mrs. Horace Williams, 1747 Nicholson Place, St. Louis, says: "My little daughter, Dorothy, suffered from constipation until I thought it was going to keep her delicate always. She was losing weight fast when I started her on California Fig Syrup. In a few days it made a world of difference in her looks and actions. Now I'm proud as I can be of her: she's so ruddy, strong and plump."

Over four million bottles used a year shows the popularity of the genuine: Look for the name "California" on the carton, so you won't get a substitute.

[illegible] AND HIMSELF

STE[illegible]LE, O., Jan. 18.—Vincenzo Giannamore, 64 years old, at his home shot and killed his mother and his wife, wounded his daughter-in-law and then ended his own life last night. Badly wounded, the daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank Giannamore, was taken to a hospital. A Caesarian operation was performed and the baby was saved, but the mother soon died.

The terms of a will and the distribution of property are thought to have started a family quarrel that led to the shooting.

PAIR ARRESTED FOR SPOONING IN AUTO NOW DIVORCED

Chicagoans, Then Estranged, Trying to Affect Reconciliation When Stopped by Policeman.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Hamilton of Oak Park, who were arrested several months ago for spooning in their parked automobile, are divorced. A decree was granted to Mrs. Hamilton yesterday on the ground of cruelty.

The hearing brought out that at the time the Hamiltons were arrested for spooning they had been estranged, and had gone for a drive, hoping for a reconciliation. The arresting officer maintained that, married or not, a public park was not the proper place for demonstrations of affection. The case was never pressed in court, although, formal charges were made.

The Hamiltons are socially prominent in Oak Park. They have five children.

MILLER AND KIEL BOTH BUILDING UP STRONG MACHINES

Neither Faction Appears to Be Worried About Diversity of Indorsement in Ward Organizations.

CITY COMMITTEE STILL UNDECIDED

Mayor Gets Support of Regular Republican Club in Seventh, Opponent's Home District.

Practical Republican politicians supporting Mayor Miller for re-election and those backing former Mayor Kiel to succeed him are not worried over the diversity of indorsements given the two candidates by various ward organizations, nor even by the divided allegiance of members of the Republican City Committee.

The reason for their complacency is that each side expects to have its own vote-getting machinery throughout the city. Frequently one candidate will obtain organized support, leaving his opponent to rely upon independent voters and the less intensive methods of reaching the whole electorate. This time, both Miller and Kiel will have thorough machinery to reach the voters.

Those familiar with politics know that it is such machinery that counts heaviest in getting votes.

The extent of support that Miller and Kiel will derive from the Republican City Committee remains to be determined, as not all the members of that body have made their decisions. There is a man and a woman member from each of the 28 wards. In some wards, one representative is for Kiel and the other for Miller.

Seventh Ward Club for Miller.

Already there are a number of instances of conflicting organizations within wards. Where either the Mayor or the former Mayor has captured a committeeman, his opponent has gotten other leaders who have set up ward clubs.

The Seventh Ward Regular Republican Club, led by Committeeman William H. Hubele, indorsed Mayor Miller's candidacy last night although Kiel resides in the ward, at 1525 Missouri avenue. However, one of Hubele's chief lieutenants, Edward Bergt, a former Alderman, will support Kiel and it is said that other members of the club will follow him. Hubele was City Marshal under Kiel and was not reappointed by Miller, but he has been disgruntled because Kiel did not lend him greater support in his effort to get the nomination for Sheriff last August. Kiel has lived at his present address for a long time, but until several years ago this was in the Fifteenth Ward. Committeeman William G. Kaysing of the Fifteenth likely will support Kiel.

Second Ward Situation.

In the Second Ward there are two organizations with similar names—the Regular Republican Club of the Second Ward, led by Committeeman Henry L. Berger, which indorsed Mayor Miller last night, and the Second Ward Regular Republican Club, with Justice of the Peace G. H. Oetting as president, which voted to support Kiel. Oetting was Supply Commissioner under Kiel. Berger's club, in a resolution, praised Miller's administration of public affairs. Among the speakers were Associate City Counselors Harry Richards and Thomas Muldoon. The club president is William Hayes.

The Twenty-first Ward Regular Republican Precinct Organization, directed by Committeeman F. W. Evers, indorsed Mayor Miller last night, also approved the candidacy of Comptroller Nolte for re-election and that of Gustav A. Hartkopf for Alderman from the ward. Hartkopf and W. P. Gruner, treasurer of Miller's Campaign Committee, are connected with the same lumber company. Alderman Studt of the Twenty-first Ward, Clerk Bader of the Circuit Court for Criminal Causes, a power in the ward, and Mrs. Marie Nottbusch, the Committeewoman, are for Kiel.

Women Organizing Kiel Club.

The Fourteenth Ward Republican Club was organized a week ago, with Chris G. Beckemeier as president and, among other officers, Rudie A. Goerts as secretary. Goerts was defeated for election as committeeman by Ben Philipson last August. Philipson and his organization are supporting Mayor Miller. The new club indorsed Kiel unanimously "because of his very efficient administration of the office while previously Mayor."

A Kiel-for-Mayor Club is to be formed today among women of the Twenty-fourth Ward, at the home of Mrs. Oscar Brodhage, 6229 Juniata street. This is another ward where theer is a decided factional split.

Miller was indorsed by the Ninth Ward Regular Republican Organization at a meeting attended by about 200 persons and presided over by former Alderman Martin D. Lohmann, who has been a friend of Kiel. Committeeman Richard Smart has another organization, the Ninth Ward Republican Good Government Club, which likely will come out for Kiel.

Kiel was indorsed by the Nineteenth Ward Republican Progressive Club, of which Mrs. Maggie Brown is president, at a meeting at 3133 Morgan street.

At a meeting of the Twenty-fifth Ward Regular Republican Club last night officers were elected but neither candidate for Mayor was indorsed. Committeeman Charles Kallman has not announced his attitude. Former Congressman Cleveland A. Newton was made president of the club. Newton told the Post-Dispatch recently that he was "out of politics" and did not intend to make a statement on mayoralty candidates.

The Ninth Ward Democratic Club was formed by about 125 persons last night, with George W. Schuester as chairman. Committeeman Michael Rudolph attended.

WOMAN GETS 18-YEAR TERM FOR KILLING ANOTHER WITH AX

Mrs. Lizzie Boudreaux of Paducah, Ky., Had Pleaded Insanity; Declinesto Appeal.

By the Associated Press.

WICKLIFFE, Ky., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Lizzie Boudreaux, 40 years old of Paducah, Ky., was sentenced to 18 years in prison today after a jury had found her guilty of killing Mrs. Annie Thornton with an ax last November. She had pleaded insanity, saying that remarks of Mrs. Thornton about her character had undermined her reason. Attorneys announced there would be no appeal, and Mrs. Boudreaux thanked the jury.

Commonwealth's Attorney F. B. Martin had asked for a death verdict. The jury deliberated nine hours and 30 minutes before reaching a verdict.

Amnesty Granted Mexican Priest.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 18.—A Guadalajara dispatch to El Universal today said that Santana, a Catholic priest who was alleged to have been in the field against the Government, had been granted amnesty. He arrived at Ciudad Guzman and received authority to negotiate for the surrender of Archbishop Velasco of Colima and two other priests, also declared to be insurgents.

Japan-China Tariff Agreement.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Jan. 18.—The Foreign Minister announced to the Cabinet today that an agreement had been reached in tariff negotiations between China and Japan. (Japan is the last of the powers having interests in China to reach an agreement with the Nationalists on tariff. Previously the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy among other nations had granted China tariff autonomy.)

SAYS MONROE DOCTRINE HAS BECOME OBSOLETE

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt Declares It Is Obstacle to Peace in America.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—South American relations, expected to play an important role in the administration of Herbert Hoover, were under discussion in the conference on the cause and cure of war at its closing session last night when Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, its chairman, made a plea for a new interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine, which she regarded as a stumbling block in the way of peace in the Western hemisphere.

The century-old doctrine, she declared, while regarded in the United States as expressing an altruistic policy of self-defense, is just as unanimously considered in South America "a policy of military offense." This difference in interpretation, she said, is a serious and constant source of misunderstanding between the two continents.

"The policies which the world links with the Monroe Doctrine," she said in a prepared address, "are those in defense of commerce, big business, economic exploitations, and financial overlordship.

"It is this aspect of our relations to Latin countries which has so filled their citizens with dread of unhappy possibilities."

Quoting former Secretary of State Hughes, she declared the doctrine has never been clearly defined and has no legal status in international law. While the "sphere of influence" it sets up for the United States is analogous to those claimed in other parts of the world by the other great powers, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, she said, nevertheless "the causes which brought forth the Monroe Doctrine have gone forever," and a modern interpretation of its meaning is needed.

Raymond Buell, research secretary of the Foreign Policy Association, said it was significant that at the recent Pan-American arbitration conference the United States made no reservation in regard to the doctrine.

The possibility of American intervention in South American countries, he added, has been greatly reduced by "Mr. Hoover's strong nonintervention statement at Buenos Aires."

Earlier in the day, during the discussion of the program for the next conference, which will be in Washington in 1930 for the study of "the machinery of peace," Mrs Catt reiterated her stand against self-defense as a justifiable cause of war.

"The Kellogg treaty is of no value," she declared, "and the League of Nations is of no value so long as any nation can claim that it is the judge of what it can do for self-defense."

BACHELOR'S TAX IMPOSED IN NISH, JUGO-SLAVIA

All Adults, Not Members of Educational, Charitable or Patriotic Body Also to Pay Special Levy.

NISH, Jugo-Slavia, Jan. 18.—Bachelors more than 30 years old hereafter must pay the Nish District Government a special tax. All adult citizens who are not members of some cultural, educational, charitable or patriotic association must pay an even higher penalty. Alcoholic drinks and all luxury articles will be heavily taxed.

It is expected that Belgrade, the capital of Jugo-Slavia, will follow the example of Nish by taxing bachelors.

JOHN JOSEPH L'ANGE DIES; 80 YEARS IN CARONDELET

The funeral of John Joseph L'Ange, 90 years old, who lived in the Carondelet district of St. Louis for 80 years, will be held at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow from an undertaking establishment at 6820 Michigan avenue, with services at St. Boniface Church.

Born in France, Mr. L'Ange was brought to St. Louis by his parents at the age of 10. He was engaged for many years with his father in the grocery business in old town of Carondelet, and was Collector of the City of Carondelet in 1870 when it was annexed to St. Louis.

Mr. L'Ange's death Wednesday, at his home, 535 West Poepping street, was caused by pneumonia. He is survived by four sons and a daughter, as well as several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

THREATENS FAMILY, THEN KILLS OFFICER

Socially Prominent Philadelphian Shot Down in Barricaded Room by Police.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—W. Griffin Gribbel, socially prominent, was seriously wounded by police in the barricaded bedroom of his Chestnut Hill home early today after he had shot and killed Police Inspector John W. Blackburn, who had broken into the room with an ax in an effort to subdue Gribbel.

Neighbors called police shortly after Gribbel had threatened his wife and six children with a revolver. Mrs. Gribbel locked herself and the children in a room, where they were found after the shooting.

When Inspector Blackburn broke through the door Gribbel fired at close range and shot him through the heart. Blackburn's chauffeur, going to his chief's aid, suffered a bullet wound above the heart. Other officers then shot Gribbel in the legs, arms and stomach.

Police think Gribbel became suddenly crazed when told by a physician that he should go to a sanitarium. He is the son of John Gribbel, retired manufacturer, former president of the Union League and vice president of the Public Ledger Co. Gribbel served overseas in the World War as a Major. He is 46 years old.

Inspector Blackburn leaves a widow and three children.

WANTS DEMOCRATIC PARTY FREED "OF G. O. P. CONTROL"

Texas Congressman Who Would Bar "Influences" That Nominated Smith Expands Views.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The declaration that if he were able to do so he would free the Democratic party from "subverting influences and Republican control" was made in the House today by Representative Box of Texas, the minority whip.

Box read an editorial from the Minneapolis Journal charging that John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee had been a Republican before the campaign and remained a Republican.

The Texan said he had supported Smith during the campaign and had supported Franklin D. Roosevelt when he was the vice presidential nominee several years ago. Declaring he had never been a member of the Ku Klux Klan, Box said that church creeds or practices should play no part in politics. He expressed regret that the liquor question had entered into the last campaign.

The Texan said dissatisfaction had been shown in "certain political circles" over his recent letter to Franklin D. Roosevelt, possibly because he "spoke with candor." He added he had given expression to what millions of other Democrats thought. The letter asked that the party be freed from influences which brought about the nomination of Smith.

DEEPENING OF WABASH RIVER WILL BE ASKED OF CONGRESS

Col. Spalding, Area Army Engineer, to Make Recommendation for Improvement.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill., Jan. 18.—Deepening of the Wabash river from its mouth to Terre Haute, Ind., removal of obstructions and establishment of a navigable channel as far upstream as the Indiana city, will be recommended by Col. George R. Spalding, Louisville, Army engineer in charge of this area, according to information that has come to C. S. Young of Mount Carmel. Young is a large landowner in the Wabash valley and has long been interested in Wabash improvement.

Col. Spalding, according to the information, will shortly make a report to Congress and in this report will urge work on the stream.

A preliminary survey of the valley recently was made by Army engineers which, it is said, will play an important part in the recommendations.

SEEKS TO DIVORCE MAN SHE THOUGHT WAS DEAD

Suit of Mrs. Bertha Enlow, Under Advisement; He Was Witness for Her Second Husband.

Circuit Judge Hogan in Domestic Relations Court yesterday took under advisement the suit of Mrs. Bertha Enlow, 4963 Lindenwood avenue, to divorce George E. Enlow, 16 South Leonard street, who testified for his wife's second husband, William H. Stein, when Stein obtained a divorce last spring.

Mrs. Enlow testified that Enlow deserted her in 1909 and that she had been told by his relatives that he was dead, before she married Stein. Enlow, father of seven children by a second mariage, appeared as a surprise witness for Stein but did not appear at the hearing yesterday.

GOES TO PENITENTIARY AT 82

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 18.—The gates of Ohio penitentiary closed late yesterday on W. H. Barker, 82 years old, of Batavia, Clermont County, sentenced to one to five years on a third liquor offense. He is the oldest prisoner in the penitentiary.

Barker was arrested by undercover agents on a charge of possessing three half-pint bottles of liquor. He had been convicted on two previous offenses and under the Ohio law a third offender must be sentenced to the penitentiary.

THREE OF EX-GOV. SMALL'S APPOINTEES QUIT POSTS

Emmerson Receives Resignations of Bailey, Thompson and Pillow.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 18.—Three resignations were sent to Gov. Louis L. Emmerson yesterday from Small appointees. They were H. U. Bailey of Princeton, Director of Trade and Commerce T. Barney Thompson of the Pardon and Parole Board and George W. Pillow, assistant commerce commissioner. The Governor made no appointments.

Gov. Emmerson had planned a trip to Chicago this weekend. "There's work to this job," he said. "The more I see of it the more I find to do—I'm going to stay on the job as Governor."

WHEN FLU THREATENS

Never Let a Cough or Cold Hang On

Break a cold the first day and it is unlikely that you will contract pneumonia or influenza. "Common" colds are dangerous. When flu threatens, it's criminal to let a cough or cold hang on.

Turpo will break a cold right up. Rubbed on the chest or throat it relieves congestion, loosens phlegm. Instantly you will feel the improvement.

As a preventive against flu, snuff a little up each nostril several times a day and flu germs will have little chance of getting a lodging or breeding place.

Turpo is an effective antiseptic combining the old-fashioned remedies of turpentine, camphor and menthol. Any doctor or trained nurse will tell you that these ingredients have long been recognized as effective antiseptics as well as having really wonderful qualities in relieving colds or congestions. Turpo costs only 35c at any drug store.

AMANULLAH PLANS TO REGAIN THRONE WATER BOY HOLDS

Afghan Ex-King Whose Brother Also Was Driven Out Said to Be Rallying Forces.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Advices from Karachi, India, today said that former King Amanullah of Afghanistan was gathering support from Southern Afghans for an attempt to recover his lost throne from the former water carrier who became King Habibullah Khan.

Amanullah, after his abdication in Kabul, reached Kandahar in the south of Afghanistan and raised the royal standard over the palace there, indicating he still considered himself a factor in the situation. He seemed to be in authority over that section and it was reported that he also had support at Ghazni.

Persons familiar with Afghanistan today expressed doubt whether Amanullah would be able to move against Kabul before spring. In Kabul, Habibullah held sway, having taken the throne from Inayatullah, elder brother of Amanullah, who succeeded after Amanullah's abdication.

Even if King Hâbibullah continues to enjoy freedom from attack by Amanullah, it was reported that he might meet trouble from insurgents in the Jalalabad area. That neighborhood was under the control of Ali Ahmed Khan, former Governor of Kabul and the man to whom Amanullah entrusted the task of making terms with the rebelious Shinwari tribes. The rebels from the Jalalabad district were said to be rushing toward Kabul to demand a share in the loot.

Order was said to prevail in Kabul, with foreign legations, missions and institutions guaranteed by rebels whose attitude toward the foreigners is quite friendly.

The city's markets were open and functioning. No foreigners were injured in the fighting, which at times was heavy.

The Daily Express said that Amanullah and former Queen Souriya, who is about to become a mother, had a narrow escape from Kabul after it was surrounded by the water carrier's forces. Disguised and under cover of night, they left the citadel and made their way through the rebel lines until they gained the open country. Then they had to travel more than 300 miles to Kandahar.

Inayatullah Taken by British Plane to Kandahar.

By the Associated Press.

NEW DELHI, India, Jan. 18.—Inayatullah, King of Afghanistan for a few days, and members of his household have been evacuated from Kabul by British airplanes. The party reached Peshawar en route to Kandahar, where Inayatullah's predecessor and brother, the former King Amanullah is.

New Ruler Said to Be Keeping Order With Army of 15,000.

By the Associated Press.

PESHAWAR, India, Jan. 18.—Advices from Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, state that Habibullah Khan, victorious rebel leader known as Bacha Sakao, or "the water boy," has been acclaimed the new Amir by the entire province of Kabul.'

He is understood to have 15,000 men, fully equipped, and is said to be maintaining excellent order.

Contrary to Karachi dispatches saying that former King Amanullah, who abdicated last week, was preparing to attempt recovery of his throne, the reports received here state that he has ordered the Governor of Kandahar to lower the royal standard which was hoisted there Tuesday, on hte ground that he no longer is King.

Messages from Jalalabad say that the Shinwari and other tribes have sent representatives to Kabul to meet Habibullah Khan. The Shinwari tribe was in revolt against Amanullah but recently a truce had been patched up. Sirdar Ali Hamed, former Governor of Kabul, who recently was in control of Jalalabad, also was reported to have gone to the capital.

17-YEAR-OLD BRIDE SLAPPED FOR SERVING SAUERKRAUT

Mrs. Annabelle Christ, Hit by Husband at First Meal Together, Gets Divorce.

After Mrs. Annabelle Christ, 17-year-old bride, had prepared sauerkraut and spare ribs for their first meal together, her husband, Peter Christ, 20, flew into a rage and slapped her because he had an aversion to sauerkraut, Mrs. Christ testified in a divorce action yesterday.

This first display of temper, Mrs. Christ declared, occurred shortly after their marriage in 1925 and was followed by others until Nov. 18, last, when they separated. She received a decree on the ground of general indignities. Mrs. Christ lives at 1720 Mississippi avenue. Her husband, a clerk, did not contest.

Two Pekingese Dogs Stolen.

David L. Grey, 5763 Lindell drive, has asked police to find Roger and Wen Chu, two Pekingese dogs which were stolen from the yard in front of his home yesterday. The dogs are valued at $200 each, Grey said. Roger, he described as a rich reddish brown, and Wen Chu, fawn colored.

OIL TO BE USED AS BUS FUEL ON ROUTES IN PHILADELPHIA

St. Louis Concern Awaiting Outcome of Experiment; Saving Would be 29 Per Cent.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—J. A. Queeney, vice president of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co., announced yesterday that fuel oil, instead of gasoline probably would be used in all motor busses of the company within a year.

"We now have 20 busses operating so successfully with fuel oil," he said, "that before the close of the year I expect all of the 580 busses in city and inter-city service will be operating on this principle. The economy effected is about 29 per cent."

At the office of the People's Motorbus Co., it was stated that the local company has for some time been awaiting the result of the experiment in Philadelphia, with a view to adopting the fuel oil, if the idea proved practical. The fuel oil, which is a distillate between gasoline and coal oil, requires a special carburetor and an added device to keep it heated after vaporization. The cost of the needed extra equipment was not known at bus headquarters, but it was said that it would be small compared with the saving in fuel costs the use of oil would bring about.

NEWMAN AND WOOTEN GET ANOTHER TERM

Former Birgerites Sentenced From Year to Life for Pocahontas Bank Robbery.

By the Associated Press.

GREENVILLE, Ill., Jan. 18.—Art Newman and Fred Wooten, members of the once notorious Birger gang of Southern Illinois who already face prison terms that would require several life times to serve, pleaded guilty here yesterday of participation in the robbery of the State Bank of Pocahontas, Ill., and were sentenced to serve from one year to life in the Chester Penitentiary. The bank was held up Nov. 30, 1926.

Newman faces life imprisonment for two murders, and two sentences of 57 years each for conspiracy to commit two murders. Wooten already is under a life sentence and two 57-year sentences in the conspiracy cases.

The two men, with Leslie Simpson and Riley Simmons, two other Birger gangsters, got life sentences and the 57-year terms last week at Marion, Ill., when they pleaded guilty of killing Mrs. Ethel Price, and conspiracy to kill her and her husband, Lory, a State highway patrolmen. The Prices were slain in 1926.

Newman and Wooten, first to be sentenced for the bank robbery, said Birger, who has been hanged, was the leader in the robbery.

The two men were brought here today by Sheriff Coleman of Williamson County from Marion and were taken back after sentence before entering prison. Newman is to testify next week in Federal Court in East St. Louis as a Government witness in the trial of Arlie O. Boswell, former State's Attorney of Williamson County, who is charged with having conspired with members of the Birger gang to violate the Federal prohibition act.

INCREASED STATE REVENUE IN PLANS OF LEGISLATURE

Both Houses Adopt Resolution Extending Scope of Gov. Caulfield's Reform Proposals.

PROSPECT BRIGHT FOR BUDGET BILL

Expected Also That Some Progress Will Be Made Toward Consolidation of Departments.

By CURTIS A. BETTS
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 18.—Through co-operation of Gov. Caulfield and Senate and House leaders, working without attempts to gain partisan advantage, the present Legislature gives promise of enacting many progressive measures. The outlook is due to the advances made by the Governor in his conference yesterday to Democratic and Republican leaders alike in his explanation of his views on the needs of the State.

Senate leaders today were working out plans to carry out the greater part of the Governor's economic program, and had entered into a serious study of the State's financial condition, a study which likely will lead to a program for increasing the revenues to a point which will permit of real progress in meeting the urgent requirements of the educational and eleemosynary institutions.

May Delay Confirmations.

It is understood that during the conference there was discussion that the politically minded appointees, if confirmed by the Senate early in the session, would be secure in their jobs and that there was danger that they would join in the opposition to the program. For that reason, it is said, there will be few, if any, of Gov. Caulfield's appointees to positions in the State House who will be confirmed until near the end of the session. The Governor, realizing the situation, will not ask early confirmations, it is reported.

It is also known that the Governor is somewhat indignant at the reported lobbying activities of state employes and that within the next few days, either through a letter direct to executive department heads, or in a public statement, he will make clear that he expects all heads of departments and their employes who come under authority of the Governor, to devote their full time to their jobs, and that he will not sanction any attempts by them to influence legislation. While it is doubtful that the Governor will also direct his remarks directly to employes of departments under other elective officers, there will be no doubt that he indirectly means them, too.

Budget Bill Prospects Bright.

As a result of the conference yesterday, it appears probable that the budget bill will be passed and that there will be substantial progress made toward consolidation of departments, though it is doubtful that the consolidation program will be carried out to the extent of an entire regrouping of departments.

The creation of a central purchasing department is the one major subject of Gov. Caulfield's inaugural address which seems in doubt. The Governor said he was not as confident of that as of the other measures. Others in the conference appeared to share his opinion. None would explain why he thought central purchasing would be blocked, but it appeared that the business and political influences which profit from the present system of purchasing by individual department heads were sufficiently strong to prevent a change.

The joint and concurrent resolution adopted by the Senate yesterday, providing for appointment of a joint Senate and House committee to make the inquiry outlined in the conference of legislative leaders with Gov. Caulfield, was concurred in in the House today without discussion. Speaker Parker immediately appointed the committee of five House members, as provided in the resolution. They are Representatives W. P. Elmer of Dent County, W. E. Freeland of Taney, J. W. Campbell of Cedar, all Republicans; and D. L. Bales of Shannon and E. W. Nelson of Marion, both Democrats.

Under the terms of the resolution, the committee will have power to go much farther than the Governor's program; in fact it can go into the whole economic structure of the State, and it was the expressed belief of Senators that before the committee finishes its work it will have prepared bills increasing the State revenues materially. It is understood that this phase of the situation is yet to be taken up with the Governor and that he has not expressed himself on the question of increased taxation.

Grafting of Noses Began in Egypt, Was Practiced in 16th Century, Says Ancient Volume in Collection

Others of 800 Books Given to Medical Society by Dr. J. M. Ball Tell of First Study of Digestion by St. Louisan.

THE practice of plastic surgery literally is as old as Egypt, and surgeons of the renaissance made artificial noses and successfully grafted skin over them according to a rare Latin text among the 800 volumes, valued at more than $10,000, which recently were given to the St. Louis Medical Society by Dr. James Moores Ball. The books are now on view in the Society Building, 3836 Lindell boulevard.

The volume describing the technique of plastic surgery in days of the renaissance, when the prevalence of swords made the loss of a man's nose a fairly common occurrence, was published in Venice in 1597. It was written by Gasparis Talicotius, who was born in 1546 and died in 1599. He was a great Italian surgeon, whose fame as a nose-fixer went round the world.

The large text, elaborately illustrated with wood cuts, is only one nugget in the treasure trove deeded the Medical Society by Dr. Ball. There are volumes that go back to the fourteenth century There is one quaint book of medallion portraits, printed in 1553, which purports to have the authentic likenesses of Adam and Eve. Many tomes deal with the quaint medieval notion that man is composed of the four "elements"—earth, air, fire and water.

Pioneer Work by St. Louisan.

Surgery, obstetrics, anatomy as they were known in 1500, 1600 and 1700, are shown by dozens of volumes printed long before the Revolutionary War, and carrying the stamp of Amsterdam, Leyden, Venice, London or Rome. Cheek by jowl with a work on anatomy published 350 years ago—bearing the name of the great Vesalius, is a first edition of the revolutionary work on digestion published in 1833 by Dr. William Beaumont, army surgeon and St. Louisan, who found a man with a hole in his abdomen and made use of him for remarkable experiments on the stomach.

The book on rhinoplasty, or the making of artificial noses, by Talicotius, has pictures of the elaborate surgical armor into which a renaissance patient about to get a new nose was laced. The surgeon cut a rectangle of skin and, apparently, muscle, on the right arm of the patient, but left one end of the living tissue attached to the arm. The remnant of the patient's nose was then scraped, and the patient's head was lowered until the nose remnant came into contact with the cut out tissue still joined to the patient's arm.

The patient was put into the "armor" then, so that his old nose and the arm tissue were held tightly in contact for several days. When the arm tissue "took hold" and actually began to grow upon the nose remnant, the armor was removed, and the arm tissue was cut free from the arm. Other processes, shaping the nose by means of a piece of metal that was bound across the face, were resorted to, to perfect the operation.

Wearied of His Silver Nose.

Talicotius declared in his book that he not only successfully grafted new noses, but made artificial lips as well, where a soldier had suffered this loss. The great Ambrose Pare (1509-1590) the Parisian barber-surgeon who was contemporary with Talicotius, and who is represented in Dr. Ball's collection by several works also speaks of rhinoplasty, and cites the case of a young man who "having suffered the loss of his nose, first wore a silver nose, and then, wearying of this, underwent an operation whereby he recovered a nose of flesh." The operation, however, Pare says, was "very difficult" for the surgeon, and extremely painful for the patient.

A volume written by "Celsus," an early Latin physician of the first century, which was reprinted in London in 1725, is devoted to the making of artificial noses and declares that the practice of rhinoplasty first came into being in Egypt. The reprint appears in the Ball collection.

An account of the first "magnet" operation, by which a steel splinter was removed from the eye is found in a rare text by William Fabricius, a German surgeon of the sixteenth century. The posthumous volume appeared in Cologne in 1634. A peasant with a piece of iron that had been driven into the cornea of his right eye came to Fabricius, the doctor reports, and was placed "on a rigid diet, bled, and repeated efforts were made to remove the splinter." The doctor's attempts were unsuccessful until his wife suggested that he try a magnet to draw the splinter from the eye.

Removing Splinter by Magnet.

"While I held the eyelids apart, using both hands, she brought the magnet as close to the eye as possible," Fabricius wrote. 'After this was done repeatedly, the splinter suddenly rushed to the magnet before our very eyes."

Frederick Ruysch, professor of anatomy and botany at Amsterdam University in 1700, is represented in the collection by his "Thesaurus Animalium," published in 1725. Ruysch was a great collector of anatomical specimens, and in 1717 sold an extensive collection, preserved in huge jars of alcohol, to Peter the Great, Czar of Russia. The specimens were shipped to St. Petersburg by water, but on their arrival half the specimens were in bad condition, because the Russian sailors had drained off the alcohol and drunk it.

The "Book of Secrets Concerning the Virtues of Herbs," written in the thirteenth century by Albertus Magnus, an early physician of note, appears in the collection. It is illustrated with some fine woodcuts. Magnus was deeply concerned over the origin of womankind, and seriously debated whether Eve was made out of a whole rib of Adam, including skin, and cartilage, or "only of the rib's bony portion."

Saw Digestion in Process.

The work of Dr. William Beaumont, for whom Beaumont High School is named, printed at Plattsburg, N. Y., in 1833, tells of the astounding experiments he undertook with Alexis St. Martin, a Canadian guide and trapper, who, in an accident with a musket, had lost part of the wall of his abdomen. The anomalous character of the Canadian's wound made it possible for Beaumont to witness the processes of digestion as had no man before him. St. Martin, in excellent health despite the aperture in his abdomen, became a sort of human theater in which, day after day, Beaumont was able to watch the drama of digestion.

Hundreds of meals, fed to the trapper, are set forth in the book with notes as to the time and manner of digestion. At the end of the volumne, a lengthy table shows the approximate time required to digest particular foods. Beaumont appended four pages of general observations based on his experiments, most of which remain truisms to this day, including one observation that had to do with the importance in diet of what physicians today call "roughage." His book laid the groundwork for modern stomach research.

Health Advice in Rhyme.

Another volume on digestion, going back approximately 300 years, is the "Regiment of Health," published in London in 1634, according to the precepts of the School of Salernes. It contains "most learned and judicious directions for the guide and governments of man's life." The original of this work, in Latin, was published in 1474, and was reprinted as late as 1846, an aggregate of 240 editions of it having been published in 400 years. Most of the precepts are in rhyme, which are trailed by interpretative prose.

The adage often handed to children about the dietetic excellence of crusts is flouted in this volume as follows:

Not over old, nor hot let be thy bread;
Hollow and light, but easily leavened,
Sparingly salted, of the purest wheat,
AND SEE THAT CRUSTS THOU DO FORBEARE TO EAT
Because that angry choler they beget.

Crusts, in other words, do not help to make sweet tempers. The "Regiment of Health" is against drinking between meals, but finds that wine far surpasses water at the table, to-wit:

In feeding at our meales the doctors thinke
Oft-times and yet but little we should drink.

He that drinks water when he feeds on meat
Doth divers harm unto himself beget.
It cools the stomach with a rude infesting
And renders void the meat without digesting.

Physicians much contend about this text
If that with sickness thou wouldst not be vext
With drink begin thy supper, others says
Till thou have eaten first, keep drink away

Advises Eggs and Wine.

Another precept is:

A new laid egg craves a good cup of wine:
Drunke after it, it will the blood refine.

And:

Nuts after fish, cheese after flesh is best;
In Both these, they are helpful to digest.

A French translation of the work of Peter Paul Rubens, the Flemish artist whose forte was the representation of large, plump women, is among the volumes of interest.

There are other volumes with Latin texts showing that many of the great painters, among them Leonardo, practiced dissection in order to improve their drawings. The magnificent anatomical drawings of Bartholomeo Eustachius, published at Amsterdam in 1772, after being lost to the world for 138 years, appear in the gift collection.

If Eustachius' work on anatomy had been published in 1570, when he wrote it, anatomical study would have been speeded up 200 years. His findings anticipated the great work in this field in the eighteenth century. He was the first to find the optic nerves, and the eustachian tubes, leading to the middle ear, which bear his name, were first drawn and described by him.

Best Drawings by Leonardo.

The drawings of Eustachius, however, and other anatomists whose plates were hidden for a hundred years or more, do not compare with the anatomical drawings made by Leonardo da Vinci (1452-1518), which were secreted in continental libraries for 350 years before their publication in the nineteenth century. A German edition of the drawings appears in the collection.

The whole span of medical science and of surgery, from the earliest days up through the year 1900, is represented in the gift library, one of the most extensive collections given the Medical Society, whose volumes now number 26,000. The library staff of the Medical Society will complete a catalogue as soon as possible.

Dr. Ball, who resides at 4374 Washington boulevard, is the author of a book on the "Sack-'Em-Up Men," which two weeks ago was published in Glasgow, Scotland. It is a study of body-snatching in the early days of medical schools. Dr. Ball, a practicing oculist, has made a hobby of medical history, as his collection shows, and is also the author of a work on the early anatomist Vesalius. Two years ago Dr. Ball gave an extensive collection of eye specimens to the Army Museum at Washington.

MORGAN, YOUNG EXPECTED TO TAKE REPARATIONS JOBS

Latter Is Mentioned as Chairman of Conference, Which Meets in Paris Next Month.

THOMAS N. PERKINS IS THE ALTERNATE

Washington Government Has Made Plain They Will Merely Be Unofficial Observers.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—J. P. Morgan, head of the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., and Owen D. Young, former agent general for reparations and chairman of the board of directors of the General Electric Co., have been named to attend the conference on German reparations in Paris.

Thomas Nelson Perkins, Boston lawyer and former citizen member of the Reparations Commission, was chosen as alternate.

The selections, expected for several days, were made by the Reparations Commission, and Sir Esme Ho ard, British Ambassador, called at the State Department yesterday to notify Secretary Kellogg of the appointments.

Both Morgan and Young are expected to accept, though the latter has said that he might be prevented from attending because of the illness of his wife. He has been prominently mentioned as probable chairman of the conference, which is expected to meet in Paris early in February.

The United States delegation will go in an unofficial capacity, as the administration has made it plain that it considers the reparations problem a European one.

Young, Morgan and Perkins, if they attend, will occupy much the same position as Young, Charles G. Dawes and Henry M. Robinson of California occupied when they attended a Paris reparations conference four years ago. Technically they will go as appointees of the allied governments concerned.

Among problems at the forthcoming conference is the one centering around the proposal that Germany pay a fixed amount annually instead of the $600,000,000, plus a prosperity supplement prescribed by the Dawes plan. There is also the question of the disposal of $4,000,000,000 in German reparations bonds under the plan drawn up by the last meeting of the International Committee of Reparations Experts four years ago and also the question of deciding how long Germany will pay the annuities, since no limit was fixed by the Dawes plan.

The American representatives will meet with 12 other representatives of the governments of France, Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Japan and Germany. These have already been selected and include such names as Emile Moreau, Governor of the Bank of France; Sir Joseph Stamp of England, member of the Dawes committee and president of the London, Midland & Scottish Railway, and K o Mori, for Japan, former financial agent of the Japanese Government at London, Paris and Washington.

Kentucky Coal Output Rises.

By the Associated Press.

HARLAN, Ky.—Production of coal in the Harlan field for the week ending Jan. 5, 1929, showed a marked increase over the preceding week. A bulletin issued by the Harlan County Coal Operators' Association showed a production for the week of 255,400 tons, or 5108 railroad cars, as compared with the preceding week of Dec. 29, 1928, when only 128,450 tons, or 2569 railroad cars, were loaded. For the week ending Dec. 22, 1928, there were loaded 279,750 tons, or 5595 railroad cars.

TARIFF EVIDENCE 60 PCT. INCORRECT, IMPORTER AVERS

Allen Gerdau Declares He Is Amazed at "Willfully Misleading" Statements on Reed Rates.

CHAIRMAN HAWLEY REBUKES WITNESS

"That's for Us, Not for You to Decide," He Retorts—Higher Furniture Duty Is Requested.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Testimony of an importer of reeds that 60 per cent of the testimony given before the House Ways and Means Committee on this section of the tariff act was "wilfully misleading" and that those giving it should be fined, started an extensive argument today at the committee's hearing on tariff revision.

Allan Gerdau, representing the Otto Gerdau Co. of New York, prefacing a protest against the 25 per cent duty on reeds, declared he was amazed at the "incorrect" statements made by reed manufacturers to the committee, and charged that 60 per cent of it was not fit to be presented.

"That's for us to decide, not you," Chairman Hawley interrupted.

"If you placed a fine of $10,000 on those witnesses giving testimony you believe is wrong, a great deal of your time would be saved," said the witness.

Hawley informed the witness that the committee had no authority to administer oaths except by special order of the House. Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat on the committee, suggested that if oaths were administered testimony at the hearings would be cut 10 per cent.

Gerdau charged that one company, "in spite of its large profits," had sent out letters to its customers appealing to them to petition Congress for tariff increases.

Representative Treadway (Rep.), Massachusetts, asked the witness if he was not taking the same "selfish interest" as those who want protection and warned him that the other side of the question might be warranted in making similar charges against his company. Representative Crisp (Dem.), Georgia, told Gerdau that if he had any concrete evidence that certain witnesses were presenting misleading testimony the committee would like to have it.

A request for increased protection for the $700,000,000 furniture industry resulted in a crossfire of questioning yesterday when it was brought out that some of the companies supporting the plea were fined several years ago for violation of the antitrust laws.

Robert W. Irwin of Grand Rapids, Mich., representing the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers, testified that foreign imports of household furniture were threatening the domestic industry, despite the present duty of 33 1-3 per cent on cabinet goods, and that higher levies were needed to equalize American and foreign production costs.

Asked by Representative Rainey of Illinois, a Democratic member of the committee, if any of the companies he represented were members of the now defunct National Alliance of Furniture Manufacturers, which was held two years ago to have violated the antitrust laws, Irwin answered in the affirmative.

$100,000 in Fines Levied.

He said the companies spent nearly $400,000 on the case, in which a plea of nolle contendere was entered, and when the jury disagreed a settlement was reached whereby the defendants paid $100,00 in fines.

"Then," said Rainey, "do you think your national organization, which did not resist the charge of controlling production and prices, comes before this committee with clean hands?"

"We do," Irwin replied, adding that the companies did nothing to control prices. He said the organization disseminated information to its members and that the Judge who tried the case had held that such procedure was legal unless there was an agreement among the members to fix prices or control production.

Rainey observed that accused persons usually do not plead nolle contender if they have a "good defense."

"We pleaded that way," Irwin replied, "to bring about an adjustment of the whole matter and for the benefit of the entire industry."

Duty on Lumber Sought.

The committee yesterday received a variety of pleas from lumber interests for protection from what they termed ruinous foreign competition.

Lumber now enters the United States duty free, and witnesses testified that this was causing higher prices to American consumers because of increasingly long hauls from foreign forests.

Frank H. Lamb of Hoquiam, Wash., speaking for the lumber industry tariff committee of Washington, Oregon and Idaho, sought a duty of $3 a thousand board feet on all lumber other than cedar. A levy of 25 per cent ad valorem on cedar lumber and shingles was asked for by several witnesses appearing for the Northwest cedar industry.

MORE FREEDOM FOR CATHOLIC CHURCH UNDER ROME ACCORD

Diocese, Monastic Orders and Other Societies May Own Property.

ROME, Jan. 18.—It was learned today that greater freedom of action would be given the Catholic Church in administrative and other affairs in Italy by the newly-reached agreement on the Roman question.

Notably the accord gives religious organization such as monastic orders, the Society for the Propagation of the Faith and the various congregations the right of instituting themselves as corporate bodies with a definite legal status. This would permit them to own property, receive bequests and institute legal proceedings.

By the terms of the accord the individual diocese may own property instead of merely holding it in trust.

NEW POLICE PENSION BILL PREPARED FOR INTRODUCTION

Board of Estimate Invites St. Louis Commissioners to Discuss It Tomorrow.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment today requested the Board of Police Commissioners to meet with it tomorrow morning to discuss a proposed police pension bill which has been prepared by George B. Buck, New York actuary; C. W. Atkins, director of the Bureau of Municipal Research, and Arthur C. Meyers of Comptroller Nolte's office.

The Board of Estimate opposed the pension bill, which was defeated as an initiative measure, in the November election, on the ground that it was impractical and unscientific, and pledged itself to prepare a satisfactory plan and submit it to the State Legislature. The terms of the plan will not be made public until they have been approved by interested city officials.

Hilles, Machold and Hill to Decide on Appointees to Federal Jobs for the Next Four Years.

AGREED UPON AT BREAKFAST PARLEY

President-Elect and Wife Are to Be Dinner Guests at the White House Tonight.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Placing of Republican political authority in New York State during the next four years in the hands of three leaders was announced today by H. Edmond Machold, State Committee chairman, after he and William H. Hill and Ogden L. Mills, Under-secretary of the Treasury, had a breakfast conference with President-elect Hoover.

Besides Machold and Hill, the third member of the group will be Charles D. Hilles, National Committeeman, who conferred with Hoover earlier in the week. Machold is to represent the group in most negotiations with the new President. He said that three would agree upon recommendations for appointments for Federal office before names were submitted to Hoover for his consideration. Hill was head of the independent Hoover-for-President organization in New York State and the agreement on the handling of patronage was regarded as somewhat of a victory for him. Machold became State chairman in the last campaign after the death of George Morris.

Mills said the purpose of the Hoover conferences with New York leaders was to reconcile individuals rather than factions. He added that cabinet appointments were not discussed. Beyond the patronage question, Hoover is interested in strengthening party lines in the Empire State, with a view to restoring the whole State government to the Republican party.

The patronage situation in New York had been regarded as presnting something of a problem to Hoover. Since both Senators of New York are Democrats, he must look elsewhere for recommendations for major Federal appointments for that State.

STEINWAY
THE INSTRUMENT OF THE IMMORTALS

Bernardino Molinari
Guest Conductor o. the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra . . . Steinway Exclusively.

Orchestral mastery first on the Steinway—

Bernardino Molinari writes: "I am extremely happy to use the Steinway Piano in studying my scores. Its brilliancy of tone and deep sonority of bass, all combine to give me complete satisfaction in playing on the Piano the various compositions written for orchestra."

No greater recommendation for the Steinway as the Piano for the home could be given. Of Molinari's mastery we have had every evidence. The Piano that founded his triumph is surely the Piano for the musical upbringing of your children and the Piano for your own greatest enjoyment of music.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Senator Sheppard Falsifies Bible.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

SENATOR SHEPPARD, author of the eighteenth amendment, in a speech to the Senate on the tenth anniversary of prohibition, is quoted as saying that the dry movement is "forever anchored in the heart and purpose of Almighty God." How does he know what is in the heart and purpose of God? If, as the Fundamentalists hold, the Bible is God's word, should not the following Bible verses be held as indicating that purpose?

> Then said the trees unto the vine, Come thou and reign over us.
>
> And the vine said unto them, Should I leave my wine, which cheereth God and man, and go to be promoted over the trees.—Judges Chap. 9, verses 12 and 13.

And that glorious 104th psalm, where, after praising other good things of earth, the psalmist speaks of "wine that maketh glad the heart of man."

Of course the prohibitionists insist that wine, in the scriptures, means only grape juice, but in doing so they falsify the Bible for their own ends. Their intention is to prejudice the ignorant against alcoholic drinks. Senator Sheppard even goes so far as to tell the Senate that the roots of prohibition "find their way to Bethlehem and Sinai." At Sinai the Ten Commandments were delivered. Not a word about prohibition in them. At Bethlehem was born the Son of Man, who in his first miracle turned water into wine. The wine, note well, was praised by the master of the feast as the best of the evening. Certainly those guests at that celebrated wedding were not drinking grape juice. And if the water made wine had been merely grape juice, would not the gospel reporter have so informed us?

When prohibitionists cease uttering falsehoods about alcoholic drinks and go back to teaching true temperance, we shall have progress and not otherwise.

Parkway Shrubbery Obstructs View.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I AM a driver of an automobile, and I hope by the time spring approaches that the city will see that some or all of the shrubbery will be removed in the parkways of Kingshighway boulevard at the intersections. As machines go directly across or make a turn at these corners, the shrubbery obstructs the view and causes accidents. It is almost impossible to see the approach of machines at these intersections.

MRS. W. B. FINKENKELLER.

Proud of Name "Gardenville" School.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I HOPE you can give my letter space in your column to express my opinion, and I might venture to say the opinion of everyone in the Gardenville School district, regarding the change of name proposed by the School Board for our school. We feel we have the best school, the best teachers and the best principal which St. Louis can give us, and a better name cannot be found than Gardenville, which has been carried through the years. That name has been born into the children, their pride and the pride of the community. This district has increased in population over 100 per cent in the last three years, and almost every family sending children to school in this district is a property owner, paying taxes, supporting the School Board. Opposition in the entire community is very strong, petitions are ready to be taken now from door to door, a mass meeting is to be called in the near future. The community does not want the name changed. Why is it we should suffer by the decision of others who have no interest in our wishes, nor in our community? Why should the people be overlooked entirely for purely personal reasons and prejudices?

GARDENVILLE SCHOOL FOREVER.

"Tariffs and Good Will."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

IN YOUR editorial Sunday on "Tariffs and Good Will," you fall into an error common to all anti-protectionists other than real free traders. You, like all of your school, admit, in fact contend, that the foreigner does not, and cannot be made to, pay the tariff, yet you intimate that the American tariff is an injury to foreigners.

A tariff can never injure any but the citizens of the nation whose government imposes the tariff. No matter how high we build the tariff wall the beneficiaries of tariff will raise the price of commodities to the point where the tariff is entirely absorbed. In so doing they reduce the purchasing power of the dollar in America and this will continue until a point is reached when the dollar will buy more outside of America than inside, tariffs notwithstanding. Then ensues another clamor for more protection and the round is gone over again.

It is true that tariffs are not conducive to peace and good will among nations but that is not because of any inherent potency for inflicting injury to foreigners in the tariff itself.

The feeling of resentment against our tariff among the peoples of the earth is truly regrettable and will delay any plans for peace, but I do not think we will ever get rid of the tariff until the American people can be made to see that the tariff is a positive injury to America.

HIGHER GAS RATES.

The effect of the decision handed down yesterday by the Missouri Public Service Commission in the case of the Laclede Gas Co. is to increase the cost of gas in St. Louis to small users approximately $600,000 a year.

Since small gas users are already paying 4½ times as much for gas as big users are paying, the significance of the decision is that the small gas users of the city must pay for developing the use of gas in new and unusual fields. As Judge Muench, the City Counselor, pointed out in his brief protesting against the increase, the company is lowering its rates in the fields where it has competition, whereas it is increasing its rates in the much greater field where the people have no choice but to use gas. This, too, in a region where, because of the near-lying coal fields of Illinois, gas should be getting cheaper.

In 1926 the small consumers made up 92.72 per cent of all the users of gas in St. Louis. They constitute about the same proportion of the gas users today. The total operating revenue of the company in that year was $6,924,466, of which the householder or small user contributed $6,296,612, or 91 per cent. Industrial consumers contributed only $480,141, or 7 per cent, and the house-heating consumer $147,713, or 2 per cent.

"The company has attained its present state of prosperity practically at the expense of the small consumer," said the City Counselor. "From the beginning of its operations to the present time the company has practically had no business except that furnished by the small consumer. The small consumer has paid for all the development and early pioneering expenses of the company, with practically no contribution from the large user; and now that gas has become a necessity to the householder, the company, no longer fearing the loss of this business, imposes a further burden upon it. It does this in order that it may meet the competition of coal and oil in the industrial field through the inducement of attractive rates to the large user."

The commission took occasion to diminish the valuation of the property by some $1,500,000. It also denied that the company had the right to make 8 per cent upon any valuation, and expressed the opinion that 7½ per cent would be a fair return. The valuation is now $47,017,881. It is still exorbitant. The city sought a reduction of more than $8,000,000. It should have got it. The commission found that the company had earned 6.2 per cent in 1927 on the then valuation of $48,522,000. Had the company's prayer been entirely granted its revenues would have been increased by approximately $1,600,000.

The decision of yesterday only partially fixes the new rates. It grants the company the right to file a new rate schedule by which its revenues will be increased some $600,000 annually, leaving the company for the most part to say where the increase shall fall. However, the minimum gas charge, now 50 cents, goes to 75 cents, and the effect of the decision will be to put the entire increase upon the small user. The company is not going to increase rates in competitive fields.

In brief, the case has turned out just as Judge Muench said it would when he quoted this celebrated passage from the Bible: "To him who hath shall be given, and to him who hath not shall be taken away even that which he seemeth to have."

THE EIGHTEENTH AMENDMENT'S PROUD FATHER.

Senator Sheppard of Texas is the author of the eighteenth amendment and, while inordinately proud of his brain child, is yet generous enough to render credit to others, to whom, he says, it is due. For instance, he told the Senate on Wednesday that prohibition is an expression of the "moral sentiment of the American people" and that the dry movement is "forever anchored in the heart and purpose of Almighty God."

Just what the Senator's standing in theological circles is, we are not prepared to say, and hence do not know whether or not his assumption of spokesmanship for the Deity is well taken. We have for many years been under the impression that it was the Deity who instituted and sustained the process of fermentation. But we may be wrong. We had an idea, too, that prohibition is not unanimously approved by the American people and that it runs counter to the "moral sentiment" of a great many leaders.

The Senator's historical reference to the dry movement, too, is novel. He says: "The crusade for prohibition sends its roots into the depth of the past. Indeed," he continues, "they find their way to Bethlehem and Sinai." But, do they find their way to Cana, Senator?

REED OF MISSOURI.

Not since the American republic was instituted has the upper house of Congress witnessed a more picturesque personal victory than that won in the fight on the Kellogg treaty by Reed of Missouri.

The Missouri Senator wanted the treaty interpreted, and it was interpreted. This despite Mr. Coolidge's attempts to prevent it, the opposition of Secretary Kellogg, and the close friendship between Reed and Borah. Once in that debate Reed charged Borah with sharp practice. Borah kept his temper, and Reed apologized. It was a battle between two giants of the Senate, a battle that lasted for days, and Reed won. He towered over the field until Borah, admitting defeat, surrendered.

What a loss to the nation that such a man should voluntarily retire! As his long career in the Senate closes the stature of the man assumes heroic proportions. There have been great figures in that august body, but when was there another with the fire and the force of Reed? He carried the Senate with him in the treaty fight as the Kansas wind carries the dust. He will, we dare say, leave behind him in the Senate, as did Daniel Webster, Charles Sumner, and Thomas Benton, an American tradition.

Missouri has a new Senator who will take the place of Reed when the new Congress organizes in March. He will not, however, be able to bend the great bow of Ulysses.

THE FIGHT FOR THE CHAIR.

It's all over but the shouting. Mr. Rockefeller Jr has won his fight to oust Col. Robert W. Stewar from the Indiana Standard's chairmanship. So say the New York Herald Tribune.

But there are men—in song and story and oil—who never know when they are licked. Something seems to tell us that Col. Stewart is of that breed So we are advising the ringside contingent to remain in their seats. The New York Herald Tribune may be a bit premature in holding up the right arm of Kid Rockefeller in token of victory while counting ten over the prostrate form of Battling Bob.

WHAT IS THE MONROE DOCTRINE?

The interpretation of the Kellogg-Briand treaty which was supplied by the Foreign Relations Committee when the Senate ratified the treaty, contained a quotation from President Monroe's message embodying the original declaration of the Monroe Doctrine.

Referring to the European Powers, the message declared "that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of the hemisphere (Western) as dangerous to our peace and safety."

When this declaration was made Europe was governed by Kings and Emperors, practically banded together to put down any and all attempts to overthrow monarchy and set up democracy. From that standpoint the original Monroe Doctrine is meaningless today. The head and front of the Holy Alliance against which this declaration was aimed was the Austrian Empire, which is today completely broken up into small monarchies with parliamentary government and republics. There are only a few powerless Kings left in Europe. The nations there are either republics or are governed by temporary dictatorships.

What European system of government do we now fear may be extended to this country? The declaration in its original form is practically meaningless. But new interpretations have been put on it. It is no longer needed to protect American republics which had broken away from their European rulers against monarchy. The doctrine has been variously interpreted. It has been used broadly to protect our sister republics to the south from attack by European Powers, and to prevent any further colonization in the Western Hemisphere by European Powers.

President Roosevelt carried the policy farther. He announced the Big Stick policy, under which we claim the right to exercise international police powers on this hemisphere. The logic of this policy is that, in forbidding any attack by European Powers on American republics, we assume the obligation to maintain order and protect the interests of all nations.

The Senate's interpretation refers only to the original policy. It is useful as a measure of defense to preserve the United States and other republics of the Western Hemisphere from outside attack. It is a defensive policy. In effect it announces our determination, and presumably that of other American republics, to solve the problems of this hemisphere without outside interference. But with the growth of the League of Nations, the Pan-American Union and other peace organizations and movements, even this policy is likely at any time to become useless.

Undoubtedly, the Monroe Doctrine needs revising and clarifying. The Senate confines it to a warning against attack from Europe. Whether that was deliberately done as an interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine is a question. The doctrine ought to be redefined, so that we can understand precisely what it means, and when we refer to it other nations will know what we mean.

THE STATE'S GOOD NAME.

That the Governor should have the power, if public interest requires it, to remove appointive officers was one of the points touched upon by Mr. Caulfield in his inaugural message. For illustration he cited the case of Ben Hyde, Superintendent of Insurance, who has been ill for two years and unable to perform his duties. In that period the Governor has been helpless to deal adequately with the unfortunate situation. All he could do was to suspend the stricken officer "subject to the future advice and consent of the Senate." He could not remove him and name a successor. In consequence the Insurance Department has been without an active and responsible head during the latter half of the Baker administration.

Friends of Mr. Hyde are reported as questioning the "good taste" of Gov. Caulfield's specific reference to this instance. The sentiment can be appreciated. But it happened that, during Mr. Hyde's illness, the International Insurance Co. was looted by its president, whose career in "frenzied finance" has terminated in insolvency, with charges of embezzlement to be faced. How far the scandal might have gone, with what tragic consequences to the policy holders in the International, except for the vigilance and energy of the insurance departments of other states, can only be conjectured.

Such experience should not be repeated. Its possibility should be removed as a matter of public policy and public decency. This is the hazard, obviously, which prompted Mr. Caulfield's frank citation of the case to prove his point. It may be assumed that it was an unpleasant duty for the Governor to embody this discussion in his inaugural. But he could not conscientiously have omitted it. Public necessity, we submit, ranks the theoretical consideration of "good taste." Nobody who knows him can imagine that Mr. Caulfield would willfully offend the sensibilities of Mr. Hyde's friends. It is unthinkable that the Governor would capitalize any man's misfortune to enhance his official power.

After all, the first obligation of the Governor of Missouri is to safeguard and protect the State's good name. It was in that spirit, we are confident, Mr. Caulfield sought from the Legislature the power to meet an exigency caused by the appointive officer's disability. In that spirit the Legislature should respond.

HATS AND HEELS.

The other day a beauty expert, facing an audience of women, spoke derisively of their hats. "Dinky little hats" was his phrase. "Ridiculous" and "ugly" were other adjectives he fished out of his insulting thesaurus. He seems to have got away with it, too. At any rate, there was no report of a riot and a well-deserved murder.

Now another expert has gone to the other extreme. Women's shoes are his special affliction. He says they are terrible. High heels are an invention of the adversary. And this vicious practice of toeing out, which has become universal! Now, take the savage. Does he toe out? Never. He toes in. High heels? He usually goes barefoot. And he has marvelous feet, sturdy arches, vigorous muscles. So said this expert, who, however, entertained no illusions that women would have sense enough to become savages.

So much for expert diagnosis. But how do the experts account for the fact that, despite their ugly, ridiculous hats and atrocious shoes, the women contrive to look rather well as they trip serenely along the Appian Way? With that question this discourse, we believe, may tactfully end.

THE LITTLE FELLOW AND THE BIG FELLOW.

The Treaty Ratified

New York World.

IN ratifying the Kellogg treaty by a vote of 85 to 1, the Senate has accomplished at least one result. It has demonstrated to the world that the United States Senate is capable of upholding the moral initiative of the executive branch of the Government.

On its face the treaty condemns recourse to war and renounces it as an instrument of national policy. Having stated their ideal in article 1, the signatories then "agree" in article 2 that "the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means."

Obviously, article 2 contains the meat of the matter. It is an unqualified agreement to settle disputes by some sort of pacific method. By diplomacy, conciliation, arbitration, conference, judicial decision, the processes of the Pan-American Conference or the League of Nations. The treaty is a pledge that in any dispute the signatories will resort not to war, but to some one of the several pacific methods available. Other treaties contain pledges to use this or that pacific method in this or that class of dispute. The Kellogg treaty says that in any dispute the signatories will use some pacific method. By the terms of treaty, then, no nation can refuse to employ a pacific method without violating the agreement it contains.

The vagueness of this pledge lies in the following circumstances: It does not say what happens when a nation violates the agreement; it does not provide any way of deciding whether a nation has violated the agreement. Out of these vaguenesses have grown all the interpretations at home and abroad. The European Powers insisted first of all that if a nation violated the agreement not to go to war they could, without violating the agreement, go to war against the violator of the treaty. They then insisted that the instrumentalities they had created at Geneva and Locarno should be competent to decide for them whether the treaty had been violated. Then the British Government insisted that in "certain regions of the world," which it reserved the right to name as and when it saw fit, it could go to war with any Power which made what in its opinion constituted an "attack." On top of this Mr. Kellogg and Mr. Borah set about interpreting the treaty for the benefit of the Senate. They announced that every nation could go to war when it chose if, in its opinion at the time, it was going to war in self-defense. They proceeded from this to state that self-defense included not merely the defense of national territory against armed invasion, but the protection of national rights and national policies anywhere in the world, each nation being the judge of what its legitimate rights and policies are.

It is self-evident that, taking all these interpretations together, the treaty contains virtually no legal limitation upon recourse to war. With the possible exception of an inconceivable war frankly proclaimed to be a war of conquest, each nation is free to pursue its national purposes and to back them with armed force. For there are no national purposes which cannot be and are not declared to be national rights. What the minority in the Senate has succeeded in doing is to give final recognition to this whole mass of interpretation. Apparently, they have, in effect, declared that under this treaty the nations renounce war as an instrument of national policy only where no national interest is at stake.

Exit Sin

The Nation.

ALL men of broad scientific training know that there is no satisfactory evidence for a divinely revealed code of conduct. Christians and Jews have the Ten Commandments, Buddhists the Noble Eightfold Path to Nirvana, and Mohammedans the dozen major injunctions of the Koran, but their "divine" origin will not stand scientific tests. These great historical codes of conduct represent the rich and varied experience of the human race—and nothing more.

So much the scholars know. But the average citizen does not know this because it has never been told to him in an unequivocal way. The newspapers which reach the common man rarely print anything which can be construed as an attack upon elementary religious belief and the public school teachers dare not question the conventional notion of the origin of the Ten Commandments because of the opposition of the churches. The result is that in a nation in which the physical sciences have won general acceptance, ethics is still surrounded by clouds of superstition and dogma.

Because of the wide divergence between scientific knowledge and educational practice we welcome the open attack upon the conventional notion of sin made by Prof. Harry Elmer Barnes during the recent convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Mr. Barnes is an evangelist of modern science who recognizes what few scientists are willing to admit, that the transmission of scientific knowledge to common men is just as important a task for the scientist as is the discovery of laboratory truth. He said:

"If the Ten Commandments are to be obeyed today, it should be only when their precepts and advice can be proved to square with the best natural and social science of the present time. * * *

"The new cosmic perspective and Biblical criticism, indeed, rule out of civilized nomenclature one of the basic categories of all religious and metaphysical morality, namely, sin. One may admit the existence of immorality and crime, but scarcely sin, which is by technical definition a willful and direct affront to God—a violation of the explicitly revealed will of God. Modern science has shown it to be difficult to prove the very existence of God and even more of a problem to show any direct solicitude of God for our petty and ephemeral planet. Biblical criticism, the history of religions, and cultural history have revealed the fact that we can in no direct and literal sense look upon the Bible or any other existing holy book as embodying the revealed will of God. Consequently, if we do not and cannot know the nature of the will of God in regard to human behavior, we cannot very well know when we are violating it. In other words, sin is scientifically indefinable and unknowable."

What Mr. Barnes said is a commonplace of historical science, but the tremendous clamor of opposition which it has aroused is the best possible demonstration of its need. But Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, made himself ridiculous by rebuking Mr. Barnes for "intruding a metaphysical, philosophical and religious subject" into the program; whereupon Mr. Barnes pointed out several other addresses on the program which fell in the same category. From the pulpits has come a blast of misrepresentation picturing Mr. Barnes as opposed to morality because he rejects an outworn theological conception of immorality. Mr. Barnes can well afford to ignore this type of misrepresentation, but he must be profoundly distressed by the silence of many of his fellow scientists who agree with every word that he said. Some of these colleagues are silenced by fear and some hold the old theory that belief in the supernatural sanction of moral laws is a useful illusion. The kind of men who commit crime, they reason, are more likely to be "moral" if they think that morality comes from the skies.

Doubtless this theory has something to be said for it; there are men who need vengeful Jahvehs in the sky and Billy Sunday hells in the earth to keep them good and weak men crave cosmic illusions to make this sorry life endurable. But no scientist can traffic in such cowardice. The scientist's task is the relentless search for and the accurate statement of truth. If he allows a single compromise to creep into his practice, he will find presently that every superstition has its utility; that is to say, he will become a politician.

Of course, there is no proof whatever that goodness is increased by belief in the supernatural origin of moral codes; in practice, the reverse is often true. Race hatred and war and class discrimination persist in our civilization partly because our morality has been accepted on authority without the scientific examination which every social practice deserves. We shall have a better chance to remake our barbarous "laws" when we admit that they were man-made in the first place.

WASHINGTON
DAY BY DAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.

THE recent passage of the bill providing for a new building to house the Supreme Court means the destruction of a former Capitol of the United States. The site for the proposed new temple of justice is directly east of the Capitol grounds and can be seen from the present windows of the Supreme Court. On one corner stands the old "Brick Capitol," now the property of the National Women's Party. In August, 1814, the Capitol was destroyed by the British army, and pending reconstruction, which consumed four years, the Congress met and transacted public business in the "Brick Capitol." On March 4, 1817, President Monroe took the oath of office in the "Brick Capitol."

Before its purchase in recent years by the National Women's Party, the building had been used as a residence. The Government has an option on the property and it will be destroyed along with other houses, including a large apartment, to make way for the new home of the Supreme Court.

Excellent Tales

PROCESSION. By Fannie Hurst. (Harpers.)

FANNIE HURST seems decidedly at her best in this, her latest collection of tales, which may be called short stories only in the sense that five of them are required to fill a book of ordinary novel length. As a matter of fact, what we have here is simply five condensed novels, any one of which, if elaborated in the author's characteristic manner, could have held the interest of the reader quite as firmly as did "A President Is Born."

One of the most striking things about Fannie Hurst's gift is the fact that she seems never to be embarrassed by the lack of genuine creative ideas, and she can afford to be lavish with them, as here. She always has a real story to tell, whereas many of our short story writers produce little more than clever character sketches at best. Her tales grow out of dynamic situations and end as self-completing organisms.

Of the five highly dramatic stories here collected, it would be difficult to choose the most powerful: but if only one were to be read, it might well be the last, entitled "Give This Little Girl a Hand." The chief characters of the story are Rody, the rather gaudy proprietress of an expensive night club, Brood of the withered arm, who is an habitual lounger about the place, and a rich Texan bent upon spending his money riotously. The cheapest sort of sensational yarn could be spun from such material, and in the earlier portion of the tale one unacquainted with the author might leap at some such judgment. But as the story evolves, one feels under the froth of the surface the moving of a deep, strong tide of human meaning, and the end is overwhelming.

Another curiously conceived tale is "The Left Hand of God." It is the first in the collection, and while it is no less powerful than the last, the contrast between the two is striking. Here there is not the steady accumulation of energy that breaks forth in a wild illumination at the end. The story moves quietly and closes quietly, for all the drama takes place in the heart of a woman, the young mother of a deformed child born during her adoring husband's absence. For nearly a year, fearing to tell her husband the truth, she fills her letters with glowing descriptions of the baby as it should have been. And then the husband returns, but, thanks to "the left hand of God," something happens that makes it possible for the mother to keep her bitter secret and the father to cherish the memory of a marvelously beautiful little daughter.

There is precious humor stuff in all these stories.

ENGLISH AS EXPERIENCE. Henry Chester Tracy. (E. P. Dutton & Co.)

The delightful thing about reading books is that once in a blue moon, or even more frequently if the reader was born under the proper star, one happens upon so enjoyable a book as "English As Experience." Mr. Tracy would revive in some of us that love of literature on which the precise formalism of a stereotyped course has acted as an anesthetic. He has prepared for the consciously literary a guide which will enable them to evaluate a book without reading the blurb on the dust-cover. "English As Experience" will prove a big help to those earnest souls who want to read only the hundred—or whatever the precise number is—best books. And Mr. Tracy's style is so ingratiating in its charm that even earnest souls will forget his thesis in enjoying the book—that words must be savored, that reading only adds to our culture, our ability to hold the dinner-table audience spell-bound with our aptness at telling who said what, and when and where and why, our chances of selling the big order of dried apples to the customer of high potential sales-resistance, if we read for enjoyment, for enrichment of experience. Whether "English As Experience" will cause a new alignment of literary values, or whether those who read "English as Experience" need no alignment of values, is a question that can as well stay academic. Suffice it that Mr. Tracy has written a delightful book, a volume guaranteed painless in the presentation of its enjoyable doctrine, a book to correct the evils of formal reading. J. D. H.

A new edition of Amiel's Journal, with an introduction by Mrs. Humphrey Ward, has just been issued by Brentano's.

Amiel offers a shining target for the present day psychoanalyst with his theories of inhibitions and complexes, and such investigators might find the mental agonies of the tormented idealist akin to the well-known futile spiritual wrestlings of a religious devotee.

All readers are not tough-minded. Even in an age of ascendant material concepts there are a few scattered individuals for whom the Absolute, the Infinite, the Ultimate offer allurement. These kindred introverts are moved to uncommon sympathy by this intimate journal of aspirations and defeat.

A supreme and poignant human tragedy, this of the obscure Genevese professor, brilliantly equipped for intellectual achievement yet compelled to inertia by vague doubts, introspective questionings, and a mystical concept of perfection.

The way of the idealist is indeed hard, for absolute truth, after centuries of theorizing, is still a philosophic will o' the wisp.

REGISTRATION FOR MUNICIPAL OPERA CHORUS ENDS TOMORROW

Of 320 Enrolled Only 60 Are Those Who Have Served in Previous Years.

Applications for places in next summer's Municipal Opera chorus indicates that the chorus ranks will be filled almost entirely with new faces. Up to last night 320 applications had been received with only 60 from men and women who had served in former opera choruses.

Registration will continue today and tomorrow at the Arcade building offices of the Municipal Theater Association. An enrolment of 500 is expected. Entrance examinations will begin next week upon the return from New York of David Russell, manager for the association, who will bring with him the new general stage director and new musical director. The chorus training school will meet three nights weekly at Rubicam Hall, Grand boulevard and Potomac street.

LONGWORTHS COOLIDGE GUESTS

Annual White House Dinner for Speaker of House.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The annual White House dinner in honor of the Speaker of the House was given last night by President Coolidge.

In addition to Speaker and Mrs. Nicholas W. Longworth, the guests included the majority and minority leaders of both houses of Congress, Senator Curtis of Kansas, Senator and Mrs. Robinson of Arkansas, Representative and Mrs. Tilson of Connecticut, and Representative and Mrs. Garrett of Tennessee. Other guests included Gov. Byrd of Virginia, Gen. and Mrs. William W. Atterbury, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas S. Brady, New York; Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National Committee; Matthew C. Brush, New York; Mr. and Mrs. William M. Butler, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chrysler, Detroit; William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and C. Bascom Slemp of Virginia, former Secretary to Mr. Coolidge. Others were invited to attend a musical following the dinner, the artists for which were Mrs. Ruth Townsend-Petrovich, mezzo soprano, and Rudolph Ganz, pianist, former conductor of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

C. L. Derrickson Estate $148,000.

Charles L. Derrickson, who died Dec. 13, left an estate valued at $148,598.48, as shown in an inventory filed in Probate Court yesterday. In his will he bequeathed $1000 in trust for the education of his adopted daughter, Peggy Derrickson Breck, and gave the remainder to his widow, Mrs. Laura J. Derrickson. Nearly all of the estate consists of stock in the McQuay-Norris Manufacturing Co., of which Mr. Derrickson was vice president. He lived at 410 North Newstead avenue.

PROF. BRUNO DEFINES FUNCTION OF RELIGION

Social Work Is to Give Point of View, to Meet Disappointments, He Says.

Ultimately, the function of the church in social service will be to furnish the individual with a point of view that will enable him to meet the disasters and disappointments of life cheerfully and hopefully, rather than to supply him with clothing, food and fuel.

This notion was offered to the Eliot Alliance, a group of Unitarian women interested in social work, at the Church of the Messiah yesterday by Prof. Frank J. Bruno, head of the training department for social workers at Washington University. Prof. Bruno is president of the American Society of Social Workers and former professor of sociology at the University of Minnesota.

The underlying idea of the lecture was that social rehabilitation is no longer the exclusive function of the church, that other agencies have grown up to take care of the material needs of the unfortunate—such as training schools for the unskilled, clinics for the diseased, etc.—and that as long as the church continues to dispense such services itself, it is duplicating the work of the specialized agencies, when it should, in the opinion of the speaker, devote its time exclusively to teaching the defeated man and woman to look at the world and its misfortunes through the glasses of faith and hope.

Slighted by Scientists.

In this connection, Prof. Bruno criticised the tendency of the social scientist to regard religion in a slighting fashion. "Social science," he said, "does religion poor justice when it ascribes its origin to the fear of ghosts or the deification of ancestors. Its spokesmen have been quite childish in their valuation of the church. Anything that has stirred people so profoundly for so many centuries cannot be considered trivial or inconsequential."

From the true standpoint of the social scientist, the speaker asserted, without adverting to the influence of the divine in the operation, religion arose as the reaction of great leaders to overpowering disasters, national or personal.

"Even the most primitive man," he explained, "about whose supposed brutishness there is so much cheap generalization, when face to face with the loss of his home or the death of his wife, asked himself what men ask today in the same situations—'who am I, after all?', 'where am I going?' 'will I live when this life ceases?', 'where is my mate now?', 'does she live?'. And his answer invariably was, as it always has been, in varying shades, among all peoples, 'I don't know' and then religion came into his heart when he added 'but I believe.' It was the hope that enabled him, and millions after him, to live laughingly, a faith in the undemonstrable that enabled him to 'carry on.'"

Leaping Over Ignorance.

Prof. Bruno pointed out that this power of "leaping over ignorance into faith" has always been a rare quality and that the notion has been generally adopted by mankind because a few outstanding individuals were able to perform the mental feat. Thus, inferentially, the niche of the church worker in social service should be analogous to that of the leaders of the old races, whose voices praising the race's God or gods rose over the shambles of a defeat by the gods of a more warlike nation and rejuvenated the faith of the nation.

"Much is said," continued Prof. Bruno, "about the necessity of each one formulating his own attitude toward life, his own reconciliation of fate and knowable facts and reasons. But this is not necessary. The heritage of the ages is ready for the acceptance of whoever needs it. Most people, in fact, can never reach a workable conclusion about life because most of us are able to meet fate only dully, or with curses, or with beaten acquiescence.

"The church's true mission, as I conceive it, and I speak from the standpoint of social science, or the betterment of this life, rather than from the standpoint of eternity, is to broadcast this saving view into the lives of those who have been beaten to the ground by circumstance or misfortune or incompetence. Let the ordinary social agencies supply the food and clothing and the training for a better job, and let the church give the man what the physician and case worker cannot give him—the faith and courage to 'carry on.'"

Mrs. Mary M. Koppelman Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Middelkamp Koppelman, 81 years old, 4529 Holly avenue, who died Wednesday, will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow from Zion's Evangelical Church, with interment in Zion Cemetery. Mrs. Koppelman was the widow of John G. Koppelman, who for more than 50 years was the proprietor of a furniture store on Broadway near Franklin avenue. Mrs. Koppelman was one of the founders of the Good Samaritan Home for the aged. She is survived by one son, and three daughters.

First of Junior Chamber's Visits.

The first of a series of civic tours by the Junior Chamber of Commerce will take place Sunday afternoon when members visit the new Police Administration Building, Twelfth boulevard and Clark avenue. Chief of Police Gerk will be host. In February the organization plans to inspect the St. Louis Art Museum and the following month the waterworks plant on the Missouri River.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.

THOUGHTS while strolling: The front of the Hotel Roosevelt is like an old-fashioned marble cake. The new apple juice stands are getting a play. Why do bow-legged men wear derbies? University clubs and their overtone of rah-rah-rah! The white-haired boy who married one of George Gould's daughters.

A tea room with a sign "No Dogs"—and deserted. Don Marquis, a Walnut (Ill.) boy, who made good in the city. Man with a banner: "I speak six languages but cannot get work." Sir Joseph Duveen, who knows all about art and makes it pay. And Lady Duveen. What's become of George Kelly, the playwright?

Those flivver limousines with seats for chauffeurs in the open. Maurine Watkins, who writes sophisticated plays and short stories. But wears her hair long and looks school marmish. Something pleasant about those old darkies who talk and smile to themselves along the street.

That Madam something-or-other with flaming red hair. And a millionaire husband. Scarcely a silent movie left. And most of us thought the talkies just dropped in for a chat. Daniel Frohman's scholarly goatee. A Boy Scout carries a lady's packages to her car. And refuses a tip.

DeWolf Hopper's son Jack—a banker. Man named Topp sells hats. And E. Glyde runs a skate shop. Those Cuban plantation owners with massive jewelry and fierce mustachios, who spend heavily along Broadway. The famous old "Dead Man's Curve" at 14th street. But safe for a blind man today.

The Chinese shops on lower Fifth avenue. And one of the proprietors who sports a monocle. The fad for massaging machines must be a blow to hand masseurs. None of the great stars goes on a "farewell tour" anymore. A faded sign of Dr. Munyon and his raised finger.

Snub-nosed debutantes with their wolf hounds aching for a little spotlight. Dance school sign: "We teach the In-and-Out." Neysa McMien's husband—John Baragwanath. The red-faced cabbies who appear at dusk.

NOTED artists declare one of the most beautiful views in New York is from the southeastern entrance to Central Park at night when the myriad towers around the Plaza fountain burst into their thousand chinks of light. A contrast to the fairyland of staccato confusion is the velvety dark of the park and its tropical hush just a stone's throw away. Painters are coming from everywhere to catch the spirit of the scene on canvas. It's grand.

THE stage-struck flapper will not care about some recent chorus girl statistics. They show the average professional life of the chorine is three short years, with many weeks of idleness. Few are heard of after that. Only 150 chorus girls out of a 5000 yearly crop progress to speaking parts, and most of these are just few-line bits the public never remembers. This season 25,000 eager, wide-eyed maidens stormed theatrical producers. Most came from the mill towns, prairie cottage and Main street. The chorus and brilliant marriage are linked in an illusive dream. In 10 years only about the same number of girls from the chorus have married actual millionaires. And most of those tie-ups fizzled.

TEN years ago Albert Payson Terhune had never written a dog story. One week-end he had Ray Long, the magazine editor, as a house guest at his Pompton Lakes home. Under the influence of a great open fire and a pipe, Terhune told of a gallant battle in the clearing between his dog Lad and a wolf one moonlight night. It was a hair raiser. "Write that for me," said Long, enthusiastically, at the conclusion. Since then Terhune has written several hundred dog stories and is the most famous of all in this line. It is literary history that most writers in launching careers ignore the subjects they know most about. Mr. Terhune was no exception.

IN a hat store today a clerk with a you'll-buy-this-and-like-it manner was insisting upon giving a side dip to the brim of a hat on a gentleman with side whiskers who seemed a trifle too dignified for such. "It is very Prince of Wales," said the salesman. And that touched off the most elegant bit of cussing I have heard since grandpop sold our team of Missouri mules.

MRS. O. M. FARRELL.

MRS. FARRELL, 7171 Waterman avenue, will be a patroness at the annual ball given by the United Daughters of the Confederacy. The ball will be held Friday evening, Feb. 8, at the St. Louis Woman's Club.

Miss Elizabeth Fusz, Miss Mary Scudder Hallett, Miss Jane Allen, Miss Elizabeth Ferguson, Miss Marion Bischoff and Miss Isabell Kirkpatrick are among the young women who will serve on the Reception Committee Saturday, Jan. 26, at 11 o'clock at the St. Louis Woman's Club when Prof. Bertram Griffith Nelson gives a lecture before a large gathering of prominent women. Prof. Nelson's subject is to be "Women in Modern Poetry." Mrs. Hector M. E. Pasmezoglu will sing, accompanied by Mrs. Frank A. Neal.

A number of luncheons will be given preceding the lecture.

A banquet and dance will be given tomorrow night at the Gatesworth Hotel by the Camp Price Sterling, Sons of the Confederate Veterans, and the five local chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy—the Margaret A. E. McLure, Matthew Fontaine Maury, St. Louis, Confederate Dames and Robert McCulloch Chapters.

Mrs. C. B. Faris, State president of the Daughters of the Confederacy, and E. C. Fisher, commander of the Sons of the Confederacy, will preside.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

THE social calendar late this week is crowded with parties in honor of Miss Mary Brooks Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Howard Holmes, 6500 Forsythe boulevard, and her fiance, Francis Boyer of Philadelphia, whose marriage will be a brilliant affair of tomorrow afternoon.

Yesterday Mrs. Alan Thompson Smith, herself a recent bride, formerly Miss Katherine Herndon Smith, gave a luncheon for Miss Holmes and the bridesmaids. Today Miss Kathleen Sheldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Sheldon and Miss Elise Whittemore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton L. Whittemore, gave a luncheon jointly at the St. Louis Country Club for the wedding party, and tonight, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holmes of the St. Louis Country Club grounds, uncle and aunt of the bride, and their daughter, Miss Caro Holmes, will give a dinner party at their home for the wedding party and the out-of-town guests. Last night Miss Janet Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Gardner gave a dinner party at their home for the bridesmaids and the St. Louis groomsmen.

Tomorrow, preceding the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. George Kimball Conant, 19 Portland place, will give a luncheon at their home for the group of out-of-town guests.

The out-of-town guests, including three bridesmaids and the maid of honor, have arrived. Miss Amy Walcott of Litchfield, Conn., who is to be the maid of honor, and Miss Elizabeth Seymour of Cleveland, are the guests of Miss Marian Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lionberger Davis of Brentmoor; Miss Anita Shields of Philadelphia is the guest of Miss Sheldon; Miss Ruth Walker of Boston is visiting Miss Gardner.

The marriage will take place at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Second Presbyterian Church, and will be followed by a large reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Holmes.

Mrs. M. Ames Cushman, 6333 Ellenwood avenue, will depart late this month for New York to join her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ames of Seattle, Wash. They will sail together Feb. 2 on the Minnetonka for Europe to be gone three months.

Mrs. Cushman's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allerton Cushman, will join the large group of the young married set at Olympia Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Brookings Wallace of Price and Clayton roads and Mr. and Mrs. Garneau Weld of Litzinger road and their families, are among the prominent St. Louisans who will spend the late winter in Florida. They plan to depart early in February.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Porter Tirrill of "Tirrill Farms" on Clayton road, will depart tomorrow for New York, to sail Tuesday on the Samaria for a tour of Europe. They will be in London the week of March 21 and will sail from there for New York March 28.

Mrs. Elle Byrne of Grand Rapids, Mich., and her daughter, Miss Alexa Byrne, are visiting friends in St. Louis, and are guests at Hotel Chase. Miss Byrne has been in St. Louis frequently as the guest of Miss Margaret Rumsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Rumsey Jr., 4372 Westminster place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Reeves Espy, 4522 Lindell boulevard, are planning to make their future home in New York. Mr. Espy is in New York at present, and Mrs. Espy and her family plan to go in two months. They will be accompanied East by Mrs. Espy's sister, Miss Margaret Parle, who will be their guest for several weeks.

Mrs. Robert W. Walsh, 5959 West Cabanne place, has departed on a Mediterranean cruise to be gone three months. Mrs. Walsh will go to Paris at the end of the cruise to spend several weeks.

Mrs. Ignatius McMenamy, 6018 Clemens avenue, will entertain a large group of friends at a tea the afternoon of Jan. 24, in honor of her nieces, Mrs. James Aubrey George, formerly Miss Marie Josephine Averill, and Mrs. John Lancaster, formerly Miss Harriet Averill, whose marriages took place a few months ago.

The friends of the hostess assisting will be Mrs. Charles P. Cote, Mrs. H. Z. Hughes and Mrs. H. J. McNichols. The young women serving will be Mrs. John Curran, Mrs. James Wessling, Mrs. Melvin Joyce, Miss Agnes Martin, Miss Margaret Parker and Miss Helen McAnulty.

Fight off "FLU" with Florida Oranges and Grapefruit

Florida rushing citrus fruits to epidemic cities—former President of Hahnemann Hospital, Chicago, tells here of protective measures

FOREMOST physicians say that one of the quickest, most effective precautions against influenza known to modern medicine is to eat—and drink—oranges and grapefruit plentifully.

For citrus fruits turn alkaline in the system—build up the alkaline reserve that increases resistance to common colds, grippe and influenza. They provide vitamins and mineral salts that help the general health of the body—for oranges and grapefruit are one of the world's richest known sources of these vital food factors. They combat acidity—so often resulting from the usual heavy winter diet—acidity which is an internal enemy of the body, lowering normal resistance and inviting illness.

Start Citrus Protection Without Delay, Doctors Warn

Now, with the influenza epidemic raging in city after city throughout this country, leading doctors everywhere are urging adults and children to take the precautionary health measures listed here to help fight the disease.

Everybody, young and old, should have plentiful amounts of Florida Oranges and Grapefruit every day—several times a day. A glass of orange juice or half a grapefruit for breakfast is nowhere near enough. Serve Florida Oranges or Grapefruit at every meal—and in between times. The newest way for grapefruit is as a drink—squeezed right into the glass—chilled—sweetened a bit if preferred.

But in whatever form, remember that at this time Florida Oranges and Grapefruit are recommended urgently by modern doctors as one of the most important protective measures possible against the "flu" and other kindred illnesses.

This advertisement is sponsored by the Florida Citrus Growers' Clearing House Ass'n, Winter Haven, Florida.

DR. DANIEL R. HODGDON, of New York, formerly President of the Hahnemann Hospital in Chicago, has successfully prevented colds and "flu" among 1100 children whose diets he now personally supervises. He says:

"Too much stress cannot be laid upon the use of citrus fruits and fresh vegetables during any influenza epidemic. Each person should eat generous amounts of oranges and grapefruit, together with plenty of raw vegetables every day.

"Should you feel a cold coming on, an extra measure of protection is to drink the heated juice of a grapefruit just before retiring, in addition to the grapefruit and oranges you take several times during the day. There is no surer way of breaking up a cold or influenza. Avoid rich foods and overeating. Get plenty of sleep, keeping windows open. Keep house temperature even throughout the day, avoiding overheating. Stay out of crowds if possible.

"If you feel ill, consult your physician immediately."

TAILOR TELLS OF SEEING CASH GIVEN TO KEYES

Witness at Trial of Former Prosecutor at Los Angeles Describes Division of Money

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 18.—A tailor's story of witnessing the division of a thick roll of bills between former District Attorney Asa Keyes and Charles Reimer, special investigator for the former County Prosecutor, was given yesterday in the trial of Keyes, Reimer and four others charged with conspiracy and bribery.

John Rettinger, once employed by Ben Getzoff, proprietor of a tailor shop and one of the defendants, said he saw Getzoff give part of a "three-inch roll of bills" to Keyes and part to Reimer. Preceding Rettinger on the stand a "surprise" witness for the prosecution, Ernest Nollac, window trimmer, testified he was present when Ed Rosenberg, also a defendant, gave a check to Dave Getzoff, son of Ben Getzoff.

The younger Getzoff, Nollac said, cashed the check under his father's instructions. The elder Getzoff then took the money into his office, where, according to the window trimmer, Keyes was waiting. When the former District Attorney left the office of the tailor shop he was adjusting his billfold, Nollac testified.

Joseph Sherman and Milton Pike, other employes at the tailor shop where the State charges bribe money was passed by defendants in the Julian Petroleum Co. fraud cases to the Getzoffs to be turned over to Keyes, also testified regarding Rosenberg's visit to the shop with the check.

In the clash between the prosecution and defense attorneys during the cross-examination of Jospech Sherman yesterday, the veil was partly drawn from the plan which Keyes and his five co-defendants will follow in attempting to establish their innocence.

In response to a question by Superior Judge Butler, Lecompte Davis, defense counsel, said he hoped to prove that Milton Pike and Sherman had testified falsely before the grand jury in order to sell a "concocted story" about "fixing" in the Julian Petroleum case to a newspaper for $2000.

Again, during an argument following the attempt of the defense to cross-examine Sherman concerning a visit of Samuel McNabb, United States District Attorney, to Ben Getzoff's shop, Davis said that it was his object to show that alleged bribes might have been meant for McNabb rather than Keyes. Chief Deputy Prosecutor Robert Stewart asked the court to prohibit cross-examination of Davis on this point. Judge Butler sustained the State.

NORTHCOTT TO EXAMINE OWN DEFENSE WITNESSES TODAY

Murder Defendant, Acting as Counsel for Himself, Asks Six Be Subpenaed.

By the Associated Press.

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Jan. 18. — Gordon Stewart Northcott, acting as his own attorney in his trial here on charges of killing three boys, began today to examine his own witnesses. He requested that six be subpenaed for the defense today.

The cross-examination of the prosecution's star witness, Sanford Clark, 15-year-old nephew of Northcott, ended yesterday. Northcott's questions shifted frequently from one line of thought to the other during Clark's examination of how Lewis and Nelson Winslow and an unidentified Mexican youth had been killed on a chicken ranch near here.

At the conclusion of the examination Northcott objected to the admission of Clark's testimony on the ground that he had admitted being an accomplice. Ruling on the objection was reserved.

Northcott is taking great pains in the conduct of his case. He comes to court loaded with a brief case and law books, and in placing motions and objections before the court, he is punctitilous in quoting the chapter and section of the reports upon which he bases his contention.

Election Board Clerk Stricken.

Fred R. Lehman, 58 years old, 7326 State street, East St. Louis, chief clerk of the East St. Louis Board of Election Commissioners and a director of the Southern Illinois National Bank, suffered an apoplectic stroke yesterday in his office. At St. Mary's Hospital his condition was reported this morning as improved.

Kirkwood Salesman Is Missing.

Police have been asked to search for Alex J. Bauer, a salesman, 941 Brownell avenue, Kirkwood, who left home Wednesday and failed to return. Dr. C. C. Presnell, 6070 Maple avenue, a relative of Mrs. Bauer, received a letter from Bauer yesterday in which the latter said he intended "ending it all." The letter was postmarked St. Louis. Bauer was employed at the Glasco Electric Co., 721 North Eleventh street.

Judge Rakes Timid Officers.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—A lecture from the bench on the advisability of resigning rather than tolerating violation of the law through fear, was read to Gus Bohlander, president of Melrose Park Village Board, and Anthony Palma, when Federal Judge R. C. Baltzell ordered instructed verdicts of not guilty yesterday in their trial for conspiracy to violate the liquor laws. Hohlander and Palma were on trial with about 25 other citizens of the village. Eighty-one were charged originally. Many have pleaded guilty.

Woman Found Helpless After Fall

A neighbor found Mrs. Sarah Alges, 52 years old, lying in the basement of her home at 6610 Sacramento avenue, St. Louis County, yesterday, helpless because of a fractured left leg suffered in a fall down a flight of stairs. She was taken to Dr. Tiernon's Hospital at Pine Lawn.

Minister, Rundown, Sick, Gains 7 Lbs. in 3 Weeks

Put Good, Solid Flesh on Those Ugly Bones

Get a Fine, Clear Complexion

©I.Y.Co.

New YEAST and IRON builds weight quickly. Your own druggist guarantees results—or pay nothing

"After a 7 weeks' revival campaign I was so entirely run-down and had lost flesh so rapidly I became excited about my condition. My wife and members urged me to do something.

"Then I saw your advertisement of IRONIZED YEAST and decided to give it a 3 weeks' trial. After 2 weeks I found my strength returning and the dull tired feeling gone. At the end of the 3 weeks I had gained 7 lbs. and was myself again. I can recommend IRONIZED YEAST gladly." Rev. O. H. Taylor

Stop Being a "Skinny" Weakling

Imagine just 3 weeks to change from a "skinny", tired, run-down person that nobody thinks much of, to a strong, well-filled-out, "peppy" man or woman that everybody admires. Many letters like the minister's tell how ugly hollows in face and neck vanish. "Broomstick" limbs become gracefully round and chubby. Tired feeling disappears. Blemished skin clears quickly.

Only when Yeast is Ironized is it so wonderfully effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building and strengthening values of Yeast. That's why IRONIZED YEAST works so marvelously. Pleasant-tasting tablets in a handy bottle. Safe for everybody. Never cause gas or bloating.

Go to any druggist today and get a full size treatment of IRONIZED YEAST. If after this generous trial you are not delighted with results, your money back instantly.

What Doctors All Over Say*

"Brewers' Yeast fine in gastro-intestinal disorders and as a weight builder."

"Yeast is of distinct value in general weight building, constipation, lack of appetite, skin eruptions, general run-down condition, etc."

"Have been using Brewers' Yeast in preference to Bakers' Yeast, in cachetic (run-down) condition and results were satisfactory. Anemias were improved."

"Have seen good results with Yeast for constipation and acne (pimples). Believe Brewers' Yeast gives better results."

*The above are extracts from the reports of hundreds of well known physicians all over the United States. For professional reasons their names cannot be given here. The reports are on file at our office, however, and may be seen at any time. Note the preference for Brewers' Yeast, the kind used in IRONIZED YEAST.

Well-Known Druggists Everywhere Recommend Ironized Yeast

Recommends as Fine Body-Builder

"IRONIZED YEAST gives A No. 1 satisfaction and has unusual steady repeat sales. Therefore I do not hesitate to recommend it to anyone in need of a body-builder."—M. F. Scheele, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Used It Himself—Recommends to All

"Used IRONIZED YEAST myself and felt like a new person. I recommend IRONIZED YEAST to my customers and have them come in and thank me for helping them."—C. H. Smith, Baltimore, Md.

Excellent for Rundown People

"I have seen some very good results with IRONIZED YEAST, especially in anemic conditions and recommend it to anyone needing a building tonic."—H. S. Arrington, Norfolk, Va.

Beautiful Skin in a Few Weeks

Read what hosts of people say of how IRONIZED YEAST clears away pimples, blackheads, boils, muddy and blotchy skin. The Yeast clears out the poisons, while the Iron builds up the run-down blood.

Pimples Gone

"Was always troubled with pimples and blemishes. I had to do something to have the clear, beautiful skin an audience expects of its actresses. After taking IRONIZED YEAST my skin was smooth as satin and I haven't a pimple or blemish of any kind."—Miss T. R., Fort Worth, Texas.

New Complexion

"My ugly sallowness has gone and now I have a lovely skin. IRONIZED YEAST relieved constipation, gave me a new appetite, and have gained 9 pounds."—May McC., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Amazing Numbers of Missourians Write Letters Like These:

What IRONIZED YEAST has done for all these folks it should certainly do for you. Take advantage of our generous trial offer. If not delighted, get your money back.

"Skinny," Weak, Gains 8 Lbs. in 1 Month

"Was so skinny, weak and rundown, and after taking IRONIZED YEAST one month I gained 8 lbs. Nerves were better, slept and ate better, and really feel much more alive."—Mildred Newberry, Kahoka, Mo.

Tired, Nervous, Gains 12 Lbs. and Feels Much Better

"Before I took IRONIZED YEAST was always tired, nervous and underweight. Now feel better than in some time. Have gained 12 lbs. and complexion is greatly improved."—Mrs. T. G. Potzner, Lebanon, Mo.

Gains 6 Lbs., Clears Complexion

"Would get up with tired feeling and dull headache every morning. Don't seem to have it any more since taking IRONIZED YEAST. Have gained between 6 and 7 lbs. Yellow complexion has cleared up."—Mary Rogers, Richmond, Mo.

Gains 5 Lbs. in 2 Weeks

"When I started using IRONIZED YEAST I was underweight, felt tired all the time. In 2 weeks gained 5 lbs. and felt lots better."—O. C. Lewis, East Prairie, Mo.

Built Strength, Added 5 Lbs.

"After a tonsil operation I lost much blood, was weak and had lost weight. Took IRONIZED IRON for 3 weeks and gained 5 lbs. But what it did most was build up my blood and strength."—Harold E. Owen, Irwin, Mo.

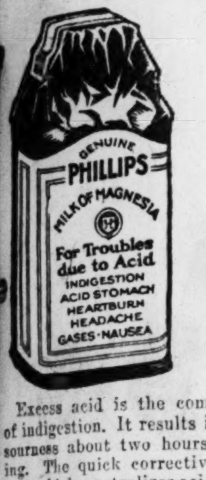
INFORMER, THREATENED, DOESN'T WANT POLICE GUARD

Irving L. Spencer, Attorney in County, Has Been Gathering Evidence at Saloons and Resorts.

Irving L. Spencer, St. Louis County attorney wro has been a volunteer liquor law informer for the county authorities, will not ask for police protection, although his life has been threatened, he said today.

Spencer, who lives at 668 Atalanta avenue, Webster Groves, has been visiting saloons and resorts in the county and obtaining evidence which he has turned over to the grand jury. His name appears as a witness on three recent liquor indictments voted by the grand jury. Spencer made his liquor investigations at the request of a group of private citizens who are interested in cleaning up the county.

He said last night that a woman telephoned him and warned, it would be "too bad for you" if he did not return the evidence he obtained at one of the resorts he visited. Spencer believes his days as a liquor investigator are over because his description has been broadcast to county resort owners.



Acid Stomach

Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillip's Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless, and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer, when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Flu

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories: tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk 60c for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, or Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night.

THOMAS F. RYAN II MARRIES DIVORCEE

Grandson of Capitalist and Mrs. Margaret Rea Wed in License Bureau.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Thomas Fortune Ryan II, grandson of the late Thomas Fortune Ryan, multimillionaire, and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, was married yesterday afternoon in the marriage license bureau in the municipal building to Mrs. Margaret Moorhead Rea, divorced wife of Henry C. Rea of Pittsburg.

Ryan and his bride, both of whom gave their ages as 29, entered the bureau after closing time, taking with them Mary Ann Evans and James M. Moriarty to act as witnesses.

As soon as the ceremony was over the pair departed. At Mrs. Ryan's apartment here it was said that she and Ryan had gone out of town without leaving an address.

Members of the Ryan family are known as devout Catholics, to have opposed his marriage to a divorced woman.

Bride Divorced Last Year.

The new Mrs. Ryan, who before her first marriage was Miss Margaret A. Moorhead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moorhead of Pittsburg, divorced her husband last summer, charging cruelty. Their marriage in 1922 was one of the events of the social season in Pittsburg, where both families are prominent. The Reas lived in Sewickley, Pa., and spent their summers in Southampton, L. I., where the Ryans also have a summer place. Rea was the son of a former president of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Ryan, after studying for a while at Yale University, went to live in El Paso, Tex., where he has been engaged in ranching. He has recently spent much of his time in New York, however, living with his parents.

Mother Has Nothing to Say.

Mrs. John Barry Ryan said she knew nothing of the marriage or where her son was. "If my son is married I don't know anything about it and I positively have nothing to say," Mrs. Ryan said. "He is not here and I don't know where he is."

Ryan's father inherited approximately one-fifth of the estate left by Thomas Fortune Ryan, estimated at from $100,000,000 to $500,000,000. The bridegroom's uncle, Allan A. Ryan, was cut off with the bequest of a pair of cuff links.

3 HOLIDAYS ON 3 CONTINENTS

This Was Experience of Missourians on Mule Boat.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 18.—Spending Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's day on three different continents was the experience of Paul Gilleland of Eldon and Richard Smith of St. Louis, former students in the University of Missouri.

They sailed Dec. 6 from the United States for Barcelona, Spain, on a boat loaded with 1200 mules. On Christmas day 200 mules were delivered at Oran, Algeria, and two days later 1000 mules were unloaded at Barcelona. From there Smith and Gilleland went to Paris for New Year's day, and thence to Cherbourg. They plan to return to the United States in the near future.

HOOVER SETTLES PATRONAGE ROW IN NEW YORK

President-elect's calling list today is Albert Ottinger, former State Attorney-General, who was defeated for the governorship in the last election by Franklin D. Roosevelt. Reports here are that Ottinger is at least a receptive candidate for a diplomatic post, probably in Europe.

Chairman Reid of the House Flood Committee said he had discussed Mississippi flood control with the President-elect, as well as steps looking to relieving the flood situation in Florida.

Irrigation and reclamation formed the subject of a conference between Hoover and Chairman Smith of the House Reclamation Committee. Representative Smith said the conversation had been general in its scope.

Representative Begg of Ohio, who was defeated for Governor in his State last November and who retires from Congress March 4, said he called on the President-elect to offer his services in any capacity in which Hoover might find him of use.

Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was a luncheon guest of the President-elect. The Idahoan was one of those who took the lead in urging Hoover to declare for an extra session of Congress late in the campaign and who has suggested that this session be called as soon after inauguration day as practicable.

Hoover is to make a third visit to the White House since his return from South America. Tonight he and Mrs. Hoover will be the dinner guests of President and Mrs. Coolidge.

Green Calls on Hoover.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor called on the President-elect yesterday to discuss some phases of the work of the committee to study economic trends since the World War which was appointed while Hoover was Secretary of Commerce and of which Hoover still is chairman.

DIETZ DENIES MAYOR'S 'INGRATITUDE' CHARGE

But Supply Commissioner Writes Miller That He Is for Kiel.

Supply Commissioner George J. Dietz, in a letter to Mayor Miller, today announced unequivocally that he was supporting former Mayor Kiel in the mayoralty race and denied that the word "gratitude" had been used in any conversation between him and the Mayor.

In accusing Dietz of disloyalty in an interview with reporters yesterday, Mayor Miller said: "I called him into my office recently and asked if he knew the definition of 'gratitude.' He didn't answer because he doesn't know what gratitude is."

Dietz, who was appointed by Miller to the $6000-a-year commissionership, said in his letter that he had been ignored by the Mayor since he supported former Senator George H. Williams two years ago in the race for United States Senator. Mayor Miller, he declared, had "a personal grudge" against Williams.

In closing, Dietz thanked the Mayor for stating on some occasions that he was "a good, efficient and faithful supply commissioner."

Reporters who called on the Mayor for a statement were told, through his secretary, that the Dietz matter was closed.

FIVE KILLED IN DOUBLE WRECK IN MARYLAND

Passenger Train Plows Into Freight — Fast Express Derailed by Wreckage.

By the Associated Press.

ABERDEEN, Md., Jan. 18. — Five persons were killed in the collision yesterday of two passenger trains and a freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad near here. Leon Sweeting of Philadelphia, engineer of the northbound passenger train, died at Havre De Grace Hospital today. Sweeting, who had recently recovered from influenza was badly scalded in the accident. Four others of the train crews were killed in the double crash, the cause of which had not been definitely determined.

Hundreds of passengers were shaken up but all were able to proceed on relief trains to their destinations.

K. A. Klein, brakeman, and V. W. Stewart, flagman, riding in the caboose of the freight train, which had just pulled on to the main track from a siding, were killed when the northbound passenger train struck the rear of the slower freight.

Telescoped freight cars toppled on to the adjoining track and a heavy southbound train carrying sleeping cars and coaches for connection at Washington with other railroads to the South plowed into the wreckage. Engineer A. C. Terhune and Fireman T. J. Kavanaugh of that train were killed in the second crash.

The first four sleeping cars of the express toppled on to an embankment beside the track but the passengers escaped serious injury

More than 150 yards of the main line track were torn up. Trains were rerouted over tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

The collisions occurred in a fog. Pennsylvania railroad officers, uncertain of the cause, thought that Engineer Sweeting had failed to see two signals, set to show that the freight train was ahead of him.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke, former Ambassador to Holland, was among the passengers on the express. He was not hurt.

Bigger Rewards for Big Families.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, Jan. 18.—At the suggestion of Premier Mussolini the Council of Ministers has approved a bill favoring increased rewards and further advantages for heads of large families and tending to prevent concentration of population in large cities. The Council also approved statutes providing for a new Italian academy with Tommasco Tittoni, former President of the Senate, and former Foreign Minister as its president.

Carpenter Falls Off Roof.

Louis A. Boos, 64 years old, a carpenter, 2116 Rosebud avenue, Pine Lawn, is at Dr. L. [illegible] Hospital with a fractured right shoulder and left arm, suffered yesterday when he fell from the roof of his home.

"I KNOW NOW WHY KONJOLA IS CALLED MASTER MEDICINE"

St. Louis Man Tells How Famous Compound Banished Five Years of Stomach Trouble; Praises Its Merits.

The Konjola Man, who is explaining Konjola, the new and different medicine, daily at the Walgreen Drug Store, 515 Olive street, this city, is asked many questions like—"Why is Konjola called the master medicine?" by those who come to inquire about the brilliant record of this new compound. Daily those who seek health may hear the Konjola Man answer this question. He is explaining, too, why Konjola conquers even obstinate cases quickly; how the health that Konjola brings comes to stay; why and how this compound contains 32 ingredients, all of which work together, yet each works singly on the ailing organs. There is no mystery about this remarkable medicine that banishes pain and routs out the disease at its source without the doubtful aid of alcohol, nerve-deadening drugs and heart-depressants. No such drugs in Konjola. Konjola is called the new medicine simply because there is none other like it; no other in its class; none to be compared to it for efficiency and results in cases for which it is intended. Take, for instance, the experience of Mr. Fred Lundry, 9815 Sadie street, St. Louis, as typical of Konjola's quick victories:

MR. FRED LUNDRY.

"How can I praise Konjola enough for what it did for me?" he exclaimed to the Konjola Man a few days ago. "I know now why it is called the master medicine. For five years I suffered from stomach trouble that refused to yield to any remedy or treatment and which was steadily getting worse. I found it impossible to eat a meal without having gas bloating and indigestion pains. The sluggishness of my liver brought on headaches, and constipation made these two ailments a great deal worse. My health became so bad that I could hardly attend to my work. I asked myself what would this lead to—I felt that my future was doomed—that I would continue to lead a life of constant suffering and misery.

"I owe to all the men and women of St. Louis who indorsed Konjola a debt of gratitude, for their praise of this master medicine led me to give it a trial. Konjola went right to work; I could feel it. Day by day I grew better, and as my organs started to function more normally, and as the poisons were driven from my system, I realized that I was on the road to health and traveling fast. Not a long time later I was practically a new man, eating and sleeping normally, and without a sign of my former troubles. I have greater energy and vitality—work daily and feel refreshed at evening as in the morning. I never dreamed that there was such a medicine that could do this. No wonder Konjola is known as the medicine with more than a million friends. It deserves fifty millions."

Not an unusual case at all. This is the way of Konjola, which tackles the most stubborn case quickly and determinedly. One does not have to wait long for results when this famous remedy is given a chance.

The Konjola Man is at the Walgreen Drug Store, 515 Olive street, St. Louis, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this master medicine. Free samples given.

"Where St. Louis Buys Its Groceries"

KRENNING-SCHLAPP GROCER CO. SPONSORS NEW GROCERY PLAN

Krenning Schlapp Grocer Company take their place among the pioneer wholesalers of St. Louis and its adjacent territory.

Forty years of unbroken attention to the needs of independent retail grocers have served to raise the organization to its present high level.

Incorporated in 1902 by Mr. C. H. Schlapp who then took charge, they have steadily grown and in 1915 purchased the Nichlos, Scharff & Son Grocery Co. and in 1925 the Buchanan Grocer Co. Branches at various points in Missouri and Illinois have been opened in order to best service independent merchants.

In 1912 the corporate name Krenning-Schlapp Grocer Co. supplanted the old title, Krenning Grocer Co.

Six states, Missouri, Illinois, Kentucky, Arkansas, Tennessee and Indiana are served by Krenning-Schlapp representatives, a very large, well-trained extensive sales force. Their St. Louis plant is of quite recent construction and its interior arrangements of storage floors and loading docks is indeed well adapted for careful, yet speedy preparation and delivery of customers' shipments.

Mr. C. H. Schlapp, president of the company is well known among the country's leading dealers in food.

Mr. Schlapp is Vice-President of the National Wholesale Grocers Association and has been very active during his business career in cooperative work with both wholesale and retail grocers.

Mr. Conrad G. Mueller, former salesman, now vice-president and sales manager, has worked up from the ranks and is a practical, well experienced wholesale grocer, especially qualified to cater to the interests of the retail grocer.

Mr. I. G. Meyer, second vice president and department manager has personally been in the retail grocery business and has been at his post for many years and thoroughly understands the needs of a progressive growing business.

The position of secretary-treasurer and office manager is held by Mr. Fred A. Pavitt His many years in this office especially qualifies him to take care of the many needs of this department.

CLOVER FARM HEAD IS HERE

Chain Store President Arrives for Grand Opening in Greater St. Louis.

Lester H. Lipton of Cleveland, president, Grocers & Producers Co., operating company of Clover Farm Stores and national secretary of the grocery chain, is in St. Louis to attend opening of the St. Louis division of the Clover Farm system.

Within the last year Clover Farm Stores have expanded at such a rate that there are now fifteen divisions serving thousands of stores.

St. Louis Division.

In the St. Louis Division there are over 100 stores. The next divisional opening will be in Elizabeth City, N. C., within the next two weeks. Others will follow in the near future.

Large numbers of unit branches of the system radiate from general national headquarters in Cleveland. These include stores at Ashtabula, Akron, Warren, Loraine, Canton and Conneaut in Ohio, Sharon, Erie, Farrell, Ellwood City in Pennsylvania.

Many smaller towns and cities within the trading radius of all division points operate stores.

Lipton Talks.

The Clover Farm idea is a brand new one in merchandising, according to Mr. Lipton.

"Corporation chains of all types have been growing in the United States and in Canada for years," declared Mr. Lipton, "but it is evident that the Clover Farm idea of centralized control and individual ownership is really the American idea of merchandising for the future.

"Under this plan the American grocer is absolutely independent. Each is a tax payer in his community and an individual business man, receiving the benefits of the price and quality of the corporation type."

Leading economists, according to Mr. Lipton, owing to the uniqueness of the method of distribution, together with its merits, have given universal acclaim.

"There are no concerns in the country that have as yet been solicited to operate Clover Farm Stores," said Mr. Lipton. "So many have been interested in their operation by the publicity that has been given in newspapers and periodicals that they nave asked to join.

"It is an evident fact that the wholesale and retail grocers of the United States who have cooperated in opening Clover Farm Stores have been successful.

"Store set-up, color standardization and merchandise tells the tale," declared Mr. Lipton.

Well Known Brands

It is the desire of the Clover Farm organization to sell merchandise to the public which is of the best quality obtainable, the official asserted. He pointed to the fact that nationally advertised merchandise is handled. A general line of Clover Farm goods is handled in each store.

The general company sends to all parts of the world to have its products packed, he explained.

"There is no one section that can pack the best quality merchandise in every line," said Mr. Lipton. "By volume cooperative purchasing, in huge quantities it is possible for the manufacturer to make the proper economic distribution.

Policy of Success.

To the adherence to their unwavering policy of selling only the best Mr. Lipton attributes much of the success of the Clover Farm Stores system. "It has been proved in many communities where Clover Farm merchandise is sold that the housewife receives the fullest possible value for goods sold at these stores at a much lower comparative cost," he declared.

"This," continued Mr. Lipton, "is due to that same basic economic distribution.

"We are glad to enter the St. Louis field. It appeals to us as one of the most progressive sections of the country and we know that the people of St. Louis and St. Louis County will welcome the Clover Farm brand of merchandise."

"Economy and Clover Farm—Arm in Arm"

KRENNING-SCHLAPP GROCER CO. IS SPONSOR

HEAD OF WHOLESALE DISTRIBUTING HOUSE EXPLAINS CLOVER FARM IDEA

By C. H. Schlapp

Independent grocers throughout the United States clearly discern a new era in the history of the retail grocery trade in the form of the newly organized Clover Farm Stores Company that is sweeping the country and gaining members in every city, town and village.

Realizing the advantage of mass buying, mass advertising and mass merchandising, the Clover Farm Stores Company is endeavoring to bring to the American public low prices on quality merchandise through the medium of the local independent retail grocer, offering a plan through which the small merchant may take advantage of mass buying to obtain greater purchasing values in high class lines and the organization is gaining hundreds of members each week.

St. Louis in Step

Greater St. Louis grocers are rapidly following the movement that is gaining momentum in other sections of the country. The plan of the Clover Farm Stores Company is a simple idea of unity in purchasing, merchandising and advertising. Retail grocers band themselves together for the purpose of merchandising and purchasing through the medium of the local wholesaler who holds a franchise of Clover Farm Stores Company. In St. Louis trade territory it is The Krenning-Schlapp Grocer Co. which serve this district. Thus by banding together and purchasing direct great volume the grocers are able to get the best goods at the lowest possible prices. In this way sales resistance and sales expense are eliminated.

Another feature of the Clover Farm Stores Company, and one distinctly separate from its purchasing attraction, is the co-operation given the retail merchant in rearranging his store in order that the greatest efficiency of stock display may be obtained from his fixtures. Supervisors of the company assist grocer members in arranging their stores in the most attractive, efficient and sanitary manner. Goods are so arranged that they will sell most readily with the least attention of the owner.

Official Colors

Members stores are remodeled and redecorated in the green and ivory colors adopted by the national organization as the official colors of Clover Farm Stores Company.

In discussing the advertising phase of the plan, merchants declare that the smaller retail grocer who has no more than 300 customers can ill afford to advertise in the newspaper field, but, with the advent of such an organization as the Clover Farm Stores Company all the smaller grocers will receive the benefit of advertising at a nominal cost. They also point to the uniformily arranged and painted stores and declare the public would soon be educated to the Green Front Stores.

Clover Farm Stores are owned and operated by residential property owners and taxpayers, whose profits are kept in circulation in their own town.

The Clover Farm Store plan is an educational campaign to make a better merchant out of the retail grocer and to aid him to prosperity in order that he might serve his customers in a more intelligent and economical manner.

Sponsors Lend Aid

Krenning-Schlapp Grocer Co. is endeavoring to help him regain his foothold to become a factor in the community in which he resides.

We are making merchandising specialists out of Krenning-Schlapp salesmen so that they may aid rather than burden the merchants. Every article bears a price tag. In adopting a plan for the rearrangement of members' stores the company has also provided for the self-service idea where desirable and acceptable to the general public. The customer frequently likes to pick out his or her own goods and is generally somewhat bashful about asking prices and when goods are openly displayed and plainly marked with price tags he or she will undoubtedly purchase more than they would were conditions otherwise.

Fixtures and counters as arranged in the old-style stores demand too much clerical attention. With their rearrangement according to the Clover Farm plan overhead expense is materially decreased.

CLOVER FARM STORES ENTER ST. LOUIS

RETAIL GROCERS BRING NATIONAL ENTERPRISE TO THIS DISTRICT

Over 100 green-front stores open their doors to St. Louis and trade territory Saturday.

With their opening there is launched a retail grocers' co-operative organization that has become nation-wide, bearing the trade name of Clover Farm Stores.

Under a plan completed by The Krenning-Schlapp Grocer Co., local wholesale grocers, the Clover Farm Stores will buy goods co-operatively in quantities large enough to enable them to sell goods at low prices.

Uniform Plan

In addition, each store will have the advantage of expert merchandising and advertising advice and prices, window displays and methods of operation will be uniform.

The grocery stores have been in operation in St. Louis heretofore under separate ownership and have been organized under the Clover Farm franchise by the Krenning-Schlapp Grocer Co.

Former owners will continue in this capacity in every case. More stores are to be added to the chain, which will extend to the suburban territory, according to officials.

National Scope

Clover Farm Stores operate a chain of 300 stores in Cleveland, the headquarters, and in addition have proved successful through the East, the Middle West and the South.

The system is gaining amazingly in popularity, with added impetus in launching of the St. Louis stores.

"Selling policy of the stores," according to Mr. Schlapp, "will be to furnish the best quality of goods obtainable, to carry the smallest of reserve stocks and to try to meet consumer demand rather than to direct it."

Stores Are Ready

For the last several weeks efforts have centered on putting all stores in readiness for the formal opening. Repainting, using the uniform color scheme of green and ivory, was accomplished in remarkable time by a crew of workmen.

Thousands of dollars have been spent in remodeling and refurnishing stores here. Each must comply with the exacting demands of the system in appearance, strict cleanliness and absolute sanitation.

Absolute unification has been obtained, even to interior furnishing and stock arrangement in the stores, so that customers will feel at home in every store, will know where to find the goods they seek, how to obtain quick service and what are the particular "leaders" of the day.

Stress Attractiveness

Much is made of arrangement of stock in the program for member stores laid down by the Clover Farm Stores Co. "The impression one gets as he enters a grocery or looks through the window often determines him to buy or not," according to George E. Greene, president, Greene-Babcock Co., Cleveland, wholesale grocers and original organizers of the new grocery store system.

"So the arrangement of stock to best advantage has been worked out by experts and adopted by every one of the hundreds of stores in the Clover Farm chain."

Corporation

Each member store holds one share of stock, fully paid and non-assessable, and so holds equal voting power with every other store in the group. The board of directors is made up of men elected by the stockholders.

The directors meet weekly to discuss all problems arising in the operation and development of the chain.

Each member store agrees to follow the methods and policies of the corporation as to buying, stocking merchandise, front and interior appearance of the store, submission of weekly and monthly reports on sales and stocks, and featuring of each week's specials.

Expense Budgeted.

Each store, of course, pays its proportionate share of the operating expenses of the central office and of advertising and promotion costs. All such expense is budgeted and each store manager knows all these costs.

In turn, each Clover Farm grocer reaps the benefit of a centralized buying office, with experts in dry groceries, produce, fruit, baked goods and the like to get good merchandise at the lowest possible price through group buying.

He also has the advantage of counsel and help of the general merchandise manager, of trained supervisors in matters of layout, stock arrangement, selling and displaying methods, record keeping and increasing turnover.

CLOVER FARM STOCKS FRESH

Lines Are Interchanged Among Grocers if They Are Slow Moving

The consumer is more or less conversant with the practice among stores in a chain of transferring goods from one unit in the chain to another.

This occurs among localities and often among widely distant cities when the trade in one place shows little interest in a particular line of goods, whereas at another point the same line is in heavy demand.

This same phenomenon takes place among grocery stores in a single city, particularly in a large center like St. Louis. When a store that operates independently of all other retail shops faces this situation it must direct demand if it can or else suffer a loss on the rejected line. Not so among stores of the Clover Farm family. Each store in the chain knows, through a weekly bulletin, through supervisors and by telephone contact with the Stores Co. offices what goods are languishing at one location, whereas there may be a big demand for the same line at another.

The Clover Farm Stores arrangement provides for this exigency. The slow-moving line is passed on to the store or stores where it is in demand. The net result is that nothing goes stale on a Clover Farm shelf. It is not permitted to repose there long enough to get old.

CLOVER FARM STORES and Children

Thousands of children are boosters for Clover Farm stores. It is an evident fact that children are always enthusiastic over things that appeal to them and many mothers have explained to Clover Farm merchants that they like to trade at Clover Farm stores because their children are treated right.

Every Clover Farm store caters to the children as well as the grownups and feels fortunate to wait on as many children as possible.

Children enjoy shopping for their mothers and Clover Farm Stores always make them welcome and serve them in the same courteous and attentive manner that they serve the grown-ups of their neighborhood.

FINE COFFEE SOLD AT CLOVER FARM STORES

Each buyer of coffee at a Clover Farm store has undoubtedly noticed the fine flavor and rare aroma of the coffee purchased.

Clover Farm, Green Top, Red Cup and Blue Cup, each in its class is the finest coffee, blended differently to suit the individual taste. It is a pleasure to tell the public how Clover Farm stores select, blend and roast their coffee, the sales of which are steadily increasing, due to the fact that the public is fast learning that no better, no more uniformly flavored coffee can be had anywhere and no matter at what price.

The costs are lower because of the constantly growing volume and anyone of the respective brands will please the most discriminating buyer.

The roasters of coffee sold in Clover Farm stores draw their supplies mostly from the high lands of the state of Sao Paulo, Brazil and from the slopes of the Andes mountains, sometimes as high as 7,000 feet above sea level. The former is known as Santos coffee and the latter as Colombian coffee, which is the highest quality coffee that can be obtained.

Coffee must be freshly roasted and realizing this all Coffee sold in Clover Farm Stores must be blended, roasted and shipped from strategic points. Coffee sold in St. Louis Clover Farm Stores will be roasted and packed in St. Louis and will be fresh and absolutely uniform.

CLOVER FARM PLAN IS ADVENTURE IN "REAL HAPPINESS"

"THE Clover Farm Stores plan has been an adventure in happiness," says one of the officers of the company. "By that I mean that our co-operative plan has brought solution of financial troubles to many a member store.

A good many of the stores that are now strong links in the Clover Farm chain were non-paying for a long time before they joined the company. Something seemed to be lacking to make the store a success.

In nearly all cases it was not work, nor was it poor buying. Rather, it was inattention to merchandising as an art in an age when others were heeding the subject as of paramount importance.

"The joy of making the rounds of our stores and finding here and there one that we recall as shaky and uninviting a few months ago but now flourishing and cheery or cheerful, aggressive and enthusiastic is repayment for the labor of having built up the Clover Farm stores system," says the same officer.

MANY MERCHANTS ARE TYING UP

CLOVER FARM PLAN HAS STRONG APPEAL FOR STOREKEEPERS HEREABOUTS

With applications being received daily, the indications are that an increasingly large number of merchants in this section of the State soon will be associated with the Clover Farm Stores Company.

The organization is being fostered by Krenning-Schlapp Grocer Co., one of St. Louis' largest and oldest wholesale grocery houses.

Under the new arrangement all stores joining the corporation will be repainted and rearranged, but will remain absolutely under the same management. The owner retains complete control of the store with the Clover Farm Company acting only in an advisory capacity.

The Clover Farm Store idea was first tried out in Cleveland and proved very successful, with the result that there are now hundreds of these stores in the country operating under this policy.

Members Are Stockholders

Each member store holds one share of stock and so holds equal voting power with every other store in the group. The stockholders elect their own board of directors.

In return for the privilege of operating under the name of the Clover Farm Stores, each member agrees to follow the methods and policies of the corporation as to buying, stocking merchandise, front and interior of store, submission of weekly and monthly reports on sales and stocks and featuring of each week's specials.

The operating expense of the central office and all advertising and promotion costs are apportioned among the members. As each of these departments is operated on a budget, the member knows at the beginning of each month the exact amount that he will be required to spend in this manner.

The members also agree to buy as much of the stock as possible from the wholesale house in their territory which has the Clover Farm franchise. In return, the wholesaler agrees to assist in every way possible in merchandising along modern lines.

Krenning-Schlapp Grocer Co. has been given the Clover Farm franchise in this district.

In order to take care of the retailer on articles not handled by the local franchise holder arrangements will be made with various firms to provide these articles under the Clover Farm label.

A special way of self arrangement will be in vogue for the interior of the stores, while the outside will be painted green, with a slogan of green and gold leaf.

OVERSTOCKING IS IMPOSSIBLE

Clover Farm Stores Protected Against Evil of Unwise Buying

It is an axiom in the retail business that overbuying is bad policy. This is peculiarly true in the grocery business, we are told. A few leaky jars in a "drop shipment" of fruit may efface the profit from the whole ten or twenty case investment, or rather, venture.

When you drop into a Clover Farm Store you will not see a job lot of goods offered — canned goods with discolored labels, package goods that look shopworn. That is because one of the principles of the Stores company is never to overload a store.

Quick turnover is desired. It has been estimated that the most successful chain stores in St. Louis turn over their entire stocks once, twice, and in some cases three times a month. In such stores it is impossible to find aught but fresh goods.

It is conceivable that it may be to the advantage of the independent store to buy in large quantities in order to compete in price with a system of stores. Even then success in such venture depends upon the sagacity of the grocer who must gauge in advance what his trade will absorb and is likely to take to.

That problem never confronts the owner of a Clover Farm Store. He enjoys the price of privilege that quantity confers without having to carry a volume of goods on his shelves or in his cellar. Under the arrangement with wholesalers who are joined in the enterprise the Clover Farm Store owner buys one case at the drop shipment, or car lot, or even train load rate he would be quoted were he an independent.

That is such a vast advantage that often it has spelled the difference between success and failure in the management of a neighborhood grocery. No longer does the grocer have to worry about overstocking after he becomes a member of the Clover Farm Stores family. He does not have to give it even a thought. The very salesmen who call upon him from the accredited wholesalers with whom he contracts to deal protect him against overstocking. The wholesalers' vans will come to his place every day or twice a day if need be, in order that consumer demand may keep always in perfect step with supply.

SPEEDING UP GROCER'S WORK

Co-operation in Clover Farm Stores Plan Prevents Waste of Time

One of the obstacles in the way of success for the independent grocery store is the amount of time the independent operator has to give to salesmen. Records show that about fifty different salesmen visit an independent grocery store weekly in St. Louis.

This entails an enormous waste of the grocer's time. So one of the basic principles of operation of any chain of successful stores is the elimination of waste time occasioned by needless calls of salesmen.

Mass Advertising Store Advantage

One of the incidental advantages of membership in the Clover Farm Stores Company, and far from being a minor one, is the benefit of publicity, it has been pointed out.

Take the matter of display advertising. In St. Louis, over 100 stores, all of which handle the same brand of goods, whose merchandising methods are alike and whose stocks are fluid can subscribe to the same advertising copy. Obviously such a union of stores can command bigger space and more frequently than could the strongest individual store imaginable.

Still another advantage of a community of publicity is the quality of that publicity, conceived and written by a well paid department devoted exclusively to that activity rather than by a harried grocer or his wife or clerk.

Membership in Clover Farm Stores Benefits Trade

Membership in the Clover Farm Stores Company has had a beneficial effect upon credits and collections, according to company officers.

Short terms are favored by the organization for purchases by its member stores. In fact, when a store joins the chain it agrees to pay invoices within 14 days of their date.

Clover Farm Stores Compete in Displays

As one means of encouraging attention to window decorations the Clover Farm Stores Company conducts a weekly contest among its member stores. The stores that have had the best window trims are announced in a special bulletin published at National Headquarters.

Besides merely naming the winners, the successful trims often are discussed in the bulletin. Sometimes the bulletin, into which goes the best thought of the company's officers and experts, suggests what will make a good window decoration.

CLOVER FARM MAGAZINE OUT

New Monthly Publication Appears to Assist Chain Store Members

A monthly publication devoted to the interests of Clover Farm Stores, a national grocery chain, made its bow to the public in October. It is published at Painesville, Ohio, and has been authorized by the national headquarters at Cleveland.

Childs M. Warner, proprietor of Clover Farm Store No. 141, Cleveland division, is managing editor. The Clover Farm magazine is a grocery trade paper serving the selected class of progressive and individual grocers affiliated with Clover Farm Stores organization. The editorial policy is to promote the interests of all Clover Farm Stores and to encourage the essential elements of co-operation, as exemplified in the Clover Farm Stores, in order that the vital principle of individual ownership may be maintained against the encroachments of monopolistic chain store corporations.

The Clover Farm magazine welcomes articles by all interested in this national grocery chain. Subscriptions are free to all stockholders, supervisors and members of Clover Farm Stores Co.

Store Discipline Nearly Automatic

In the conduct of a large chain of stores all selling practically the same lines, in the same way, the question of personnel is a mighty one. This is solved under the Clover Farm Stores Co. plan.

The company accepts the staffs of member stores as they are and for what they are, with the hope at the outset that the personnel of no two stores in the league shall be alike. Individuality is at a premium. But, of course, the company at once applies itself to the task of molding each grocery owner in the company into the co-operating character for which the company was formed.

This is easy in most cases because the grocer who joins the company does so for improving his condition and therefore is receptive and eager to give of his own experience.

Occasionally a store will join the Clover Farm group that cannot find its niche therein. The owner is the unprogressive type. He is not fit for co-operative enterprise. The result is he drops out of his own inertia.

PRICES ON TAGS

One of the practices of all the Clover Farm Stores is to mark the price of every item displayed plainly and uniformly as to the kind of tag or card used. In order to insure uniformity the stores company supplies member stores with price tags.

So far as is possible every item in a Clover Farm Store carries a price mark.

SPICK AND SPAN

Bottles and other glassware show dust in light. Occupying as they do shelves at the front of the store where sunlight often strikes them the Clover Farm grocer perforce keeps this section of his shelf display immaculate, as he should do all other sections.

MAKE THIS
3-Minute
TEST

Cut one slice each of Wonder Bread and any other bread you choose. Get your toaster hot. Toast both slices 1½ minutes on each side. Compare the rich, golden brown Wonder toast with your second slice. Wonder Bread toasts more quickly because it is better baked—slo-baked.

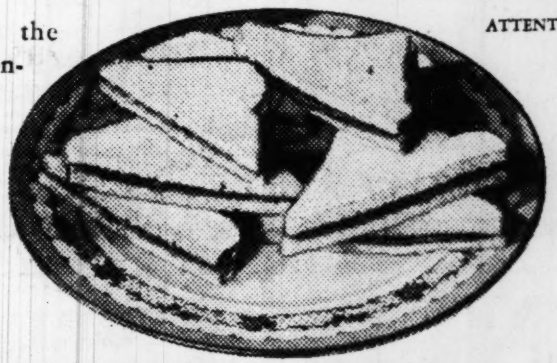
Then break the Wonder toast. Note the delicate, palate-tempting bread fragrance. Now try your other slice. Eat a bit of each. In three minutes you will have proved to yourself that a bread that's slo-baked is best. Not only for toast, but for every purpose.

Madam ...in Three Minutes the Proof...

MADAM—We wish that you could see just how we make Wonder Bread—what we use—how we prepare and blend the materials that go into it. But an easier way for you to prove that Wonder Bread is made of finest ingredients combined with an expert knowledge of baking—is to try the three-minute toast test described above.

Instantly you'll see the difference between Wonder Bread and any other bread you know. For slo-baking seals into each loaf a delicate bread flavor—new to your palate. A flavor that tells you Wonder Bread is richer in milk—richer in its flour made only from the heart of the wheat berry.

Through slo-baking, too, Wonder Bread develops an even texture that will not crumble when you cut it. And this slo-baked bread retains freshness and flavor remarkably. Women tell us that the last slice is often as fresh as the first. Try Wonder Bread today—it's at your grocer's—fresh from the ovens.



ATTENTION! APPETITES

A new taste-thrill awaits you—when you make sandwiches of Wonder Bread. It's slo-baked to bring out all the delicate flavor bread should have.

Trained eyes watch oven temperature until each Wonder loaf is done to a turn. Out it comes—piping hot—deliciously tempting because it is slo-baked to develop the fragrant bread flavor that is Wonder Bread's alone. Try a loaf to-day.

Look for the Sign "CLOVER FARM STORE"

Every one is painted green—every one has the sign displayed.

It will not be hard for a prospective customer to locate a Clover Farm Store. They are all painted a distinctive green and the beautiful green and gold sign is erected on all stores. Several weeks were spent by chemists in the laboratory to perfect a green pigment that would be different. Green denotes a freshness that is synonymous with all that is Clover Farm.

In Clover Farm windows one may see the silent salesmen—Clover Farm posters telling the public some of the special priced merchandise it is offering. The grocery windows are re-arranged each week—all items being properly priced. Fruit and vegetable windows are changed daily.

He's Booster for Clover Farms

HERE'S what a grocer in Shepherd, Texas, thinks of the Clover Farm Stores plan:

"My eyes have been opened by this new system," he declared.

"Under my old plan I did not know at the end of the day whether I had made money or lost. It was largely a matter of guesswork.

"I would not take $2000 in cash and change my present plan from the Clover Farm Stores system back to the way I began in 1920."

The merchant is J. R. Beeson. He outlined his impression of the Clover Farm Stores plan to the Theo Keller Company, wholesale grocers, Houston sponsors of the system.

"The plan promotes cash sales, discourages credit and does not destroy individuality," declared Mr. Beeson.

"It also places the goods in the consumer's hands, more attractive, better displayed, cleaner and fresher. It causes more courteous service to be extended, and a closer friendship between the retailer and consumer to exist."

RECIPES FOR DISHES IN WEEK'S MENUS

Very Simple to Prepare but Quite a Bit Different Withal.

For a deep dish apple pie fill a deep baking dish with apples that have been peeled, quartered, cored and sliced. Sprinkle one cup of sugar mixed with one-half teaspoon of cinnamon over the apples, using this amount to six or seven large apples. Cover the dish with a good pie crust rolled about one-quarter of an inch thick; press the edges firmly to the edge of the dish, and prick the crust several places with a fork.

Bake in a hot oven—400 degrees—15 minutes or until the crust begins to brown, then reduce the heat to 350 degrees and continue baking for 40 minutes or until the apples are very tender. Serve warm either plain or with cream.

Baked Lima Beans.

Soak one-half pound of dried lima beans over night in cold water to cover. In the morning drain, cover with boiling water and boil slowly for an hour or until tender. Melt two tablespoons of fat, add one medium-sized sliced onion and one shredded green pepper. Cover and cook slowly for five minutes. Then add two cups of canned tomatoes, one teaspoon of salt, one whole clove, and one teaspoon of sugar. Boil slowly for about 15 minutes.

Drain the lima beans, put them in a baking dish, pour the tomato sauce over them and spread a thick layer of buttered breadcrumbs over the top. Bake for 30 to 40 minutes in a very moderate oven.

Frozen Pudding.

Scald two cups of milk. Mix together two tablespoons of cornstarch and six tablespoons of sugar, add two eggs and beat thoroughly. Pour the scalded milk gradually into the egg mixture, stirring constantly. Cook over hot water, stirring mixture until it thickens and is very smooth.

Then remove from the fire, add one tablespoon of vanilla, one tablespoon of chopped candied orange peel, one tablespoon of chopped crystalized ginger, one-half cup of seedless raisins that have been soaked in two tablespoons of aronge juice or cooking sherry, and one dozen chopped maraschino cherries. When the mixture is cold, fold in one cup of cream whipped stiff, and freeze in the usual manner.

Cottage Cheese Salad.

Mash one cup of cottage cheese with one tablespoon of sugar, one tablespoon of cream, one-half teaspoon of salt and a little grated lemon rind. Pit one-half pound of dates and stuff them with the cheese mixture. Dice enough firm, tart apples to make two cups, add one tablespoon of orange juice and enough mayonnaise to hold together.

Arrange a mound of apples in the center of each plate on crisp lettuce leaves, and place around it six stuffed dates. Sprinkle with a little paprika before serving.

DELICIOUS FIG LAYER CAKE IS A GENUINE TREAT

The Rich Fruity Filling May Be Used Also as a Sandwich Spread.

Cream together one-third cup of shortening and one cup of sugar. Add two eggs and beat until smooth. Then stir in three-fourths cup of milk. Mix and sift two cups of cake flour, one-half teaspoon of salt and three teaspoons of baking powder. Add to the liquid mixture with one teaspoon grated lemon or orange rind.

Divide the mixture into two well greased layer cake pans and bake in a hot oven—400 degrees—for 15 minutes or until delicately browned. Cool and put together with fig filling.

Fig Filling—Chop one-half pound of figs, add the grated rind of half a lemon, one cup of boiling water and three tablespoons of sugar. Boil slowly for 15 to 20 minutes or until the mixture is as thick as marmalade. Remove from the fire, add a tablespoon of lemon juice. Cool before using.

This will keep indefinitely in a cool place and is an excellent sandwich spread as well as cake filling.

Apple and Cheese Pie.

Season contents of one No. 2 can of apple sauce with one-fourth teaspoon cloves and pour into a crust. Dot with one tablespoon of butter and bake for 10 minutes at 450 degrees and for 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool. Beat three-fourths cup cream, add one cream cheese which has been forced through a sieve, and pile on the pie, which should be very cold.

Spiced Orange Peel.

A little cinnamon, clove or ginger added to the syrup in which orange peel is cooked add an unusual flavor which is nice for a change.

APPLE CAKE IS A DESSERT FOR LUNCHEON OR DINNER

A Pastry Which Is Particularly Appropriate for the Winter Meal.

Two cups flour, one teaspoon salt, five teaspoons baking powder, one-half cup sugar, one-third cup shortening, one egg, one tablespoon lemon juice, one cup milk, four to five apples.

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Rub in the fat until well blended. Beat the egg, add the milk and stir into the dry mixture.

Add the lemon juice and more milk if necessary to make a very soft dough. Spread in a well-greased pan and cover the top with the apples peeled and sliced very thin. Sprinkle with four tablespoons of sugar mixed with one-half teaspoon cinnamon and bake in a moderate oven for 40 minutes, or until the apples are tender. Use tart greening apples for the best flavor.

Test the Oven for Baking.

If cake is put into too slow an oven it often rises over the sides of the pan and is of very coarse texture. If put into too hot an oven it browns on top before it has sufficiently risen and in its attempt to rise breaks through the crust, making an unsightly loaf. Cake will also crack on top if too much flour has been used.

REMEMBER THESE THINGS WHEN COOKING FOR THE SICK

A Problem Presents Itself When Preparing Foor for Them.

1. Choose easily digested foods and prepare them in such a way that they will be easily digested.

2. Avoid foods that are digested with difficulty.

3. Give special attention to the selection of foods that appeal to the appetite. Likes and dislikes of the patient should be observed. If food is distasteful to the patient substitute something else or disguise the distasteful food in such a manner that he will not recognize it as the dish he dislikes.

4. Prepare less food for the sick than for those in good health. For the very sick patient, food served in small quantities, but served often, is necessary.

5. Serve the foods in an attractive manner. Liquids should be placed in deep dishes, hot foods in a covered dish, the daintiest china available should be used and a tray covered with a clean napkin or doily should be used to serve the dishes on. In cases of contagious disease paper napkins and doilies should be used and should be destroyed at once after using.

DAINTY WAYS OF SERVING ICE CREAM AT FESTIVITIES

Many Feel That the Formal Repast Is Incomplete Without a Frozen Sweet.

Clever hostesses who contemplate serving commercial ice cream for dessert at the company dinner will find these suggestions for dressing up the dish will add a gala note to the dinner.

Take three pints of ice cream, 12 small sprigs of flowers such as holly or fern, 12 tiny flower pots and one cup grated chocolate.

Fill the flower pots with ice cream, sprinkle grated cocoanut over the surface to represent soil. Stick the flower sprigs into the pots before serving.

Another appropriate way to decorate ice cream is to place a serving of vanilla ice cream in sherbet glasses. Tint cocoanut and whipped cream with red food coloring. Cover ice cream with the red cocoanut and decorate with the colored whipped cream.

A dainty ice cream parfait is made by combining vanilla or any fruit ice cream with diced canned pineapple, and canned raspberries or strawberries. Put a spoon of ice cream into the parfait glass first, then the pineapple and then the berries. Garnish with whipped cream and serve at once.

NOTHING MORE SCRUMPTIOUS THAN FRIED MUSH AND SYRUP

No Southern Breakfast Was Quite Complete Without This Dish.

After all, the housewives of pioneer days knew what was good when they served fried corn meal mush for breakfast. Golden slabs of deliciousness, and when accompanied with maple syrup, nothing more can be said.

Whole corn meal mush must first be made. Take four cups water, one teaspoon salt, one and one-fourth cups yellow corn meal and four tablespoons butter.

Put water into top portion of a double boiler. Bring to boiling point; add salt with oil or butter; then add corn meal slowly, stirring constantly. Have water in bottom of double boiler boiling; put top in place and cook for 35 minutes.

Uncover, turn out into mold and when cold slice about ¼-inch thick. Saute in bacon drippings if desired or in butter or lard. Serve piping hot and pass maple or other syrup with the fried mush.

YOUNG HOUSEWIVES NEED MARKET HELP

What to Buy and How Much to Purchase Are Burning Questions.

When talking with a young housekeeper the other day the conversation finally came around to a discussion of food, as conversations so often seem to do. Said she: "I suppose these weekly menus that you publish are all right, but you people who know anything about food presuppose so much knowledge on the part of your readers! So many times you seem to forget that there are lots of them like me, who have what I call an average amount of intelligence, but who don't know where to begin. What I need is a marketing guide to tell me just how much to buy for my small family; what things can be bought several days in advance, and how to buy so that I will have enough left over for it, but not enough for several days."

Much of what she said was sound truth. Perhaps we who know do take too much for granted in this respect.

In regard to the question of the actual preparation of food by one who is a novice, I would suggest first that she search out in her neighborhood those agencies that are equipped to help in distributing knowledge about foods. Some of the public schools have home economics classes in the late afternoon or evening for young housekeepers; in many places there are excellent private cooking schools where a course in the fundamentals of cooking may be had; in other places, the gas and electric light companies have well organized home service departments and give lessons in cooking and in the care of equipment.

Women's clubs, county home demonstration agents, and private lecturers offer further helps along these lines.

Then there are a few cook books that are written especially for the beginner or for those who have just a slight knowledge of cooking.

Many have perhaps read the story that was recently published in one of the leading women's magazines dealing with the tribulations of a young housekeeper who decided that all one needed in order to know how to cook was a cook book. That this proved far from being the case was amply shown in the development of the story! Nevertheless, cook books give one an excellent working knowledge, providing the rules are followed and used with an average amount of intelligence.

You'll enjoy it tonight for dinner—

DRIED FRUITS ADD VARIETY TO MENU

Many Tempting Dishes and Desserts May Be Made With Them.

Dried fruits offer an inexpensive way of insuring a good supply of the nutritive elements found in fruits in the winter diet. Of all the dried fruits prunes are, perhaps, the most used and the most abused. This is largely because so little care is used in cooking them. Dried fruits should be soaked over night in cold water to cover, then cooked very slowly in the same water for 20 to 30 minutes.

For those who do not like the flavor of prunes alone, the combination of apricots and prunes is a good one. In this case the two fruits should be soaked and cooked together, using equal parts of each. Because of the tartness of the apricots, one-half cup of sugar should be added for each pound of fruit.

Many people like the addition of a small amount of cornstarch to slightly thicken the juice. This has the further advantage of reducing the acidity of the fruit and saving on sugar.

Apricot Queen Pudding.

For the first part take one slice of bread one inch thick, one egg and two egg yolks, one-half cup sugar, one and one-half cups milk, one teaspoon vanilla. For second part take one cup cooked dried apricots, two egg whites, four tablespoons sugar and one teaspoon vanila.

Part 1: Soak bread in cold water to cover about 15 minutes. Drain and pres dry. Separate two eggs, set whites aside; add one egg to yolks and beat slightly, adding sugar, hot milk and bread; mix well. Pour into buttered baking dish set in pan of warm water; bake in moderate oven until firm.

Part 2—Mash drained cooked (dried) apricots; spread over cooked pudding. Beat egg whites stiff; gradually add sugar and vanilla; spread over apricots, bake eight minutes in a very moderate oven. Will serve six persons. This is a very wholesome dish for every member of the family.

Prune Upside Down Cake.

Take one egg, one-half cup white sugar, one cup flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one-fourth cup milk or water, one teaspoon vanilla, soaked prunes that have been pitted, two tablespoons melted shortening, two tablespoons melted butter, one-half cup brown sugar and one-fourth cup chopped nuts.

Beat egg until light, add sugar; beat until creamy. Sift together twice, flour and baking powder; add to egg mixture alternately with milk. Beat well, add melted shortening and vanilla. Melt butter in iron frying pan; spread brown sugar and nuts evenly over pan; cover with drained and pitted prunes. Pour on cake batter and bake in a moderate oven.

MUTTON IS A FAVORITE IN MERRIE ENGLAND

Shoulder, Leg or Loin, Roasted or Boiled, Mutton Is Savory.

Few meats are more savory than mutton. But American cooks, with few exceptions, give mutton little consideration in menu building. For Sunday dinner nothing is nicer than a boiled leg of mutton or a stuffed shoulder of mutton.

Stuffed Shoulder of Mutton.

Purchase a four or five pound shoulder of mutton and have it boned. Prepare two cups of whole wheat stale bread crumbs, one cup of cooked prunes and one cup of mashed potatoes. Season with pepper and salt to taste.

Mix crumbs with seasonings, potatoes and prunes; fill cavity in shoulder of mutton. Roll, tie loosely at both ends and in center. Dredge with flour, place in a hot oven to sear for 15 minutes. Then reduce heat to moderate and continue cooking for three hours.

Boiled leg of mutton is nice served with minted currant jelly. Take two glasses of currant jelly and one cup chopped fresh mint.

Place jelly in top of double boiler to melt. Wash very clean and drain mint; chop fine. Add to melted jelly; mix thoroughly and pour into bowl to set.

The process of boiling a leg of mutton is as follows:

Wipe meat; place in kettle and cover with boiling water. Add small piece bayleaf and medium-sized onion. When boiling point is reached lower flame and keep at boiling point until meat is tender. Add one teaspoon salt when nearly done.

PITTSBURG POTATOES

An Appealing Way to Prepare Potatoes in Cold Weather.

Have you ever tasted Pittsburg potatoes? If not, then make them for dinner this evening using this recipe. Four cups diced potatoes, three tablespoons minced onion, one teaspoon salt, one pimiento, two cups milk, four tablespoons flour, four tablespoons butter, one-half teaspoon pepper and one-half cup grated cheese.

Boil potatoes with minced onion until tender, add one-half of salt and the pimiento; cook five minutes longer. Drain and put in baking dish. Make sauce of flour, remainder of salt, butter, pepper and milk. Add cheese, pour over potatoes and bake in hot oven 15 minutes.

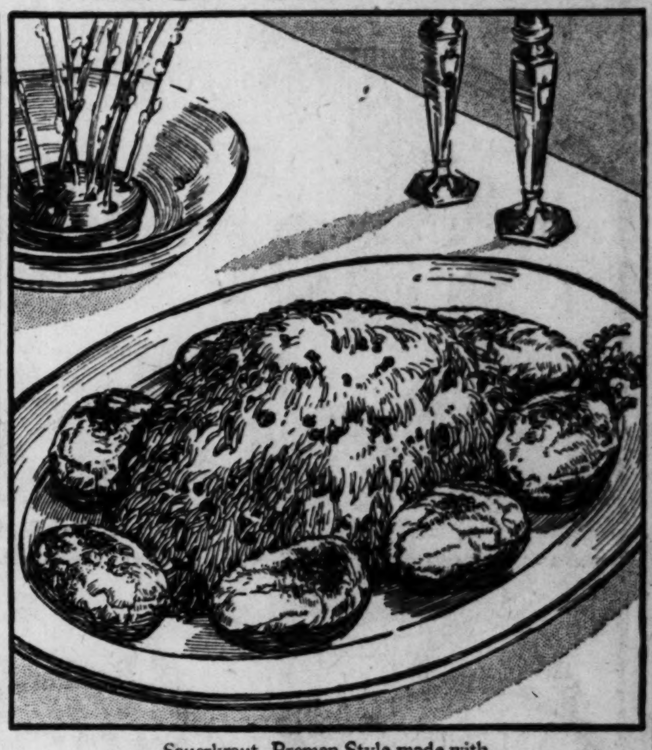
Libby's Timely Suggestions

by Mary Hale Martin

EVERY FRIDAY as part of our recipe and information service we offer these columns appearing in this paper. All recipes have been tested in our experimental kitchen by Mary Hale Martin, Cooking Correspondent.



Sauerkraut, Bremen Style made with Libby's Sauerkraut (see recipe below)

Adding new interest to the salad

New flavor, new appeal in standard salads! So easy to accomplish by little touches in the dressing.

Take, for example, the ordinary French dressing. Here are a few of the additions that may be made to it. Any one of them will give new life and interest to the entire salad. Chopped pickle, olives, green pepper, pimiento, cheese, or hard cooked egg. Or, if a seasoning only is preferred: tabasco sauce, catchup, onion sauce, or Worcestershire sauce, etc.

Try these variations. They'll give all types of salad a new attractiveness. Mary Hale Martin, Cooking Correspondent, Libby, McNeill & Libby, Dept. PD-26, Welfare Bldg., Chicago.

A party salad from Dixie

Piquant and colorful—this dish from a land traditional for its good things to eat! Mrs. D. S. Driskell, of Juliette, Georgia, sent the recipe for Ginger Ale Salad printed below. Her friends are all delighted with the combination. A festive blending of several dainty foods in gelatine. Just the thing for your next party. "Inexpensive, easy to make, and very good," writes Mrs. Driskell.

For mellow flavor and enticing sweetness in a mixture of fruits, each of which has been fully sun-ripened on the tree, Mrs. Driskell uses Libby's Fruits for Salad in this recipe. Try them!

Ginger Ale Salad

1 cup ginger ale 1 tbsp. gelatine
¼ cup cold water 3 tbsps. sugar
1 tbsp. lemon juice
Few grains cayenne ¼ tsp. salt
2 cups Libby's Fruits for Salad
1 piece preserved ginger

Place gelatine in cold water. Dissolve over steam. Add to ginger ale. Then add lemon juice, sugar and cayenne. Chill. When mixture begins to stiffen, fold in ginger and Fruits for Salad, to which salt has been added. Chill thoroughly in molds. Serve with mayonnaise. (Serves six)

New health dishes nearly everyone likes

THE precious vitamins A, B, C—roughage—valuable mineral salts! You get them all in these tempting, new dishes. Dishes that help give proper balance to your winter diet. Each is made with sauerkraut, at present one of the most widely advocated health foods. A food that nearly everyone likes!

You'll be specially interested in the recipe for Sauerkraut, Bremen Style, illustrated above. Delicate ribbons of sauerkraut—savory morsels of seasoned, fried meat—served with piping hot baked potatoes. The novel cocktail recipe printed below was created by Mrs. D. Ray Powell, Sturgeon, Michigan. A stimulating combination that opens any meal with a flourish of wholesome piquancy. And then we have the recipe for a simple, attractive oven dish: bacon and sauerkraut with tomato juice over all. One whiff of its steaming fragrance tells a story of special goodness.

For a sauerkraut of just-right acid tang—not too sharp, not too salty—use Libby's. Made of tender white shreds of the very heart leaves of fine cabbage. Processed and packed by masters in the art of making sauerkraut. For really likable health dishes you know your family will enjoy, serve Libby's Sauerkraut in the ways described below.

Sauerkraut, Bremen Style

1 No. 2½ can Libby's Sauerkraut
2 cups left-over meat, ground
1 medium sized onion, minced
1 tsp. salt Dash of pepper
4 tbsps. bacon drippings
6 baked potatoes

Heat Sauerkraut in can 15 minutes. Season meat, add onion and fry in bacon drippings until nicely browned. Combine with Sauerkraut and serve with baked potatoes. (Serves six)

Sauerkraut Cocktail, Powell

1 No. 2 can Libby's Sauerkraut
½ cup Libby's Catchup
Parsley

Fill sherbet or cocktail glasses half full with Sauerkraut. Pour Catchup over top. Garnish with sprig of parsley. Serve cold. (Serves six)

Creole Sauerkraut

1 No. 2½ can Libby's Sauerkraut
6 slices bacon
1 cup Libby's Tomato Juice

Put Sauerkraut in baking dish; cover with bacon. Over all pour Tomato Juice. Bake until bacon is crisp (about 20 min.) (Serves six)

Novel dessert for the children's lunch box

New sparkle and appeal for the ordinary lunch kit! Airy-light rolls with a ribbon of spicy apple butter wound round and round in an interesting curlicue. And how the youngsters like them! My own like to sneak an extra one into the box when they think I'm not looking.

You'll make these rolls doubly tempting if you use Libby's Apple Butter. Made from juicy apples, sugar, real cinnamon and other fine spices. Free of fiber. Always uniform in spicy richness. Try it in this recipe.

Apple Butter Rolls

2 cups flour
3 tsps. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
4 tbsps. fat
¾ cup Libby's Evaporated Milk, diluted with ¼ cup water
1 No. 2½ can Libby's Apple Butter

Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in fat until mixture is crumbly. Add Milk. Mix to soft dough. Roll to ½ inch thickness on floured board. Spread generously with Apple Butter. Roll as for jelly roll. Cut in ¾ inch slices. Bake in hot oven (450°F) until golden brown. (Makes 10 rolls)

"The Easiest Dessert I Ever Made

..But the Children Like It the Best!"

"THEY call it EZEWAY and it certainly is the simplest DESSERT I've ever tried. The 8 minutes it takes seems like nothing! And best of all, the children loved it! They simply begged for more."

EZEWAY DESSERT is not only delightfully "different" and creamy, but is extremely easy to digest. Dieticians say that it is an ideal dessert for growing children as well as grown-ups.

All you do is empty a 10c package of EZEWAY into a pan with milk and cook for 8 minutes. No fuss or bother. No eggs or sugar to add. Made in the morning and kept in the refrigerator, you are ready for any emergency; or it may be hurriedly prepared at the last minute—it is ready in the few minutes necessary for cooling!

The Week's Prize Simplified Baking Recipe

A Joy to Inexperienced Housewives

Cake Mixing Time, this enticing CHOCOLATE ROLL, 8 minutes

Mrs. Taylor Thompson pleased with her Chocolate Roll, says: "'Kitchen-tested' flour insures perfect results."

An Adventure in "Kitchen-tested" Baking

It's 98% certain that you can make a Chocolate Roll like this, due to a new way in baking. Of the first 100 women who tried it, 98 succeeded perfectly. And the two who failed blamed their own mistakes, not the recipe!

By the development of an utterly new type of flour—Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Flour—baking has been simplified amazingly for housewives. And the cause of most baking disappointments banished.

"Kitchen-tested" means that every batch of this flour has been tested in an oven just like yours, before it goes to you. Tested for uniformity of result with home recipes.

That means Gold Medal Flour always acts the same way EVERY TIME with your recipes.

Ask your grocer for GOLD MEDAL "Kitchen-tested" Flour. For perfect results, be sure and get that brand of flour before you try this recipe.

-----------------------Cut out along this line and save-----------------------

RECIPE . . . . Chocolate Roll

3 eggs, ¼ tsp. cream of tartar, ½ cup sugar, 2 tbsp. cocoa, 2 tbsp. GOLD MEDAL "KITCHEN-TESTED" FLOUR, ⅛ tsp. salt, ½ tsp. vanilla, powdered sugar.

METHOD: 1. Beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold a point, adding cream of tartar while they are foamy. 2. Gradually add half the sugar, beating it in. 3. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. 4. Add remaining sugar to egg yolks and beat thoroughly. 5. Sift cocoa, flour and salt together, add to yolk mixture and beat thoroughly. 6. Add vanilla. 7. Fold into egg white mixture. 8. Line a baking sheet with well greased wrapping paper and spread mixture over paper not more than ½ inch thick and bake. 9. When baked, remove from oven, turn upside down on towel or cloth sprinkled with powdered sugar. Remove paper quickly and while cake is still hot, roll loosely in towel as for jelly roll, but without adding filling. The towel powdered with sugar can be rolled in with the cake to prevent roll sticking together. 10. When cake is thoroughly cooled and just before serving, unroll and spread with filling. Roll again and place on platter for serving. 11. Serve with hot chocolate sauce. TIME: Bake 20 minutes. TEMPERATURE: 325° F., very moderate oven. AMOUNT: 6 servings. SIZE OF PAN: 8 x 11 inches. NOTE—For more servings this recipe may be doubled. 5 eggs may be used instead of 6 eggs in this doubled recipe. Filling for Chocolate Roll: 1 cup whipping cream, 2 tbsp. powdered sugar, ½ tsp. vanilla. METHOD: Whip cream very stiff, add the sugar and vanilla and spread on chocolate roll as directed. Hot Chocolate Sauce: 1 sq. unsweetened chocolate, 2 tbsp. light corn syrup, 1 tbsp. butter, ⅓ cup boiling water, 1 cup sugar, ½ tsp. vanilla. METHOD: 1. Melt chocolate over hot water. 2. Add corn syrup, butter and, very slowly, the boiling water. 3. Add sugar and stir until sugar is dissolved. 4. Bring to boiling point and boil 5 minutes. 5. Add vanilla and serve over chocolate roll.

SERVE CREAM SOUPS AT WINTER MEALS

Such a Beverage Is Very Appetizing for the First Course.

The growing custom to open formal cold weather dinners with a cream soup suggests that recipes for these nourishing beverages are in order.

Cream of Corn Soup.

One can corn, one quart milk, one-half cup chopped parsley, three tablespoons flour, one-third cup butter, one teaspoon salt and one-third cup grated onion.

Cream butter, flour and salt thoroughly. Add milk and place over flame till it reaches boiling point. Add onion and corn; cook gently over very low flame 15 minutes. Serve with rounds of buttered toast.

Cream of Celery Soup.

Break three stalks of celery into pieces and mash. Scald three cups milk with a slice of onion, remove the onion. Cook the celery and milk together for 15 minutes. Brown two tablespoons of flour in two tablespoons of butter. Gradually add the celery liquid to the browned flour and stir in one cup of cream to make a smooth thick soup. Season well and serve with chopped parsley sprinkled over each serving.

Cream of Mushroom Soup.

Take one-half pound of mushrooms or an equal amount of canned mushrooms, one quart chicken soup, one cup cream, two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour and salt and pepper to taste.

Simmer the mushrooms, chopped or sliced, in one tablespoon of butter for 10 minutes. Brown the flour in the other tablespoon of butter and stir in a little of the hot soup. Then add the mushrooms and the rest of the soup. Heat all together and add the cream and season quite highly to bring out the flavor of the mushrooms.

Cream of Tomato Soup.

Sift one pint can of tomatoes and add to a saucepan in which two tablespoons of butter and four tablespoons of flour have been blended to a smooth paste. Cook whole until thick, stirring constantly. Season with two teaspoons of salt, one teaspoon pepper and one tablespoon of sugar. Add gradually, one quart of hot milk. Keep stirring until the whole boils. Vigorous and persevering stirring after milk is added, no matter what alarming happenings take place in the saucepan, will make a smooth uncurdled soup.

HOT FRUIT SOUPS FEATURED AT NIGHT CLUB CAFES

They Are a Development of the Iced Soups Served in Summer.

People who frequent the modernistic downtown cafes that cater to the evening dinner and supper crowd will notice that fruit soups are being included in the meal menus.

Fruit soups are easily made besides having the additional attraction of being a novelty.

A very dainty fruit soup is made with one cup dried apples, one cup prunes, one-half cup currants, one-half cup raisins, one-fourth teaspoon salt, eight tablespoons sago, five quarts cold water, one cup dark syrup, one teaspoon grated lemon rind.

Wash fruit clean and soak overnight in water. In the morning stone prunes; return to kettle; let slowly come to boiling point and simmer gently one and a half hours. Add syrup, salt, lemon rind, sago, and cook gently till sago is clear, about 45 minutes; it should not boil hard. Dumplings may be served with this soup.

DRIED FRUIT OF ALL KINDS IS VERY USEFUL IN WINTER

Their True Food Value Not Appreciated by All Family Cooks.

During the winter months when a variety of fresh fruits is hard to obtain, and expensive, remember that the dried fruits offer a good means of preparing and serving economical and nourishing desserts, salads and breakfast dishes. Modern methods of drying have made these flavorful and wholesome products.

Dates, raisins, prunes, peaches, apricots and figs are the best known of the dried fruits.

Raisins, dates and figs cooked very slowly until tender need no added sugar and make delicious sauces for rice or used for blanc mange or bread puddings.

They may also be used as a fruit course, or used as filling for pies or tarts.

Pumpkin Bread Pudding.

Two cups stale bread crumbs, three cups milk, one-fourth cup sugar, three-fourths cup pumpkin, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon ginger, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, two eggs.

Cook the crumbs, milk, sugar and pumpkin for half an hour. Cool slightly; add the spices, salt, lemon rind and beaten eggs. Turn into greased baking dish and bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes. Serve hot with hard sauce.

A WEEK'S MARKETING AND HOW TO BUY IT.

Careful Planning Will Help Housewives to Economize.

Most persons will agree that planning, preparing and serving three meals a day is a real job, and that it can be made simpler if we can so plan that our marketing can be done for several days at a time rather than meal by meal.

This week's menus have been considered more as a unit than from the individual meal standpoint. The marketing trips, if you have good refrigeration and storage space, can be cut down to two or three.

On Saturday, when marketing for Sunday, buy a large enough piece of veal to do for Monday as well. The left-over veal is to be cut in small pieces, mixed with a well-seasoned white sauce and served in a noodle ring. The remnants of the veal, together with the left-over pork, are utilized in making the meat pies that are served for dinner on Wednesday.

Enough of the staple vegetables such as potatoes, onions and canned goods for the week should be bought on Saturday. Apples, oranges and other citrus fruits, as well as the prunes and apricots, dried lima beans, celery and lettuce, may also be purchased on Saturday for the weekly menu. Celery that is washed may be wrapped in a damp cloth or a piece of parchment paper, or put in a dish with a very small amount of water, and kept in the icebox for four or five days. Lettuce may be kept in the same way.

Vegetable meals have been planned for dinner on Thursday and for most of the luncheons. The winter vegetables, dried lima beans and canned foods are all used to give as much variety as possible.

In this week's meals I have used eggs as a main item of food on three different occasions, and also occasionally in cooking.

The shellfish, and the deep-water fish, such as cod and haddock, are good sources of iodine and vitamins, and for that reason should be used often. Oysters are the most popular form of shellfish, and, as they can be obtained either in fresh or canned form in practically all parts of the country, I have used them for Sunday night supper. Boiled codfish is served on Friday with parsley sauce.

When serving any of the white-fleshed fish some contrast in color should be provided in a sauce or in the vegetables. The parsley sauce gives this contrast while the peas and carrots and the cranberry pie also help. Furthermore, the acid in the cranberries provides the necessary contrast in flavor to offset the blandness of the first part of the meal. The remnants of the fish are used to make the croquettes for Saturday's lunch.

On Thursday night pea soup is the first course. This may be made either from dried peas or canned peas. Either one will fit in with the rest of the foods planned for that meal, and the choice depends entirely on individual taste.

EQUIVALENT MEASUREMENTS

Success of Cooked Dishes Depends Upon Measuring Ingredients.

Three level teaspoons equal one tablespoon.

Sixteen level tablespoons equal one cup.

Two cups equal one pint.

Two cups sugar equal one pound.

Two cups fat equal one pound.

Four cups flour equal one pound.

Sixteen oz. (ounces) equal one pound.

HOT PRUNE SHORTCAKE IS A TEMPTING DESSERT

Especially Suitable for Luncheon Or to Follow a Light Dinner.

Pick over one quart of prunes, wash, add one cup of hot water, cover and boil for 40 minutes. Add one-half cup of sugar and the grated rind of half an orange and boil for 10 minutes longer and wash.

Remove from the fire and cool. Mix and sift two cups of flour, three teaspoons of baking powder, one teaspoon of salt, and two tablespoons of sugar. Rub in one-half cup of shortening, and then add one beaten egg and about one-half cup of milk, or enough to make a dough that can be easily handled.

Turn out on a floured board, pat to one-half inch thickness, and cut into small rounds with a biscuit cutter. Place in a greased pan and bake in a hot oven for 12 minutes.

Cool slightly, split each shortcake, butter lightly, and put a generous layer of the cooked fruit between and on top. Serve with a garnish of whipped cream, or with thick, plain cream.

Score at end of first half—Washington, 24; Oklahoma Aggies, 4. Referee—Millard.

By Jerry Bernoudy

With Ed "Moose" Meyer sinking baskets from all angles of the court, the Washington University five easily defeated the Oklahoma Aggies, 43-15, at the field house last night before a small crowd of 1500 spectators. The victory was the third straight for the Bears in Missouri Valley competition.

The Bruin forward garnered a total of 26 points, a near record, on nine field goals and eight free tosses. His scoring alone would have been too much for the Stillwater tossers who gave a farcial exhibition of basketball. The Bears, on the other hand, worked as a co-ordinated machine for the first time since returning from Iowa. Although on the face, the bulk of the honors go to Meyer, it was in reality the excellent passing of Don White's athletes which time and again gave the elongated forward opportunities to score setups.

Use Slow Breaking Offense.

The locals' slow breaking offense plays threw the Aggie defense out of gear early in the game, and by half time, the Bruins had piled up a lead of 24-4. While the Bears were counting frequently, mainly at close range, the visitors were forced to shoot from far out. After White's goal 15 seconds following the inaugural tip-off, the Aggies failed to count another field toss during the first period.

The game was marred by the rough play of the Oklahomans who committed 16 personal fouls. Both of the visitors' starting guards were ejected from the contest for exceeding the allowed number of personal offenses.

Captain White, who scored seven points to be high point man for his team was the only Aggie player to exhibit a collegiate brand of basketball. The remainder of the team, resembled a high school aggregation.

Kurz and Duncan Star.

Kurz and Duncan played excellent games at the guard positions for Washington. The latter player made several valiant attempts to break into the field goal scoring column for the first time this season, but on two attempts the ball rolled around the edge of the hoop and then bounced out.

Shortly before the end of the first half and again about the middle of the second period, White replaced Joe Hohn with Ed Meier at the pivot position for the Bears, and for the short time that the latter was given an opportunity to perform he handled himself well.

Washington will rest for eight days now before opposing the Missouri Tigers here a week from tomorrow night.

Billiken Coach Will Use Regulars Against Aggies

The St. Louis University basketball team reached its best form of the present season last Monday in defeating Washington and a duplication of its fine team play should extend the Oklahoma Aggies at the St. Louis U. gymnasium tonight. Starting time is 8:30 o'clock.

In playing the Aggies the Billikens will attempt to gain their third straight victory and their seventh of the season. St. Louis lost to Loyola and North Dakota in succession but by very narrow margins in each instance.

After tonight, the Billikens will be idle until a week from tomorrow when St. Xavier, which is represented by an exceptionally strong team this season will play at the St. Louis gymnasium. Concordia and Drake, next on the schedule, are not expected to prove difficult. Concordia has lost three straight while the Billikens defeated Drake earlier in the season.

The lineups:

AGGIES	Position.	ST. LOUIS U.
White	R. F.	Strong
McMichall	L. F.	Oldfield
Choate	C.	Drury
Halfest	R. G.	Hunt
Davidson	L. G.	Joyce

Bear Swimmers Oppose Iowa in Meet, Tomorrow

Coach Karl Bauer and his Washington University swimmers will depart tonight for Iowa City, where they will engage the University of Iowa paddlers in a dual meet Saturday night. The contest will be the first of the season for both teams.

Washington, six times winner of the Missouri Valley title, again has a formidable team with eight letter men back. Bauer is not fully satisfied with the condition of his athletes, but considers them sufficiently advanced for this stage in the season. ciation swimming meet.

The swimmers expected to make the trip to Iowa follow:

200-yard relay—Charles Skinner, Homer Heideman, Paul Kunkel, Howard Sample.

200-yard breaststroke — Bob Brenner, Gleon Curtis.

50-yard crawl—Howard Sample, Paul Kunkel.

440-yard free style—Charles Skinner, Pat Frank.

150-yard backstroke — Captain Homer Heideman.

100-yard free style—Howard Sample, Fred Moore, Pat Frank.

Diving—Lester Nauert, C. F. Wolfe.

300-yard medley relay—Homer Heideman, Bob Brenner, Charles Skinner.

Meet Will Be Broadcast.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

IOWA CITY, Ia., Jan. 18.—Something new in "play-by-play" accounts will be on the air tomorrow night, when the University of Iowa swimming team opens its season against the Washington University paddlers of St. Louis.

Station WSUI, the Hawkeye broadcasting station, will relay over the air a running story of the meet, the first of the sort ever attempted for intercollegiate tank duals.

Only two major letter winners will be in the Iowa lineup, Crookham and Van Horn beng entered for the sprints. Capt. Bender, fancy diver and winner of a minor letter last season, probably will be unable to compete because of a badly wrenched shoulder. Boyd Liddle of Davenport, versatile sophomore, who bears most of the Iowa hopes, will take part in the dives as well as in the free-style events.

Liddle, as a freshman at Iowa won the Midwest A. A. U. fancy diving championship last summer, and competed in that event with the yearling team. He had concentrated on the free-style races this season, however.

Records Give Bass Edge Over Rivers in Bout Here, Tonight

By Dent McSkimming

When Joie Rivers, the Kansas City Mexican, met "Peewee" Kaiser, leading St. Louis featherweight, about two months ago, the students of boxing said, "Joie's a fine boy but he's going to be outclassed." Rivers was not outclassed. In the opinion of some critics he won the bout.

Then came another day. Rivers was matched with Eddie Anderson, one of the leading featherweights of the country. Again it was agreed, "Joie's a willing fighter but he's outclassed." Again Rivers made the wise guys eat their words. He beat Anderson. Today, in most places where fight fans congregate, the opinion seems to be "Joie's a tough led and a good boxer but tonight Bass will give him the beating of his life." Now, the question is, can Rivers keep right on fooling the boys who make predictions.

Bass Carries the Attack.

There is no avoiding the fact that in meeting Benny Bass at the Coliseum, Rivers is undertaking the biggest job of his fight career. If form holds true, Bass, former 126-pound champion, should have much the best of the boxing and the punching. The chief difference between Bass and the two men Rivers recently beat is that Bass will never cease to carry the fight to his foe. Neither Kaiser nor Anderson kept up a sustained offensive although each, in his own way, gave Joie all he could handle at times.

Bass, in his attack, carries the power and the aggressiveness of a miniature Dempsey. He swings with both hands from all points of the compass and he doesn't land any love taps.

Davie Abad lasted 10 rounds with Bass last Monday night at Philadelphia but the only way he did it was by holding. Rivers doesn't hold. If he isn't punching he's getting punched. If he can beat Bass to the punch it should be a great fight, excelling in fast action the recent Rivers-Anderson bout.

There is no advantage on either side as to weight. They are both under the 128-pound agreement. Both are strongly knit, Bass appearing the heavier because his muscles about the shoulders and biceps are bulkier. Rivers, as most St. Louis fight fans have learned, has a surprising store of reserve energy. He can take a lot of pounding about the head or body without showing any signs of distress.

Sansone Opposes McGill.

In addition to the main go, which will be of 10 rounds, or less, there will be two other especially attractive bouts. Irish Mickey Gill, flyweight champion of Canada, now fighting at 118 pounds, will oppose Mike Sansone, the hard-hitting St. Louis bantam. Joe Ghnouly, most promising of the little men developed here in recent years, will oppose Billy Knowles, a lad who has had a great deal more experience than Ghnouly.

Arlie Kanupp and Nick Dennis are booked for six rounds at 128 pounds and Jimmy Reid will meet Bob Green in a four-rounder. They weigh 163 pounds. A colorful four-rounder is promised in the opening bout when Kid Snowball meets Eight Ball.

Walter Heisner and Harry S. Sharpe will referee, alternating in bouts. The first event is scheduled to start promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

TONIGHT'S BOXING CARD AT COLISEUM

Lassman May Coach

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Chick Meehan, head football coach at New York University, hopes to have Al Lassman, captain of the Violets' 1928 team, back as assistant line coach next season. Meehan said he would ask the board of control to offer a position on the coaching staff to the giant tackle who now is recovering from head injuries suffered in the Carnegie Tech game Nov. 24.

Dallas Buys Catcher

By the Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 18.—Purchase of Don Benn, catcher, from Akron of the Central League was announced yesterday by the Dallas, Tex., League baseball club. Benn had a batting average of .355 last season.

Referee—Sills.

By W. J. McGoogan

The Flyers, St. Louis representatives in the American Hockey Association, will get a much needed rest for the next three days before tackling Minneapolis in a 2-game series next Monday and Tuesday. After the four tough contests with the league leading Kansas City team, the locals need a layoff.

Kansas City finished its St. Louis season last night at the Winter Garden, and by some hard playing, plus good fortune, was able to hold the Flyers to a 1 to 1 tie. That tie was the best the Flyers were able to get in the four games.

The Flyers showed to much better advantage than on the previous evening. But for the fact that Headley and Goyer were both chased off the ice at the same time in the last period, the Flyers probably would have won.

Up to that point St. Louis was ahead 1 to 0 due to a goal scored by Chief Boileau in the second period on a pass from Larry Goyer. The Flyers worked hard to protect that lead and were successful until the game had but five minutes to go. Then Referee Sills banished Goyer for tripping and sent Headley to the cooler immediately after for an illegal check.

Munro Ties the Score.

This left but four men on the ice for St. Louis. Kansas City made a determined effort to score and was successful in driving the puck past Anderson. Monro standing directly in front of the St. Louis net and about five yards out, took a pass from Dutkowski from behind the net and slammed home the tying marker.

Neither was able to count in the extra 10 minutes, although the Pla-Mors exerted every effort. They bounced four hard shots at Anderson, but he cleared them all. The Flyers made only two shots for a goal. Both were long ones and Byrne had no trouble stopping them.

The first period was scoreless, although both teams played fast and interesting hockey. Boileau started at defense for the Flyers in place of Headley, and the Chief's energetic checking did much to prevent a Kansas City tally. Breen also played well, and with Anderson making one good stop after another, Kansas City was halted.

Kansas City was just as effective in blocking the Flyers. Byrne made several good stops. Once Boileau eluded the Pla-Mor defense men, but his shot at the goal hit the post and bounced away.

Boileau First to Score.

Starting the second period, Boileau was sent to forward and Headley returned to the defense. The Flyers drove hard at the Kansas City goal and Boileau taking a pass from Goyer sent the puck home less than two minutes after the session began.

Only about 1800 people attended.

There will be four games here next week. Minneapolis calls for a pair Monday and Tuesday. St. Paul comes to the Winter Garden Friday and Saturday.

Capt. Jim Seaborn, who has been out for some time with a broken bone in his leg, expects to return in the St. Paul contests.

After these games only four are scheduled for St. Louis for the remainder of the season.

Tulsa and Millers Tie

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TULSA, Ok., Jan. 18. — Tulsa and Minneapolis hockey clubs of the American Association played to a scoreless overtime tie here last night in a fast and hard fought game. It was the opening game of a 2-game series.

Both teams played tight hockey and seldom did either open up. It was due to the remarkable work of the two men in the nets, Red McCusker for Tulsa, and Winkler for Minneapolis, that neither sextet tallied.

Basket Coach Tells How To Use Three-Lane Attack

Herewith is the thirty-fourth of a series of instructive articles on basketball, written for the Post-Dispatch by C. O. Benson, assistant coach of Washington University. Others will follow.

By C. O. Benson,

Of Washington U. Coaching Staff.

34—DEVELOPMENT OF THREE LANE ATTACK.

IN order to obtain a smooth working three-lane attack in the shortest possible time, the offense must be practiced in sequence so that the team moulds itself into a unit. Therefore the steps to practice are as follows:

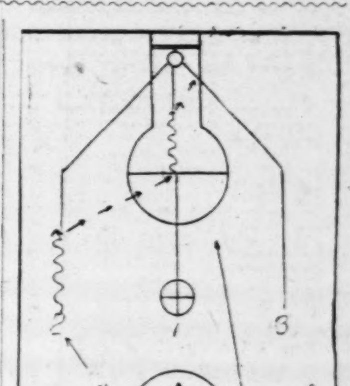
First step: The No. 5 guard should practice his outlet pass from the defensive basket to the No. 2 man, who is at the center of the floor near the side line. The guard should use either a hook or shoulder pass.

Second step: The No. 4 man passing to the No. 3 man, using the hook and shoulder pass. Be sure to make accurate passes.

Third step: Start 2, 1, 3, at the center of the floor and work the ball down to the basket running in parallel lines using the push pass. Be sure to cut toward the basket near the foul line. Later add two guards with only passive guarding and later active guarding. Be sure the offense runs hard.

Fourth step: Same as third, only adding the offensive guards. Work the ball from defensive basket to offensive basket. Do not use the offensive guards unless it is essential. Add defensive men as attack gains perfection until you have five against five. Do not let the defense carry the ball back up the floor. Work on the offense first. Work on the offense long enough each day so that it becomes unconscious.

A team developed by this scheme will soon obtain unified team play.



Next—Long Pass Offense.

One Long Hop	112	5	3	6^{5}	6^{3}	D. McAuliffe	40.67
Minturn	119	4	7	7	7	C. McCrosson	92.76

Uncle Matt having speed from start benefited by racing in best going and closing fast and game, wore down Wave Top in the final furlong. Latter a keen factor from start, took short advantage after the first three-sixteenths and held on well but was overmatched. Parnell Bound tired. Brod's Buddy had no mishaps. Betty Ann swerved into the deep going in the stretch and tired.

$2 mutuels paid—Uncle Matt, win $10.92, place $5.62, show $3.64. Wave Top, place $4.22, show $3.82. Parnell Bound, show $3.54.

SECOND RACE—$1200, 4-year-olds and up, claiming, one and one-sixteenth miles. Start good, won driving, place same. Went to post 2:31. At post 1 minute. Winner, ch. f. 4 by Honeywood-Minnow. Trainer, W. J. Howard. Time, :25 2-5, :51 3-5, 1:18 1-5, 1:47, 1:55 1-5. Value to winner $850, second $200, third $100, fourth $50.

Madam Du Barry	120	7	6	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	F. Shropshire	[illegible]

Honeyfish raced into a long lead after five furlongs, began tiring after reaching the last eighth, but, under severe pressure, outstayed Turkey's Neck. Latter, never far back, moved up steadily and was wearing down the winner. Many Flaws had no mishaps. Scipio tired badly. Noble Wrack raced over worst going in early stages, where he was allowed to drop out of it, suffered from poor ride. Madam Du Barry raced wide and tired. St. Charles was done after a half mile.

$2 mutuels paid: Honeyfish, win $4.72, place $3.08, show $2.38; Turkey's Neck, place $9.42, show $5.96; Many Flaws, show $5.12.

THIRD RACE—$1200, 3-year-olds, claiming, six furlongs. Start good for all but Thunder Call, won easily, place driving. Went to post 3:01. At post 2 minutes. Winner, ch. c. 3 by Sea Rock-Lady London. Trainer, W. Knapp. Time, :24 3-5, :50 4-5, 1:19 4-5. Value to winner $850, second $200, third $100, fourth $50.

Corporal Seth	110	1	5	5	5	Bolted		R. Deprema	35.57
Thunder Call	110	6	6	Wheeled				F. Claneffer	3.44

London Rock raced improved, restrained to stretch, where he responded well and taking lead won with speed in reserve. Water Gap well up from start, held on well and outstayed Captain J. S. Latter disposed of Christie Flanigan after first quarter, took brief lead, but dropped back after reaching stretch, but was going gamely at end. Christie Flanigan had early speed. Corporal Seth bolted on the turn. Thunder Call wheeled at the start.

$2 mutuels paid: London Rock, win $31.36, place $11.12, show $6.24; Water Gap, place $61.20, show $11.40; Captain J. S., show $2.42.

DOZEN HORSES, OWNED IN U. S., IN STEEPLECHASE

By the Associated Press.

LIVERPOOL, England, Jan. 18.—The grand national steeplechase of 1929 will have a strong international flavor with crack jumpers from the United States, Ireland, France and Belgium to dispute the way with home-breds in the annual March classic. Although many of the 120 horses entered will be scratched before race time the probabilities are that none of the favorites will be withdrawn. The winner of the 1929 renewal probably will net 12,000 pounds.

Chief interest for Americans is the entry of Howard Bruce's Billy Barton, American-owned and bred, which put up such a great race last year, fell at the last fence but was remounted and finished second. He is stabled in the same quarters he occupied in 1928 and is under charge of Hon. Aubrey Hastings. Announcement of the weight allotments reveal that Billy Barton will shoulder 161 pounds, 10 more than last year.

Seven other American owners have entered among them 11 horses purchased in recent years with the direct hope of winning the Grand National.

Brights Boy to Carry 172

Gordon Selfridge again has entered Ruddyman; Stephen Sanford has Brights Boy which will carry 172 pounds, and Mount Etna; A. C. Schwartz will be represented by Darraco; J. H. Whitney by Easter Hero, which drew down top weight of 175 pounds, and the French horse, Maguelonne which won last year's Paris grand steeplechase; J. B. Balding by Drinmond; Ralph Heaver Strassburger by The Ace II., and M. D. Blair by Ballyhooley wood.

A comparative newcomer to English racing is Victor Emanuel, a young American, who has entered three candidates, Rhyticere, Pinephone and Royal Sport. Rhyticere ran second in the Paris steeplechase.

There are only two previous winners in the big entry list—the 1926 winner, H. S. Kanyon's Tipperary Tim, and Mrs. M. Partridge's Sprig which won in 1927.

The growing popularity of the gruelling steeplechase can be seen from the entries for the last few year. In 1925 they numbered 47, in 1926, 59; in 1927, 69; in 1928, 112, and this year, 120.

WISCONSIN TO SEND CREW TO REGATTA

By the Associated Press.

(Wire trouble delayed transmission of results of races at Miami and Havana this afternoon.)

WESTERN CONFERENCE BREAKS OFF RELATIONS WITH NATIONAL A. A. U.

BIG TEN TEAMS WILL NOT SEEK SANCTIONS FOR ATHLETIC MEETS

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—The Western conference has broken off relations with the Amateur Athletic Union of America and henceforth will conduct its own athletic meets independently, Maj. John L. Griffith, conference athletic commissioner, revealed today.

The action, which Maj. Griffith said was agreed to by every member of the conference, culminates a quarrel between the two organizations, which has been simmering for years but which reached its breaking point recently when Northwestern University and Ohio State rebelled at A. A. U. policies.

Refused to Grant Sanction.

Northwestern decided to break with the A. A. U. when the latter organization refused to sanction a swimming meet between the Purple and the Chicago Athletic Association because several of its swimmers had competed in an unsanctioned meet last summer. Ohio State followed suit yesterday when it decided to run the Ohio relays without seeking A. A. U. sanction as in the past.

"No longer will the Western conference bend under the yoke of the A. A. U.," Maj. Griffith told the Associated Press. "We are tired of its continual demands and its general attempts to dominate our affairs. Henceforth, we will conduct athletic meets with clubs and teams that we choose and will not pay the regular $10 tribute to obtain the heretofore required sanction.

"The Western conference is big enough to handle its own athletic affairs. It does not wish to govern; neither does it wish to be governed. It will strictly adhere to the amateur rules, of course, but will be totally independent of A. A. U. domination.

Has Overstepped Bounds.

"The A. A. U. was organized 40 years ago with a noble purpose—to foster amateur athletics. During the past decade, however, it has overstepped its bounds and acted as a muffler on the progress of amateur athletics. The Western conference can brook its interference no longer."

Maj. Griffith predicted the Big Ten's action soon would be followed by other members of the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association, which he said was tired of A. A. U. domination."

Avery Brundage, Chicago, president of the A. A. U., has defended his organization vigorously throughout its quarrels with the Western conference, asserting the union's only purpose was to guide and not to dominate amateur athletics.

Mrs. Jones and Miss Turpil in Southern Final

By the Associated Press.

EDGEWATER PARK, Miss., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Melvin Jones, Chicago, former Western champion, and Miss Marion Turpie, New Orleans, Southern champion, today advanced to the championship finals to be played tomorrow in the Pan-American womanr's amateur golf tournament. Mrs. Jones defeated Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, international star, 4 and 3, and Miss Turpie defeated Mrs. John Arends of Evanston, Ill., 6 and 4, in the semifinals.

Layton Victor Over Allan Hall

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Johnny Layton, world's three-cushion billiard champion, defeated Allan Hall of St. Louis in their three-day 300-point exhibition match completed here last night. The final score was Layton 300, Hall 287.

Hall won yesterday afternoon's block, 58 to 50, and Layton the evening block, 50 to 48.

EDGEMONT A. C. AND SLACKS MUST REPLAY DISPUTED SOCCER GAME

Ralph Thomas' Edgemont Athletic Club and Tom Macovey's Slacks have been ordered to replay their second half East St. Louis Municipal Soccer League game of Jan. 6, which was marred by a fistic exhibition.

This decision whittles Edgemont's margin of leadership over the Waverlys to one game, while the Slacks are a half game still further in the rear. Three regular Sunday programs and the replay tilt still remain to be played in the second half. Edgemont won the first half.

HANSEN, ILL WITH FLU, CANCELS ROCCO BOUT

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Knute Hansen, the melancholy Dane, has been stricken with influenza and will be unable to match punches with Emmett Rocco of Akron, O., in the semifinal match to the K. O. Christner-Jack Sharkey battle in Madison Square Garden next Friday night. Jack Gross, Camden, N. J., heavyweight, has been picked as a substitute.

Wray's Column

Look Who's Here!

ED LEWIS, who so ingloriously fouled out, the last time he went to bat for his championship, is in again. Undaunted by having lost his title twice to novices fresh from college, he is beating back again at the age of not far from 40, presumably toward a championship.

Ed is great on beating back. Ed has won the title three or four times after having previously lost it and there is little doubt entertained among the cognoscenti that he will pull his stunt once more.

* * *

Stecher beat Lewis; then Lewis beat Stecher. Then Zibby defeated Lewis, and Lewis turned about and beat the "grand old man." Fine "team work," as it were.

Then Big Munn took the crown from Lewis and, although Lewis beat Munn several times afterward, he didn't regain the title, then—because Old Man Zibby had slipped in and grabbed it away from Munn.

But you can't stop Big Ed once his mind is made up on beating back. For, after Zibby had lost the crown to Neuritis Joe Stecher and gained an alleged $40,000, Lewis ploughed through Stecher once more to regain the throne.

Lately Sonnenberg butted him off the same; but Ed'll be back. You simply can't keep Ed down, as long as he has a manager with the imagination possessed by Maurice Baumann, alias Billy Sandow.

* * *

Defending Is Ed's Long Suit.

WE must admit however, that Lewis has been a great man to have in the championship. Ed was always busy. He defended his title early and often. Anyfoe was O K. He even defended his crown against Tofalos, the Olympic champion weight-lifter of many, many years ago.

Why, in one year Ed defended his title against Renato Gardini no fewer than eight times and, if memory serves correctly, he defended it against Londos seven times in the same year. The fact that neither wrestler won more than a fall, at any time, didn't deter Ed from "defending" time and again against the same man.

History doesn't record exactly how many times during his title career Ed defended his kingship against Dick Daviscourt; but that it will top 20 there is little doubt.

So, if one wants a busy champion, Ed is the boy for the fans. No match can be dull with Lewis performing and he is a poor wrestler, indeed, whom Lewis can not make appear like a champion, in his shows.

A Real Rival?

ICE hockey has developed a rival. It is roller hockey, which, as an indoor sport, is probably more ancient than the ice variety.

Nearly 40 years ago roller Hockey enjoyed a great vogue. In New England colleges went in strong for this game which combined all the thrills and spills of ice hockey, with warmth and comfort for the spectators.

The New England colleges had a roller hockey league and games were played on the floors of the big armories, which not only afforded a fine skating surface, but ample seating capacity.

Because of its convenience and comfort for spectators, roller hockey has an initial advantage over ice hockey, even the indoor variety. But it falls short as a spectacle in that neither the speed nor the danger is as great.

SEABACK GAINS ON RALPH GREENLEAF IN POCKET-BILLIARD MATCH

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Charles Seaback, Canadian champion, cut heavily into Ralph Greenleaf's lead in their 1500-point pocket billiard match here yesterday. The blocks were evenly divided, but Seaback tallied 317 points to 249 by Greenleaf during the day. The macth total now stands: Greenleaf 1000, Seaback 844.

Greenleaf took the afternoon block, 137 to 123, in 11 innings, making a high run of 100. Seaback's best cluster was one of 22. In the night block Seaback gathered 194 while Greenleaf was accumulating 112 in nine innings. The high runs were Seaback 47, Greenleaf 45.

KAPPA GIRLS FIVE BEAT ZETA TEAM, 28-13

A large crowd saw the Kappa Girls' quintet defeat the Zeta Athletic Association five in the first game of a basketball double-header last night on the floor of Wheatley Branch Y. W. C. A. at Garrison and Lucas avenues. The score was 28 to 13.

In the second contest the Sumner High School Bulldogs were defeated by the Booster team.

Francis Named Captain.

By the Associated Press.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Jan. 18.—Ray Farris of Charlotte, N. C., termed by Coach Collins a "five threat" man, was yesterday elected Captain of the University of North Carolina football team for next season. Farris, an outstanding guard, is often called into the backfield to run, kick and pass.

WILLIAM MULDOON—Real Iron Man

Life Story of the 83-year-old Athlete

Jeffries Looked Like a Dub to Muldoon When Jim Made His New York Debut But He Took Title From Fitzsimmons.

By Ed Van Every.

Of the New York Evening World Sport Staff.

CHAPTER XXXI.

WHEN the heavyweight boxing title passed from Bob Fitzsimmons to James J. Jeffries on June 9, 1899, the crowning of a new champion came as a stunning surprise to practically everyone interested in the event. And the interest, as is usually the case on such occasions, was pretty general and extended well beyond the sports world. The result was no surprise to William Muldoon. The night before he had been called upon to tear the champion away from a drinking party and get him on his way back to his home at Bath Beach, over in Brooklyn, very much under the weather.

Jeffries had first come to Muldoon's atttention at Carson City while the giant boilermaker was acting as one of Jim Corbett's sparring partners in his training for the match with Fitzsimmons. It cannot be said that Muldoon was much impressed early with the possibilities of the man who was to be the conqueror of the conqueror of Corbett.

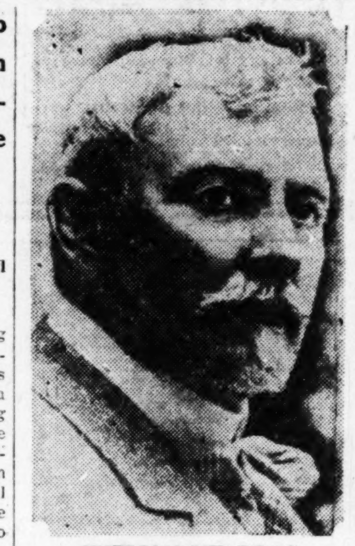
Jeff's New York Debut.

ON the occasion of his New York debut Jeff was scheduled to take on two men, Steve O'Donnell and Bob Armstrong, in 10-round bouts on the same night, and with a half-hour intermission between bouts.

"Jeffries did not shape up like the next champion that night," in the opinion of Muldoon. "He looked slow as a cart horse, and a very heavy-footed cart horse at that. Just the same, he knocked out Fitzsimmons only 10 months later."

Jeffries got the decision over Armstrong, a husky Negro heavy from Chicago who had been discovered by Parson Davis. Still, it was a disappointing victory. In the sixth round Jeffries was badly shaken by a hefty left hook to the body. After the contest was over Charley Harvey appeared and announced that Jeffries was unable to go through with the set-to with O'Donnell, as he had shattered his left thumb. There was much howling and catcalling.

So, when Fitzsimmons mentioned Jeffries prominently some months after as a possible opponent, there seemed to be a catch to the business. There was a strong feeling that the champion was sidestepping a return match with the man from whom he had won the title.



WILLIAM MULDOON

The "veriscope" pictures or early movies of the bout on their first showing in New York brought Muldoon in the public prints. There was no titling on the films, but a young man on the stage commented on the interesting points. When he got to the sixth round there was a slight interruption in the action of the picture which the "interpreter" explained was due to a controversy over the count while Fitzsimmons was down.

Muldoon Interrupts.

THEN came a buzz of excitement through the gathering, and when the lights were quickly turned up who should stride down to the stage but Muldoon. Several ushers and attendants sought to bar his way, but they were swept aside. Muldoon proceeded to let those present know that there had been no controversy over the count and that there was no occasion for any, and he ought to know best since he had been the timekeeper.

"Corbett could have taken advantage of this knockdown," admits Muldoon, "and have struck Fitz while he was on the floor in the position he was. A man is not legally floored unless he is 'three points' down—one knee and both hands or one hand and both knees must touch the canvas. Bob had one knee down, but both hands were free of the floor."

This point was never much in the argument, though Brady made some outburst to the effect that Fitzsimmons had been given the benefit of a long count when he was downed. Little stock was taken in this charge, but many were firmly of the belief that a chance blow had deprived Corbett of a sure victory. However, most every one who witnessed the battle seemed to agree with Muldoon that Fitzsimmons started to look like the winner from the seventh round of that contest.

In face of all this argument, and in spite of the poor showing of Jeffries the year previous against Armstrong, or possibly because of it, Fitzsimmons went into the match with the husky boilermaker. The champion doubtless figured this match would provide a good workout for him after his two-year-lay-off. The champion was a 2 to 1 favorite to win.

Politics Takes a Hand.

FOR a time it looked as though politics would take a hand in preventing the match. A strong effort had been made to persuade the champion to box in the Lenox A. C., in which club State Senator "Dry Dollar" Sullivan was known to be interested. When the match went to the Coney Island A. C., Chief of Police William S. Devery announced that the law would be immediately enforced if there was a knockdown scored or other undue violence in evidence. The Horton law, he pointed out, only tolerated glove contests, not prize fights.

The New York Evening World, in cartoon and pointed story, proceeded to call attention to the fact that Devery had taken no such stand in the matches arranged for the Lenox Club and cited the Sharkey-McCoy contest, in which the latter had been a decisively knocked-out party.

There was everything in the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons bout in the way of hard fist fighting that goes to make a physically vehement conflict. Devery sat at the ringside and saw the champion knocked down in the second round and knocked out in the eleventh, but he made no move to interfere. The bold fashion in which The Evening World had touched on the business and the pertinent questions its columns had asked seemed to subdue this Police Department majesty.

Far back in the dark recess of a passageway, as the tide of battle waged, the wife of the man who climbed into the ring a champion waved a handkerchief in encouragement to her man. She stood bravely by when Fitzsimmons went down in the second. She told herself that her Bob would get up and fight on just as he had after he had been droppel by Corbett. But in the third her nervousness was too intense and she went back to Bob's dressing room, until she could stand it no longer and she was back in the passageway again watching, watching. In and out of the dressing room until finally Bob fell and this time could not get up. Then she rushed back into the dressing room and waited until he had been brought to her. Arms more loyal than Bob had truly appreciated gathered his battered and bloody head to her.

"She was a Jim-dandy, was Rose Julian." There was something fairly reverent in Muldoon's tribute.

Forward Ford Jumps St. Louis Pro Basket Five

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 18.—Fred Ford, forward of the St. Louis American professional basketball team, "jumped" the five here last night and has joined the Rail-Lites, local team that fell before the St. Louisans by an overwhelming score last week. Ford is the first man of the original team to leave the squad that left St. Louis on its successful road trip three weeks ago.

Although his loss will be felt, Manager Gockel said that it would not alter the plans of the club. Gockel intimated that Ford could perhaps be spared easier than any other man on the team inasmuch as he was strictly an offensive man.

Ford was not the only player on the St. Louis team approached by the Rail-Lite officials.

The Americans play at Alexander City, Ala., tonight and Cleveland, Tenn., tomorrow night.

REDUCED RAILROAD RATES PROMISED FOR FLORIDA HEAVY BOUT

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 18.—Fight fans will have the help of the railroads in reaching the Sharkey-Stribling fight here Feb. 27. Round trip rates of a one-way fare plus 25 cents have been approved by the Southeastern carriers. The same rates will be submitted to the other carrier associations, so the same proposition may be available to fight-hungry fans throughout the country.

This information was submitted to Jack Dempsey, the promoter and William F. Carey, vice president and treasurer of Madison Square Garden by W. J. Craig, passenger traffic manager of the Atlantic Coast Lines.

All the Southern carriers have approved the rates already. The excursion plan will, in turn, be submitted to the trunk line carriers, the New England carriers, the central passenger, the Western passenger, the Southwestern and the Trans-Continental carrier associations, with the view to having uniform round trip rates for the fight all over the country.

The selling dates for Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia and North Carolina were fixed as Feb. 24 and 25 and for the Southernmost states as Feb. 24, 25 and 26, with return by March 4.

EMANUEL IS VICTOR OVER HARRY DILLON

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 18.—Armand Emanuel, San Francisco light heavyweight, beat Harry Dillon, Winnipeg, in a 10-round fight here last night. The sharp-shooting coast fighter won easily, keeping Dillon away with a rapid fire left hand. Emanuel weighed 181; Dillon 180.

50 "Bookies" on Hand for Miami Racing Opening

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 18.—Racing was resumed yesterday at Hialeah Park, the Miami Jockey Club's plant, after a suspension of a year, with a system of oral betting replacing the pari-mutuel machines, declared illegal under Florida laws during the 1927 meeting.

A crowd estimated at 15,000 saw Clean Play, a 6-to-5 favorite, with G. Fields up, nose out Standby in the $2000 added inaugural handicap, a six-furlong sprint that featured the opening card of the 51-day meeting.

Leonard B., with R. Leonard up, was third. Clean Play's time for the sprint was 1:12. Clean Play was 2 to 5 to place.

More than 50 bookmakers, each with a numbered button in his lapel, stood against convenient walls or posts to take bets offered.

Throughout the running of the six races, the "bookies" did a rushing business, some of them having assistants to aid them in taking bets, calling odds and paying off on the slips of paper on which bettors scribbled their names or initials.

Resumption of racing was marked by ceremony in which officials of the Jockey Club, Mayor E. G. Sewell of Miami and Mayors of adjoining towns participated.

PENSACOLA GOLF MEET SCHEDULED FEB. 8-10

By the Associated Press.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Jan. 18.—Organization of the greater Pensacola open golf tournament, to be held Feb. 8, 9 and 10, is perfected with prize money totaling $3500 as a drawing card for professionals. The tournament will be 72-holes medal play, it was announced yesterday.

Tommy Armour, representing a galaxy of stars that includes Walter Hagen and others now on the west coast, and Gene Sarazen, recent South Florida winner, have wired their entries.

More than 50 other pros have signified their intention of being on hand, and leading amateurs are expected to compete for trophies.

Johnny Farrell, Abe and Al Espinosa, Henry Culci, "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn and Leo Diegel already have entered, it was stated.

LOMSKI 7-TO-5 FAVORITE FOR BRADDOCK BOUT

Stribling Will Not Be Permitted to Box After Jan. 25

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 18.

JACK DEMPSEY, handling the promoting end of the Stribling-Sharkey fight at Miami Beach Feb. 27, has refused to permit young Stribling to engage in any matches after Jan. 25.

A fight scheduled for Stribling with Jack McAuliffe of Detroit in Atlanta Jan. 29 has been called off by the promoters following word from "Pa" Stribling that Dempsey has put his foot down on any matches after Stribling's fight with Ralph Smith in New Orleans Jan. 25.

Stribling will meet Art Malay in Norfolk, Va., tonight, and Sully Montgomery in Memphis Jan. 21. Articles of the Miami Beach agreement call for Stribling's appearance there for preliminary training not later than Feb. 1.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18. — Leo Lomski, of Aberdeen, Wash., will be a 7 to 5 favorite over James J. Braddock, Jersey City, when they enter the ring for their 10-round battle in Madison Square Garden tonight. But that should not worry Braddock, particularly. He was on the short end of the betting when he battled Tuffy Griffiths at the Garden some time ago but knocked out the highly-touted Sioux City light heavyweight.

Lomski, however, is one of the greatest of the present crop of light heavyweights. A crowding, smashing, tearing type of fighter he has held his own with the best of the 175-pounders. He had the title within his grasp in the Garden last year when he spilled Tommy Loughran, ruler of the division, onto the canvas. He could not keep the title-holder down, however, and Tommy danced and jabbed his way to the decision.

Braddock got little notice from the experts until he broke Pete Latzo's jaw with a right hand punch. He followed this victory up with the sensational knockout of Griffiths. That earned him the bout with Lomski. Some of Leo's opponents would say that Braddock is not getting much of a "break" in tackling a rival as rugged and experienced as Lomski.

Lomski scaled 172½ pounds today at the official weighing in. Braddock was a shade lighter at 172.

Charley Belanger, Canadian light-heavy, weighed 177½ for his duel with Nando Tassi, the Italian, who tipped the scales at 183 pounds. They meet in the semifinal.

Basket Star Ill

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Armand Emanuel, San Francisco, outpointed Harry Dillon, Winnipeg (10). Roy Michaelson, Minneapolis, knocked out Ned Carr, Winnipeg (2). Jimmy Gibbons, St. Paul, outpointed Tommy Haval, Pine City (6). Urban Liberty, Somerset, Wis., outpointed Eddie Nemo, Duluth (4).

C. B. C. Opposes Country Day in 'Prep' Feature

By Harold Tuthill

Christian Brothers College will open its Preparatory League basketball schedule tonight when it plays Country Day on the C. B. C. floor. In another conference game, McBride will meet Western Military Academy at McBride. The two County League games are St. Charles at Jennings and Maplewood at Clayton, while practice contests are Webster at Ritenour, Hancock at Eureka and Sparta (Ill.) High at Normandy.

Country Day is favored over C. B. C., since the latter five has failed to score a victory against other local high schools. The Brothers' sole victory was against the alumni last week. Country Day started its league season losing to McBride, 19 to 10.

McBride should win from Western, as the cadets were defeated by St. Louis University High in the opening league game, and McBride is rated on a par with the junior Billikens.

Jennings was shoved down to seventh place in the County League as a result of its defeat by Ferguson earlier in the week, but Jennings won from St. Charles, 27 to 17, and should have little trouble winning the return game.

The leading Maplewood quintet, tied with Kirkwood for first place, will have an opportunity to increase its hold when it opposes Clayton. Clayton has failed to play consistent basketball, losing to University City, a team beaten by Maplewood.

The expected winners in the three other games are Webster, Sparta and Hancock.

St. Charles will be crippled for its return game with Jennings. Burke, dependable center, will be out of the game and Feldman will replace him. Feldman played against Missouri Military Academy team and made a good showing. It was announced that St. Charles had arranged an extra league game with University City High, to be played tomorrow night at University City.

GEORGETOWN TO PLAY BILLIKEN ELEVEN OCT. 12

With the announcement yesterday of the arranging of a game with Georgetown University at Washington, Oct. 12, only one open date, Nov. 9, remains on the St. Louis University football schedule for next fall.

St. Louis had tentatively arranged a contest with the Rolla Miners for Oct. 12, but the Miners will be dropped to make room for the Eastern institution.

The addition of Georgetown gives Heartley Anderson's team a tough 1929 schedule. The opening game is with the Oklahoma Aggies, after which Davis-Elkins, the eleven which defeated the Navy last fall, will be opposed. Then follows Georgetown. Contests with Oglethorpe, Loyola of Chicago, Coe College, South Dakota and Washington also are on the schedule.

The schedule to date:

Sept. 28—Oklahoma A. and M. at Stillwater, Ok.

Oct. 5. — Davis-Elkins at St. Louis.

Oct. 12.—Georgetown University at Washington, D. C.

Oct. 19.—Oglethorpe University at St. Louis.

Oct. 26.—Loyola University at Chicago.

Nov. 2.—Coe College at St. Louis.

Nov. 9—Open.

Nov. 16 — South Dakota University at St. Louis.

Nov. 26.—Washington University at Washington U.

Murphy Expected To Break Mark in Big Ten Scoring

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Purdue's "big poison" of the hardwoods, Charles "Stretch" Murphy, has started out with such a dizzy rush that he may shatter every existing record for individual scoring in Big Ten basketball this season.

In four championship games, the six foot six inch boilermaker center had looped 61 points, or 72 points fewer than the all-time individual record, which was established by Johnny Miner of Ohio State in 1925. With eight more games still to play, Murphy needs but nine points a contest to tie the mark.

He apparently has clinched Big Ten scoring honors for 1929, as he is 22 points ahead of his nearest rival and teammate, Glen Harmeson, Boilermaker forward.

Another mark he is shooting at is the one for the most field goals tossed in a season. This was established by "Chuck" Carney of Illinois, who caged 60 in 1921. Murphy so far has bagged 21 field goals and 19 free throws.

Against Chicago this season, Murphy broke all Big Ten records for scoring in one game. In the first Chicago contest he scored 11 field goals and three free throws. A week later he bagged eight field goals and 10 free throws to better his previous record.

O. J. M'CAWLEY LEFT STOCK TO ASSOCIATES

Widow Receives Bulk of $50,000 Estate of Real Estate Man.

The will of Orman J. McCawley, real estate dealer, who died last Monday, was filed in Probate Court today. It disposes of an estate estimated at more than $50,000. Forty-nine shares of stock in the O. J. McCawley Real Estate Co. are given to each of three associates in the business.

Mrs. Mabel McCawley, the widow, receives 60 shares of stock in the company and the residue of the estate. A daughter, Miss Orman McCawley, receives $1, "with the assurance that her mother will amply provide for her."

Albert F. Gerst, vice president of the company; Sylvester A. Koster, secretary and treasurer of the company, and Miss Marie J. Harkins, a private secretary, are the associates named as beneficiaries.

SENATE TO TAKE UP WEST'S NOMINATION LATE TODAY

Deneen Prepared to Renew Fight for Confirmation in Closed Session.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The nomination of Roy O. West as Secretary of Interior was scheduled for consideration late today behind closed doors, with a determined opposition to his confirmation in prospect. Senator Deneen (Rep.) of Illinois, a personal friend of West, was prepared to continue the fight for West, confident enough votes were assured to obtain confirmation.

Senator Norris (Rep.) of Nebraska, supported by members of the Republican independent bloc and some Democrats, are opposed to West principally because of his investments in stocks of the Samuel Insull power utilities interests.

Informal announcement has been made by members of the Senate Indian Affairs Committee that they will voice no protest against the Secretary because of his administraion of the Rio Grande conservancy project in New Mexico. Affairs of this project have been under inquiry recently by the committee.

LEE BIVINS, CATTLE KING, DIES; OWNER OF 1,000,000 ACRES

Texan Reputed to Be Largest Individual Herd Proprietor in U. S.; Aided Growth of Amarillo.

By the Associated Press.

AMARILLO, Tex., Jan. 18.—Mayor Lee Bivins, 68 years old, who owned or held under lease for cattle grazing more than 1,000,000 acres of Texas and Mexico land, died yesterday of heart disease.

He was reputed to be the largest individual cattle owner in the United States.

Mr. Bivins was largely responsible for the growth of Amarillo from a cattle town to an oil metropolis. Two hundred thousand acres of his 400,000 acre ranch here were under lease to oil companies.

Bivins came to the Texas Panhandle when he was 27 years old and bought 12,000 acres of land at $1.06 an acre.

"As I sold my cattle, I bought more cattle," he said in explaining his acquisition of land and wealth.

POLICE BOARD INSPECTS MEN APPOINTED DURING ITS TERM

Commissioners Review 426 Officers Added to Force in Last Four Years.

The 426 policemen appointed to the St. Louis force during the four-year administration of the present Board of Police Commissioners appeared at police headquarters yesterday afternoon for their final inspection by the board which is soon to retire, with the possible exception of President Allen C. Orrick.

The inspection was held as a farewell to enable the Commissioners to observe the development of the men whose appointments they approved. There were no speeches.

The Commissioners were accompanied during the inspection by Walter Weisenburger, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Harold M. Bixby, former president of the chamber, and G. A. Buder, Frank W. Taylor and George S. Johns.

PRINCESS MARY THROWN FROM HORSE; UNINJURED

Falls on Soft Ground, Remounts and Goes On With Hunt, Newspaper Reports.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Daily Mail says that Princess Mary was thrown from her horse, but escaped injury, while hunting Monday with the Branham Moor hounds.

Her horse floundered in the mud near Selby House, and fell on its side. The Princess was thrown clear some distance away, falling on soft ground. Other riders were so close that they had difficulty in reigning in their horses.

They dismounted and helped the Princess to her feet. She laughed, got back on her horse and went on with the hunt.

L. M. HALL NAME TO SENATE

The United States Senate is expected to confirm the nomination of Louis M. Hall, Collector of Customs for St. Louis, for another term in that office. President Coolidge yesterday reappointed Hall for four years and sent his name to the Senate.

Hall took office in November, 1922, under appointment by President Harding.

PLANS TO RESTORE MARK TWAIN HOME

Memorial Committee Has Option on Old House at Hartford, Conn.

By the Associated Press.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 18.—A project is nearing realization to make Mark Twain's home here a shrine to his memory.

An option on the home expires Feb. 1. By that date Miss Katherine Seymour Day, a descendant of Harriet Beecher Stowe and head of the Memorial Committee, hopes to have received the amount asked by the present owners of the property. The figure fixed under the option is $155,000, and an additional $45,000 is being sought to meet repairs and provide furnishings and maintenance. Efforts to save the home as a shrine began nine years ago.

In this rambling old structure on Farmington avenue, Samuel L. Clemens, better known as Mark Twain, lived until 1891

Here he wrote "Tom Sawyer," "Huckleberry Finn," "The Prince and the Pauper" and other books. His close neighbors included Harriet Beecher Stowe, author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and Charles Dudley Warner.

Here such noted literary figures as William Dean Howells, Rudyard Kipling, Thomas Bailey Aldrich, Bret Harte and others were Mark Twain's guests.

As a shrine the house would reveal Twain's eccentricities. Restored as the author himself arranged it the kitchen would face the street "that the servants might watch the circus parade without having to run through the house." The place where his billiard table and famous barrel of cigars stood would be indicated.

The homestead has been called by Albert Bigelow Paine, biographer of the humorist, the "happy residence." But by these artistically inclined here it has often been referred to as "the house with the ugly roof."

The design of the roof, however, did not prevent Twain from coining such gems as: "Truth is the most valuable thing we have. Let us economize it." Or "If the desire to kill and the opportunity to kill always came together, who would escape hanging?" Or yet again, "Let us be thankful for the fools. But for them the rest of us could not succeed."

Besides being used as a shrine to the author, the home would serve as a branch of the public library and the home of two children's clubs. In recent years it has been used as an apartment house. Those in the group seeking to save the home are the Friends of Hartford, Inc.

NEW YORK REFUSES FOUNTAIN

No Suitable Place Could Be Found for Henry Kaufmann's Gift.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—An immense fountain, designed originally for the Bois de Boulogne in Paris and offered to New York by Henry Kaufmann, retired Pittsburg merchant, has been refused because no suitable place could be found for it.

The fountain was designed by the French sculptor, Joachim Costa, when the French Government eight years ago decided to erect such a fountain in Paris. The plan was abandoned when the City of Paris demurred at paying half the cost. The plans call for a monument more than 60 feet high with figures between 12 and 15 feet high depicting the four seasons and a pool and terraces below a cascade of water falling 100 yards.

HERRICK ARRIVES IN PARIS

Large Crowd at Station to Greet Returning Ambassador.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Ambassador Herrick returned to Paris this morning.

The station platform was crowded with members of the American colony and French friends when the train pulled in. Becq de Fouquierez, representing Foreign Minister Briand, was the first to greet the Ambassador as he stepped from the car. He told Herrick how happy the Minister, all his colleagues in the Government and all the French people were to see him restored to health and back in Paris. The Ambassador went direct from the station to the United States Embassy. He said he wanted to call at Marshal Foch's residence during the day.

DEPOSITORS TO GET 10 PCT.

Additional Dividend in Liquidation of Holland Bank.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 18.—An additional dividend of at least 10 per cent will be paid to depositors of the Holland Banking Co., which failed here five years ago, according to an annual report made by J. E. Cahill, liquidating officer. The depositors were paid a 40 per cent dividend shortly after the bank's failure. In the event suits pending in several courts are decided in favor of the bank, Cahill said, a dividend considerably larger than 10 per cent can be paid. The bank had more than $6,000,000 on deposit when the directors closed its doors Jan. 14, 1923.

Orlando Daily, Actor, Dies.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Jan. 18. — Orlando Daily, 56 years old, an actor in the cast in "The Royal Family," a comedy now playing here, died yesterday after a brief illness. Daily, who was born in Leamington, England, first came to America with James K. Hackett, with whom he appeared in "The Little Stranger." A widow and a son survive.

$500,000 DIAMOND OVERLOOKED IN HOLDUP

Four New York Robbers Fail to Notice Famous Nassak Stone.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Wrapped in ordinary paper, the $500,000 Nassak diamond remained untouched by four holdup men who yesterday morning took jewelry worth about $200,000 from the Mauboussin shop, on Park avenue.

The manner of the robbery was as quiet as the house in which it took place. Six persons in the store were bound and gagged, while jewelry was raked into leather bags. The robbers locked the door behind them as they ran out.

While the robbers went through the jewelry and the historic Nassak gem lay in disguise before their eyes, the bustle of Park avenue went on outside the windows, nobody noticing the most sensational robbery that has occurred since the start of the Whalen police administration.

The Nassak diamond was in a safe, which was open. The robbers prowled through the safe and took other jewels, but the little roll of paper in which it was wrapped escaped their attention. The Nassak diamond has had many owners since it was taken from the Temple of Shiva at Nassak, India, in 1818.

The Nassak diamond weighs 78⅝ carats, and would have been sold with as much difficulty and danger as the Liberty Bell.

During the holdup the robbers talked to their six prisoners who were forced to lie on the floor. Their final word before going out was that, if they were given three minutes, for their escape, there would be no shooting.

Jacob Lowenthal, a former city patrolman, now employed by the store as a guard, freed himself about four or five minutes after the robbers' departure and telephoned the police.

HOUSE DEMOCRATS SILENT ON PROHIBITION CHALLENGE

Shafer Asks Lozier or Anyone Else to Say Party's Return to Power Means Modification.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. — A challenge to the Democrats to say whether in their opinion a return of that party to power would bring a modification of the prohibition laws went unanswered today in the House.

Replying to a speech by Representative Lozier (Dem.), Missouri, eulogizing the Democratic party and predicting its inevitable return to power, Representative Shafer (Rep.), Wisconsin, declared that Alfred E. Smith's Milwaukee speech had been an appeal for support for modification of prohibition.

"I will yield to any member of that party on the floor if he will tell me whether in his opinion a return of that party to power will see a modification of the Volstead laws," he said.

There was no response.

11 FLEE SHIPWRECK; 1 SAVED

Chinese Is Twenty-fourth Person Rescued from Disaster Which Killed 300.

By the Associated Press.

HONGKONG, China, Jan. 18.—Cheung Shang, sole survivor of 10 men and a woman who embarked on a frail raft when the Chinese steamer Hsinwah sank off Waglan Wednesday, with the loss of more than 300 lives, was brought here today. He was rescued off Shapchaushan Island, 20 miles from the scene of the wreck. Twenty-three persons were saved after the ship went down.

Cheung, who was a passenger on the vessel, drifted two days and nights and eventually was cast upon an island. Some of his companions were washed off the raft and drowned. The others died from exhaustion and exposure. A fishing junk rescued Cheung from the beach.

12 SENATORS AT WHITE HOUSE

Eight Democrats Among Group With Coolidge at Breakfast.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Twelve Senators were guests of President Coolidge at a breakfast party today at the White House.

Present were Overman of North Carolina, Bayard of Delaware, Stephens of Mississippi, Blease of South Carolina, Walsh of Massachusetts, Thomas of Oklahoma, Smith of South Carolina and Trammel of Florida, all Democrats; and Gould of Maine, Burton of Ohio, Schall of Minnesota and Hastings of Delaware, Republicans. The breakfast was attended also by William B. Butler, former Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

REMBRANDT STAYS IN GERMANY

Self-Portrait Purchased Anonymously for $125,000.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—Rembrandt's famous portrait of himself, painted in 1669 shortly before his death, will remain in Germany, an anonymous Berlin art collector having bought it for a price reported as $125,000.

Great efforts were made to secure the picture for the Berlin Museum and a number of foreign art dealers also tried to obtain it, but its late owner, Marius Keppel, stipulated in his will that it must not be sold abroad. Since his death in 1920 the picture has been exhibited at the Rijks Museum in Amsterdam.

WOOL MARKET SLOW, SAYS BOSTON REVIEW

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: "The market has been slow and barely firm in price. Stocks of wool in the Boston market, reported at 75,000,000 pounds at the first of the year, including 58,000,000 domestic, compared with 55,000,000 pounds, including 45,000,000 pounds domestic a year ago, evidently have influenced prices little, dealers having discounted the increase.

"London has opened barely firm, compared with December rates. Sydney is no more steady. New Zealand and river plate markets are firm.

"Mohair is hardly changed with moderate demand.

"The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from Jan. 1, 1929, to Jan. 17, 1929, inclusive, were 9,509,000 pounds, against 13,092,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from Jan. 1, 1929, to Jan. 17, 1929, inclusive, were 9,415,800 pounds, against 12,491,800 pounds for the same period last year."

The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations tomorrow:

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The recent upturn in the raw sugar market attracted increased offerings today. As the demand appeared to be fairly well satisfied for the time being, prices reacted 1-32 to the basis of 3.80 for spots duty paid. At this level sales were confirmed of 50,000 bags of Cuban for prompt shipment to a local refiner, with more available at the same price.

Raw sugar futures opened 1 point lower, but eased off later under increased liquidation and selling by houses with Cuban connections. The list at midday was 1 to 2 points net lower. The volume of business was not large, and the setback apparently was promoted by the easier trend in the spot market and a less active demand.

The announced advance of 10 points to the basis of 5.10 for fine granulated was not put into effect by local refiners who were still willing to take business up to the close at 5. Yesterday's demand seemed to have supplied the immediate requirements of the trade and very little new inquiry was reported

Sugar futures closed barely steady; approximated sales, 19,000 tons. January, $1.97; March, $2.02; May, $2.12; July, $2.18; September, $2.22.

IN MEMORIAM

SCHNYDER—In loving memory of Mrs. Johanna Schnyder, who passed away Jan. 16, 1928.

One year has passed since that sad day;
The one we loved was called away.
God took her home, it was His will,
But in our hearts she liveth still.

Sadly missed by her sons,
CHARLES, JOHN AND JOSEPH SCHNYDER.

SLIGHTLY USED SIX-CYLINDER CARS AT BIG BARGAIN PRICES

Our vast volume sales of new Studebaker Eights have brought into our stock unquestionably the BEST used six-cylinder cars ever offered.

TERMS

Your Old Car as Down Payment

16 Months to Pay

GUARANTEE

PLEDGE TO THE PUBLIC ON USED CAR SALES

1.—Every used car is conspicuously marked with its price in plain figures, and that price, just as the price of our new cars, is rigidly maintained.

2.—All Studebaker automobiles which are sold as CERTIFIED CARS have been properly reconditioned, and carry a 30-day guarantee for replacement of defective parts and free service on adjustments.

3.—Every purchaser of a used car may drive it for five days, and then, if not satisfied for any reason, turn it back and apply the money paid as a credit on the purchase of any car in stock—new or used. (It is assumed that the car has not been damaged in the meantime.)

To the Public: We pledge adherence to the above policy in selling used cars.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Jan. 18.—Wheat and corn closed more than a cent higher on the local market. Argentine weather and crop comment was chief news in the corn market. Comment also was at hand on some of winter wheat belt weather.

Wheat opened fractionally higher, May gaining more early, but did not hold all of gain later in morning. Liverpool was unchanged to ⅜d lower early. Winnipeg early was ⅜c higher. Corn opened fractionally higher and sold a full cent better early.

Liverpool wheat closed ¼d lower on March and ½d on May and July. Argentine weather continued to dominate corn price trend early.

May wheat opened at $1.24. July wheat at $1.25¾. May corn at $1.03¼. July corn at $1.05.

Local wheat receipts, which were 82,600 bushels, compared with 89,600 a week ago and 61,600 a year ago, included 41 cars local and 18 through. Corn receipts, which were 173,600 bushels, compared with 121,800 a week ago and 140,000 a year ago, included 84 cars local and 40 through. Oats receipts, which were 98,060 bushels, compared with 80,000 a week ago and 28,000 a year ago, included 36 cars local and 13 through. Hay receipts were seven cars local and seven through.

CORN AT NEW HIGH EARLY AT CHICAGO

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Surpassing every high price record heretofore this season, corn and oats today marched steadily upward, with July delivery of wheat likewise outdoing the season's top record. At the maximum point today corn was about 26 cents a bushel above the season's bottom level. Drought damage comment from Argentina was the main market factor. Besides, unfavorable comment was heard as to the crop outlook for domestic winter wheat.

Corn closed strong, 1¾c to 2¼c net higher, wheat 1⅝c to 2c up, oats 1¼c to 2½c advance and provisions varying from 5@7c decline to a rise of 10c.

Report of drought damage to the corn crop in Argentina, followed by all corn prices going to new record heights early. At noon corn was ⅞ to 1¼ net higher and wheat ⅝ to ¾ up.

Some deliveries of wheat and of oats went also to above any level reached heretofore this season. Opening ½c to 1½c higher, corn subsequently held near to the initial range. Wheat started at ⅛c to ½@⅝c advance, and afterward rose a little more. Oats followed other grain. Provisions were easy.

Absence of moisture needed in the Argentine corn belt was reported in dispatches today to leading Chicago houses and resulted in continued large scale buying of corn here. According to advices at hand, Argentine rainfall in the last week is only one fourth of normal, and there has now been five successive weeks of markedly deficient moisture combined with excessive heat, a combination especially disastrous during the start and development of tasseling.

Drought report came also today from the other chief corn producing country in the Southern Hemisphere, South Africa. Meanwhile, detailed reports showed that the greater part of Argentine corn acreage was involved in the unfavorable crop situation which has developed, and which follows a heavy shortage of corn production this season in Europe.

COTTON FUTURES HIGHER AT CLOSE IN NEW YORK

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The cotton market was quiet today and fluctuations correspondingly narrow. An early decline under overnight selling orders, which was supposed to come partly from the South, was followed by rallies on covering and trade buying promoted by talk of a firmer spot situation in the South and relatively steady Liverpool cables. The midafternoon market was steady and about 2 to 3 points net higher.

Futures closed steady 3 to 8 points higher: January, 20.16-18c; March, 20.24-25; May, 20.25c; July, 19.86-87c; October, 19.55-57. Spot, quiet; middling, 20.40c.

The market opened steady at a gain of 4 points on near months which were influenced by relatively steady cables, to a decline of 9 points on the later deliveries which were depressed by overnight selling orders.

The general list eased off right after the call under liquidation attributed to disappointed holders, with March declining to 20.10c and July 19.73c, or about 7 to 9 points net lower, but there was some trade and local buying and the market steadied up a few points from the lowest by the end of the early trade. A moderate volume of business was reported at the start but trading became very quiet later.

Private cable said that trade calling and local buying had absorbed hedging and some Bombay liquidation in Liverpool, that there was further cloth buying by China but a disappointing demand from India.

Trading was quiet later in the morning. Prices held fairly steady on bullish features in Southern spot advices and the encouraging reports from the Lancashire cloth market. Early losses were just about recovered, with the market selling up to a shade above yesterday's closing quotations. The bulges met some further realizing and at midday trading was dull, with the active months showing net losses of 3 to 5 points.

New Orleans Spot.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 18.—Spot cotton closed steady and unchanged: sales, [illegible]; low middling, 17.87c; middling, 19.[illegible]; good middling, 19.77c. Receipts, [illegible]; stock, 325,059.

Wall Street News and Comment

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.

H. A. Scandrett, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific Railroad, said the budget to be approved by directors calls for the expenditure in 1927 of $12,000,000 for new equipment, including freight cars and passenger locomotives; $9,000,000 for miscellaneous additions and improvements, and $7,000,000 for new rails and fastenings. January gross revenues, he said, will be at least as good as a year ago.

E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific, announces 1928 earnings will exceed $14 a share. January business, he said is running ahead of a year ago.

Iron and Steel markets in the Youngstown district report a steady demand, with steel mills operating at a capacity, particularly in the production of flat sheets. Prices of scrap metal are $1 to $1.50 higher than in the last quarter of 1928.

Directors of the Brooklyn Fire Insurance Co. have voted for a 5-for 1 split-up of stock, subject to approval of stockholders at the annual meeting April 11. It is proposed to increase capital stock to 200,000 shares of $5 par value from 40,000 shares of $25 par.

Seven banks and trust companies in New York City now have deposits approximating $5,840,000,000. Deposits of all banks and trust companies in the entire country 25 years ago totaled about $9,-500,000,000, only $3,660,000,000 more than the deposits of these seven banking leaders.

Utah Power and Light Co. of Salt Lake City, including the Western Colorado Power Co., reports net income after charges for the 12 months ended Nov. 30 totaling $2,339,992, against $2,318,914 for the preceding 12 months.

Sinclair Cons. Oil Acquires Some Vacuum Oil Stock

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation has acquired an interest in the Vacuum Oil Co., it was announced today, through exchange of its holdings in French companies for Vacuum shares. The extent of the interest could not be learned.

Vacuum officials said the acquisition of the French holdings, chiefly in the Compagnie Industrielle des Petroles, will give the company a new sales outlet in France. The French Government since the war has been encouraging development of French companies and home production. The Vacuum company, its officials said, is planning to construct a new refinery in French territory to care for the sales increase expected as result of its new French interests. Its chief products are lubricants. It owns a fleet of tankers and does a large export business.

$84,130,050 INCREASE IN ACCEPTANCES IN DECEMBER

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Robert H. Bean, executive secretary of the American Acceptance Council, in reporting the result of the council's monthly survey, stated that the council does not expect the acceptance business to suffer to any considerable extent during the readjustment resulting from the desire of the Federal Reserve Bank to bear less of the burden of supporting the acceptance market.

The survey disclosed an extraordinary gain in the use of acceptances during December, the volume outstanding reaching the total of $1,284,485,780 on Dec. 31, an increase of $84,130,056 over Nov. 30, and of $203,905,215 over the total as of Dec. 31, 1927, of the increase during the month, more than $60,000,000 was accredited to the New York City banks, which now hold a total falling barely short of $1,000,000,000.

Referring to the Federal Reserve policy of reducing its holdings of acceptances, as explained by Dr. W. Randolph Burgess, Assistant Federal Reserve Agent at New York, early in December, Mr. Bean said:

"There is nothing in the current report to show that there is any check on the making of new bills for normal requirements of trade.

"That a somewhat serious difficulty now confronts the bill market is well understood and in the solution of the problem of securing a wider distribution of bills in the open market and outside of the Federal Reserve system, any temporary necessity such as a substantial increase in bill rates might be considered an excuse for the shifting of customers requirements to some other form of accommodations than acceptances."

In explaining that the council does not look for any serious falling off in the acceptance business, however, he added: "There is already strong evidence that the needed readjustment of the acceptance market is receiving the serious attention of those bankers most closely in touch with the acceptance business and who frankly acknowledge the soundness of the proposals of Dr. Burgess and other leaders that the active participation in the bill market by the principal accepting banks should not be longer delayed."

Stock Exchange Seat $615,000.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—A San Francisco Stock Exchange house for the first time has entered New York with the acquisition of the business of Robinson & Co., a New York Stock Exchange firm, by Sutro & Co. The latter, founded 70 years ago, is a charter member of the San Francisco Exchange.

The New York Stock Exchange seat held by James H. McGean of Robinson & Co. has been transferred to Frederic L. Yeager, who will be a senior New York member of Sutro & Co.

In two other transfers of seats on the New York Exchange, profits of more than $500,000 were made in each transaction. Duncan Bulkly who became a member in 1919, has posted his seat for transfer to Sylvan E. Weil, and Edwin A. Seasongood, admitted in 1916, was listed as transferring his seat to Alexander Amend both at the new high price of $615,000.

SUGGESTS COUNTY TAKE OVER WATER SYSTEM

Attorney Grand Proposes $6,000,000 Bond Issue—New Legislation Necessary.

A suggestion that St. Louis County issue $6,000,000 in bonds to acquire the St. Louis County Water Co., was made by Joseph H. Grand, city attorney of University City, at a meeting of directors of the St. Louis County Chamber of Commerce yesterday at the American Hotel.

Grand, who has represented University City in a rate controversy with the water company before the Public Service Commission, explained that a bill permitting counties to purchase and operate the water system, as cities may do now, would have to be passed. He requested that such a measure be sponsored by the County Chamber. The matter was referred to a committee.

Grand said that the county might issue bonds, pay 5 per cent interest, and, without an increase in present rates, amortize the indebtedness in 25 years. The gross earnings of the company last year were in excess of $800,000, he said.

The valuation placed on the company for rate-making now is $5,280,000, Grand said, adding that the actual value of the property was less than $4,000,000. He suggested ultimate connection with the St. Louis water system as desirable.

At the request of Oscar Meier, secretary of the St. Louis County Farm Bureau, the Chamber approved a resolution to assist horseradish growers in obtaining a protective tariff. Meier said that 75 per cent of the horseradish consumed in the United States was grown in St. Louis County and Madison and St. Clair Counties, Illinois, but that shipment to New York for manufacture was more expensive than transportation of European horseradish.

Robert A. Roessel, chairman of the nominating committee, reported the following nominations: Preisdent, James M. Rohan, president of the St. Louis County Land Title Co.; vice presidents, Henry W. J. Rott, president of the St. Louis County Farm Bureau; Eugene R. Ruth Jr., retiring president, and Joseph R. Matthews, former president of the chamber; secretary, Jefferson R. Smith, and treasurer, John J. Hartnett. The committee will mail ballots to members including nominations for directors.

Parker Wood of Carsonville declared that smoke was becoming a problem in St. Louis County as well as in St. Louis and urged action of the organization. Talks were made by Marcus Ruehlmann, B. Cordell Stevens, president of the St. Louis County Realty Board, and John S. Leahy.

An effort is being made to obtain improved service for subscribers of the Ballwin and Creve Coeur mutual telephone companies, Jefferson R. Smith, secretary of the chamber, announced. Each company services about 400 families.

FRISCO SUBMITS PROPOSAL FOR FT. WORTH EXTENSION

Asks I. C. C. for Permit to Purchase Texas Railroad as Part of Plan.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Details of the plan of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railroad for the organization of a new through route approximately 185 miles long from Amarillo to Fort Worth, both in Texas, were filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission for approval. The Frisco petition said that it desired to reach important agricultural and industrial territory and to furnish transportation by its own system out of Fort Worth.

In order to complete the enterprise, the Frisco asked permission to purchase the Gulf, Texas & Western Railroad Co., paying $2,300,000 for the stock and bonds, the seller being J. J. Jermyn of Scranton, Pa. The Gulf, Texas & Western sought authority to build 71 miles of new line, extending from Seymour to Paducah, via Truscott, Tex. Funds for this would be advanced by the Frisco, which asked permission to extend its own present line from Vernon into Seymour, a distance of 42 miles.

A third proposal asked the commission to allow the Frisco to acquire trackage rights over the Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf Railroad for 71 miles, from Jackboro into Fort Worth. The various acquisitions, extensions and rights to operate would put the San Francisco line completely through to Fort Worth.

MRS. ABRAMS TO BE TRIED ON MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Held for First Degree Murder but New Prosecutor Thinks This Not Justified.

Mrs. Antoinette Abrams, who shot and fatally wounded J. A. Jenkins Dec. 30 in the apartment they shared at 7034A Dartmouth place, University City, will be tried for manslaughter, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Woolsey said yesterday after she had been held for first degree murder at a preliminary hearing in Clayton before Justice of the Peace Werremeyer. The evidence did not warrant a charge of first degree murder, Woolsey said.

The murder charge was brought by former prosecuting attorney Fred Mueller on his last day in office. Mrs. Abrams $25,000 bond, under which she has been at liberty, was reduced to $7500.

IF RHEUMATIC BEGIN ON SALTS

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure, Eat No Sweets.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulateing and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts in inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

THE PARIS MODE TODAY

As Seen at Home Dinners and Dances

Special cable by Pierre Le Baux, director of the Paris Fashion Board, and E. Winifred Boulter, associate director.

PARIS, Jan. 17.

THE holiday season has been the occasion for a great deal of private entertaining in Paris, for those members of the chic world who have not flitted off to the Riviera or St. Moritz give dances and dinners in their own homes during Christmas week and the New Year and appear little in public places.

At a dinner dance given by one of the best-known French hostesses there was a gathering of young people who wore chic new evennig gowns. Owing to the festive season there was less of the dull black that has been so smart during the past few months. One outstanding gown, however, by Augusta Bernard, was in black faille, cut much longer all round than is usual, but with wide curved panels slashed to the knee so that there was a semblance of shortness in movement. Each panel was outlined with a heavy shirred flounce of the faille up to the point of the slash. The plain corsage bloused slightly over a narrow belt of the material.

Bright red was more worn than any other color. There was a really lovely gown chosen by a pretty brunette in vermillion velvet. It was made with a swathed corsage draped in a deep point at the back. The skirt had four perpendicular bias flounces cascading down in long points that just cleared the ground, two in front and two at the back, some eight inches apart.

There was a bright red chiffon frock by Molyneux with the now famous tab panels floating out from different altitudes at the back and one side.

Printed chiffon was also worn. There was a Molyneux frock in black chiffon with small roses in velvet dotted all over it, some of them being brightened by just a touch of sequin embroidery in the same shade as the roses.

One woman wore Patou's mid-season model that is carried out in black chiffon with yellow roses, the corsage tied in a knot in front at a waistline that is certainly higher than last season's, and the skirt covered with an intricate criss-cross of frills that cascade down to the heels at the back and stand out on the hips in the 1880 manner.

There was a printed taffeta frock in pale pink with a bold large shadow flower design in black pen and ink strokes, or rather what looked like that. It was made with a long slim corsage and huge full curved panels, much longer at the back, that stood out rather in the manner of a picture gown.

Young Mme. Edmond Barachin looked charming in Chanel's cire chiffon gown in white. The one that is made with shirred disks all around the hips and a full skirt dipping at the back and scalloped at the hem. She had a large posy of white chiffon flowers on one shoulder.

The young Princesse de la Tour d'Auvergne, nee de Broglie, looked charming in red tulle. Her simple corsage was trimmed only with a huge cluster of tulle flowers at the shoulder and her skirt, in layers of flat flounces, dipped low at the back and also at the sides.

Quite a number of black velvet gowns were seen. One of the prettiest was a Molyneux model with a trail of black velvet flowers covering one narrow shoulder strap at the back only, and another cluster at the hip on the opposite side.

Another had two long dipping points at the back and a cross-over corsage giving the very deep V back that is so fashionable just now.

A pretty blonde had a Patou frock of white crepe dotted with silver flowers, very small ones. It was made with a small bow at the back of the waist line and the new dipping points in front as well as the back.

Now that fur coats are very much the order of the day it is interesting to note that some women brighten them with a cluster of gay flowers on the lapel or tucked into the collar. At the Ritz at luncheon the Hon. Mrs. Paul Methuen had a bunch of tawny marigolds on the collar of her mink wrap. Another pretty woman had placed deep red anemones on the lapel of a golden brown breitschwantz coat.

Black breitschwantz is very fashionable for day coats and one sees a few in very fine black pony skin; sometimes untrimmed, sometimes with a collar of silver fox.

In the Bois de Bologne in the morning a few short fur coats are seen on the lines of those launched by Redfern and Molyneux this season. Castor is worn with a cloth skirt to match, beige breitschwantz and black breitschwantz are also very chic.

Who Was Guilty

Solution of "A Note on the Century" in Thursday's Post-Dispatch Daily Magazine.

WILLIE knew that when Ethel boarded the train she would go to the section specified by her ticket and find there the dozing German-American from across the aisle. His watch-chain with its pendulous Elk tooth would prove irresistible to her trained fingers and he might be sure that it would be unostentatiously removed. Willie therefore scribbled a note to Ethel, pulled his neighbor's watch from his pocket, twisted his note onto the chain and returned it. Ethel, of course, received the message, and went on with a serene certainty that Willie was safe. To pass the time away she followed the lady in the beige dress into the washroom on the chance that there might be something in it. When she saw the ring lying unchaperoned on the stand and the lady's back turned, she employed her favorite device. She slipped the ring into a piece of hollow soap and lathered it against a second piece until the two parts appeared as one. The police would, of course, return her soap and tooth-brush to her after their search for the ring.

To Avoid Ptomaine

Never eat food having a peculiar odor.

Never eat raw food without washing it well first.

Do not eat canned foods if the sides of the an seem bulgy and when punctured the can gives out a nasty gas.

Buy sea food for one meal only Do not try to hold it over for a day. You always eat leftover sea food with a doubtful feeling and why take a chance that it may be a bit "off?"

Home-Made Dog Biscuit

Put your stale bread in the oven until it is as crisp as pulled bread. Store in a tin and use with the dog'- meat and gravy. It will save you buying dog biscuit.

Mealy Potatoes

OO YOUR potatoes ever cook watery"? One housekeeper who became discouraged because she always served boiled potatoes that way experimented and finally hit upon the following method: Add just enough cold water to cover the potatoes, set over the fire and leave the saucepan uncovered. Just before the water reaches the boiling point pour it off and again cover the potatoes with cold water, salted, and cook until done.

She figured out that when the cold water is poured over the second time this sends the heat into the heart of the potatoes. At any rate, she avers she has always had mealy potatoes since she tried the new process, so it seems worth trying.

Style in Belts

A NOVEL memento representing thoughtfulness and an eye to fashion is the belt. One to delight any woman is a French copy in braided leather.

A new trick in belts is an elastic insert to further flexibility.

Current styles include Patou's narrow black belt with bizarre gilt buckle; Chanel rings on black suede; links of metal in gold, silver or enamel alternating with gilt; velvet; black, red, lizard, grained and plain calf and suede; buckles of marcasite and rhinestone, silver or gilt metal. And prominent among belts is that of smartly striped ribbon varying as to width.

Make Home Pleasant

MAKE the home environment enjoyable and your children and young folks will not seek pleasuse elsewhere. The wise mother will arrange pleasant surprises and she will enter into the home enjoyments of her children and make them feel that the home belongs to them and they are at liberty to invite their pals or one or more friends to share their home pleasures.

Let them sing, play and dance. Let them make fudge and pop corn and have a real jolly time. If this is done under the mother's supervision it will be done in decorum and the house will not be "upset."

SORE THROAT

DO YOU realize what protective power lies in the Listerine formula? Are you aware that, full strength, Listerine is entirely safe to use, yet so powerful that it kills even the stubborn B. Typhosus (typhoid) germ in 15 seconds?

Repeated tests in laboratories of national repute, prove it.

Now you can understand Listerine's effectiveness against ordinary colds and sore throat which are caused by germs.

Keep Listerine handy, and use it systematically in nasty weather. It may spare you a dangerous siege of illness. Would you like to receive our elaborate free book, "Personal Hygiene"? Write Dept. S.41, Lambert Pharmacal Co., St. Louis, Mo., U.S.A.

Do this and escape colds

Countless colds start when germs are carried to the mouth on food. By using Listerine on the hands before every meal, you attack such germs and lessen the risk of cold. Remember this mothers, when handling baby's food.

LISTERINE
THE SAFE ANTISEPTIC

HOW TO AVOID CATCHING COLD

BECAUSE colds, influenza, pneumonia, etc., become prevalent with the advent of cold weather it is quite natural to associate these two conditions. However, this is an erroneous opinion. The cold weather is by no means directly responsible for the respiratory diseases that prevail. It is our own unwise actions in cold weather that cause these ailments.

Even though the mercury may register below zero we are in no danger of colds as long as our body is properly protected and we have established hygienic habits.

Our own homes are largely responsible for the diseases that prevail simultaneously with winter. In summer time and during the mild between seasons colds are not prevalent because we have the windows wide open and we breathe good fresh air. Thus the respiratory tract is continually filled with pure air which enables this to function properly.

How different is our mode of living in the winter! Windows are kept closed and in many homes doors and windows are reinforced to exclude the fresh air. The rooms may be aired at certain times but we are careful to remain out of them during these intervals. In consequence many of us have lungs actually starved for want of pure air. This causes our blood to become impoverished and the entire system soon registers below 100 per cent, then we catch cold easily and in the wake of the cold influenza, pneumonia or bronchitis is liable to develop.

If the physician we call in should tell us the disease was not due to the weather at all but to the lack of proper ventilation many of us would be greatly surprised. However, that is a fact, and furthermore we would be less liable to these "cold weather ailments" if we kept the temperature of our rooms below 70 degrees. Householders should remember that fresh air means economy of fuel, for a room filled with pure air is more easily heated than one where the air is stale. Any room that feels stuffy when you enter it is unsafe to remain in. If you are tired and "blue" or not feeling quite up to par it wuold be wise to avoid crowded and poorly ventilated places.

In short, develop an antipathy for stale air and overheated rooms, avoid draughts, wear protective clothing and remember that colds and other diseases of the respiratory organs are "catching." With these precautions you will have a good chance of going through the winter without contracting a cold or any of its allied diseases.

Use ammonia or kerosene to clean enamel sinks, tubs, etc. These will not wear off the finish as scouring powders are apt to do.

Children's Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

MRS. REDDY IS FREED OF BLAME.

Be slow, I pray, in fixing blame,
Lest thus you soil an honest name.
—Farmer Brown's Boy.

* * *

FARMER BROWN'S BOY was up in the Old Pasture. There were Fox tracks in the snow there—plenty of them. Farmer Brown's Boy followed one of these tracks. When he found a good, clear print of a foot he took a little measure from his pocket and measused that print. Then he smiled, as he wrote the figures down in a little note book beside some figures that were there already. The size of the print he had just measured was smaller than the size of the print whose measurement was already written down in the little book.

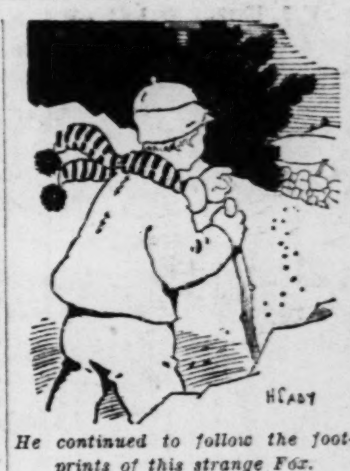
"I thought so," said Farmer Brown's Boy. "It isn't Mrs. Reddy who has been stealing chickens from my neighbor. The Fox who stole those chickens was a bigger Fox than Mrs. Reddy and he doesn't live in the Old Pasture. I suppose I've got to prove that, however."

So Farmer Brown's Boy continued to follow the footprints of Mrs. Reddy and he soon discovered that she was doing all her hunting in a direction quite opposite to the farm where the chickens had been stolen. Then he went back to that farm and followed the tracks of the chicken thief. That they were tracks of a Fox there was no question. The trail led by a roundabout way up to the Old Pasture on Farmer Brown's farm—the Old Pasture where lived Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy. It was no wonder that the owner of the chickens, who knew that Reddy and Mrs. Reddy lived in the Old Pasture, was certain that one of them was stealing the chickens. Farmer Brown's Boy could see the tracks of this man who had followed the Fox tracks clear up to the Old Pasture. There they turned back.

But Farmer Brown's Boy didn't turn back. He continued to follow the footprints of this strange Fox. They led up to the Old Pasture, but they did not lead near the home of Reddy and Mrs. Reddy. They led up through the Old Pasture and finally out of it on the far side. That was all that Farmer Brown's Boy wanted to know. He went back to see his neighbor who had lost the chickens.

"It isn't the Foxes who live up in our Old Pasture," said he to the neighbor. "I am absolutely sure of it. It is some other Fox."

The neighbor looked unconvinced. "What proof of that have you?" said he.



He continued to follow the footprints of this strange Fox.

"Well, to begin with," replied Farmer Brown's Boy, "I have measured a number of the footprints of the Fox that stole your chickens. They are considerably larger than the footprints of Mrs. Reddy, who lives up in the Old Pasture, for I have measured her footprints."

Then he opened his little book and showed the neighbor the measurements of the prints.

The neighbor grinned. "Well, that lets one Fox out," said he, "but it doesn't let out Reddy Fox, who also lives up there in the Old Pasture. You will have to admit that these footprints are the size of Reddy's footprints."

Farmer Brown's Boy smiled, but he didn't let the neighbor see the smile. "I see you followed those footprints up to the Old Pasture," said he.

The neighbor nodded. "That is the way I knew it was one of those Foxes up there," said he.

"But you didn't follow those tracks through the Old Pasture," said Farmer Brown's Boy.

"No," replied the neighbor, "it wasn't necessary."

"If you had," said Farmer Brown's Boy, "you would have found that those tracks did not go anywhere near the home of Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy, but crossed the Old Pasture. So that's that. But I have still further proof that Reddy Fox had nothing to do with your chickens."

CHILDREN IN THE CHANGING HOME

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

THERE was a time not long ago when parents and children really lived and worked together when the mother, at least, spent most of her waking hours in her children's company; when all day long in the work to be done about the house and yard there was opportunity for co-operation and those common interests which, far more than moral discourse, shape the character and determine the quality of the emotional relationship between parent and child.

If there were mistakes in discipline, it was not necessarily a serious matter. An occasional angry slap did not mean that all was lost and a momentary explosion of irritation could not altogether undo the good that came of hours of harmonious companionship.

But whether we like it or not the home has changed along with the rest of the world. Education, amusements, sociability and even hobbies have moved out and left the home, more often than we are willing to admit, a place where one eats and sleeps and where one stays when one can find nothing else to do.

In these days, after children have passed the baby stage, they see relatively little of their parents. The kindergarten, the school, the playground, the club, the movie and the automobile serve in turn to draw them away from their parents.

Yet for all these undeniable external changes one great fact remains the same—the emotional dependence of the child on his parents is just what it always has been. As much as ever the child needs the security of parental love, the steady reassuring interest that stands back of him while he directs his own energies towards conquering the ever-changing frontiers of his existence.

Since parents and children spend so much less time together than they used to, we can no longer be careless in our dealings of the moment. The effects of occasional tactless handling and unwise discipline do not all come out in the wash as they used to in the friendly companionship of a home which was otherwise well adjusted. We must make sure that those contacts which remain between parent and child in the rush of modern life are sympathetic and intelligent, calculated to bring out the best.

AT YOUR GROCER'S

Ring's Side

By Ring Lardner

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—So far this here writer has not received any mail from Grover Whalen asking me to tell him on the attached postcard what I think is the solution of New York's traffic problem. Moreover, though I write very small I could not begin to express my opinion on a postcard that is already congested with printed questions which the answers to same are supposed to solve the riddle. But our office is almost overwhelmed with blank copy paper and perhaps I can get rid of a couple of sheets to good advantage by filling them with suggestions for meeting the town's biggest crisis since women obtained the entree to barber shops.

To begin with, it seems to me Mr. Whalen would do well to order the re-opening of those 500 speakeasies he is said to have closed. New York has a hundred theaters that are padlocked (not by the police), four or five others that you can't get into, and 40 or 50 that you apparently won't get into. Leave us say the average capacity of a theater is 500 hommes. Five hundred times a hundred and fifty is five times five is twenty-five and five times one is one, carry two makes seven, or 75,000 people who can't or won't get into theaters. The normal mean attendance at a speakeasy is twenty hommes; twenty times five hundred is 10,000 hommes whom Mr. Whalen is locking out of speakeasies. Well, there is no doubt that theaters and speakeasies keep people off the streets and when they are on the streets, they are usually in taxicabs. The average attendance in a taxi cab is one homme and one femme or both. Divide 85,000 by two, makes 42,500, the number of taxicabs required to accommodate the people who can't or won't get into theaters and can't get into speakeasies. Mr. Whalen can hardly be expected to do anything about the theatrical situation (Voice from the Lambs: "What theatrical situation?"), but he can reduce the overplus of taxicabs by five thousand if he will unlock those five hundred saloons and give those 10,000 reluctant rovers a place to light.

New York's widest streets, and growing wider every hour, is Park avenue. Now it certainly was not given that name because it has a park. Nobody was ever overconfident enough to think up such a nom de plume for one spasmodic row of burdock. The street's sponsors in baptism were seers; they anticipated the horseless age and its difficulties, and they selected this broad highway as a place to park cars, not to drive them. My engineers estimate that all the automobiles on Manhattan and Long Islands and over half of those in Westchester County and Northern New Jersey could be billeted on this one esplanade if it were closed to all traffic, and nobody of importance would be discommoded save the select few whom Conde Nast occasionally invites to potluck and who could enter and leave on the Eighty-sixth street side by means of cranes and parachutes.

But the greatest single measure of relief would be the passage of a law compelling taxicabs to carry five or more passengers per trip. As the present average is two, this would mean the unconditional surrender of three-fifths of the vehicles which now make our streets impenetrable. Furthermore, it would dissipate New York's obnoxious reputation as a cold city where no one knows one's next door neighbor. If a taxi couldn't even start until it contained at least four people besides yourself, you would not only soon be on horribly intimate terms with everybody in your own parish, but enjoy a lap acquaintance with some of the thumpingest dowagers in the Bronx.

I got this idea from an Old Great Neck custom. When I was working on this early night-shift at the Friars, I sometimes caught the 1:23 for home. On winter nights, Mr. Jackson would have only two taxis at the Great Neck station to convey 10 or 11 stragglers to their respective huts. Five of us would get into one cab, which would then proceed to the residence of him who lived nearest the station, where (theoretically) he would disembark and the cab go on to the next stop. But before we reached the first customer's house, we'd all be such good pals that we'd have to drop in a minute and admire his highboy. And inasmuch as my other new pals also had highboys and I lived at some distance from the depot, I usually arrived at my own snuggery just in time to take the same cab back to the same depot, picking up on the way the same buddies I had met the night before.

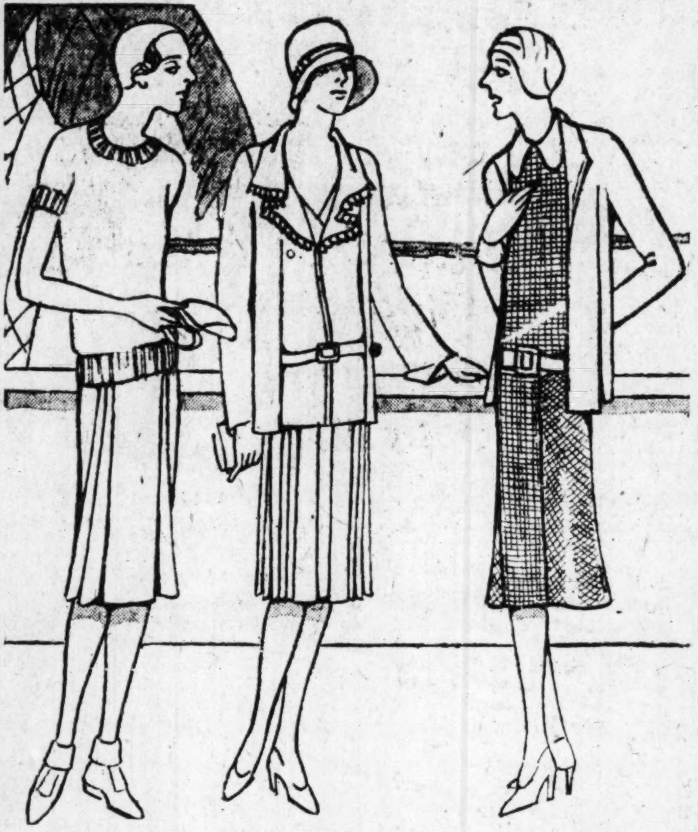
Snow Pudding

Serves the purpose when you want a delicate dessert to wind up the dinner. One tablespoon gelatine, one-fourth cup cold water, two cups boiling water, one cup sugar, one-half cup lemon juice. Soak gelatine in cold water, add other ingredients and strain. Beat two egg whites until stiff and when jelly begins to thicken, beat the egg whites into it. Serve with a custard sauce made from one pint of hot milk, two egg yolks, one-half cup sugar, a little salt and one teaspoon vanilla. Cook over a moderate fire, stirring constantly, until it coats the spoon. Don't let it boil more than a minute.

Longer Life.

After using the hot-water bag, hang it upside down to drain for several hours. Then blow air into it and screw in the top. This will prevent the sides from rotting by sticking together when not in use.

CLOTHES FOR SOUTHERN WEAR



A white cotton jersey "shirt" worn with a pleated white crepe skirt and with matching tennis socks.

A sleeveless white crepe frock worn with a cardigan and a white Panama hat.

A checked gingham frock with plain linen collar and belt and cardigan. A pleasing combination.

NEW YORK.

THE Southern season begins again and the smart American women, as well as the French women, are considering the items of their wardrobe. The clothes chosen for Southern wear can be looked upon as a definite and infallible forecast of what will be worn next summer.

There is novelty and distinction in the new Southern clothes. The best-dressed women no longer are satisfied to look like all other women. And while the same type of costume is seen again and again each one has individual charm of material and workmanship.

White is most popular in dead white and in the off tints that emphasize the charm of sunburn. When colors are used they are pastel or light clear yellows, reds, blues and greens.

The costume that is accepted for wear on most daytime occasions consists of a simple, but clever, sleeveless white dress that is worn with a cardigan. Most of these are silk or linen, but one lovely frock was of Angora jersey. Many of the silk crepe dresses have jackets of the self material, cut to make these sport dresses complete afternoon dresses. Others have jersey cardigene in white, navy blue or bright colors. Reports from the South tell us that a very chic woman wore a sleeveless white frock with a finely pleated skirt and a large jabot style collar under a short navy flannel jacket with brass buttons.

Cotton jersey jumpers are being chosen rather than the woolen ones that have often been so uncomfortable in the sun. The jumpers or shirts, as they are called, are ribbed at the round neck, at the cuffs and at the bottom, and many have only very tiny short sleeves. They are seen in pastel colors, but are most chic in white, especially when worn with tiny tennis socks that match.

A very simple fashion that is being revived is the use of cotton materials. There are numbers of checked gingham frocks worn with plain linen cardigans. Most unusual of all are coats of calico. This fabric has quaint and lovely designs worked out in warm color combinations—red and orange on yellow or yellow on red.

The turbans that have been worn all winter are appearing in the South in summer materials and colors. They are of straw, crepe, cotton or linen. In addition to turbans and berets there are many hats with wide brims of Panama for the most part. There are accompanying bags of Panama straw. All of the accessories of crepe, linen, straw or leather are designed for wear with the simple little white or colored cotton sports dress.

China Perfume Burner

THE shops are showing a very dainty china perfume burner of decidedly Oriental appearance. On one side there is a delicate flower and humming-bird design and over it a top of green that has holes in it for the scent to come through. It has three legs to stand on which upon close examination turn out to be nothing less than elephants' trunks with their heads forming the base of the burner and the ears joining together in between. It is an exotic and colorful accessory and looks extremely attractive when the light is on inside.

HOTEL DINING ROOMS.

WHEN one is stopping at a hotel, is it proper to wear a hat in the dining-room?

2. When registering at a hotel is it proper to prefix the "Miss" to one's name?

3. In ending a letter to one who isn't a personal friend, which is proper "Respectfully" or "Sincerely"?

LANE.

1. If you are dining alone, you should wear a hat, or if you are dining with friends informally, you should wear a hat. But if the hotel is a formal one, and you are dressed formally and are dining formally with friends, you do not wear a hat.

2. Yes. It is most important when you write this formal signature, to prefix the title before it.

3. "Sincerely yours" (the "yours" should be added in this complimentary close) is the very best form for this kind of betwixt-and-between letter. It is always safe. "Respectfully" is not now in good form nor is it much used, except when a tradesman writes to a client, perhaps, or a servant to his or her master or mistress.

* * *

GRAPE SEEDS.

WILL you be kind enough to settle an argument for a small circle of friends? We should very much like to know how to dispose of the seeds of grapes when eating them at the table. One of the ladies insisted that they should be removed from the mouth to a spoon and from there to a plate. Is this correct?

PUZZLED.

The seeds should be taken from the mouth with the finger between the thumb and first finger or the thumb and second finger, or with the thumb and the first and second fingers—whichever is the most convenient for you. Removing them to a spoon is, because of its awkwardness, not in good form.

* * *

GIFT UNNECESSARY.

PLEASE tell me whether a marriage announcement calls for a gift for a friend's sister whom I know just casually. I attended a shower in her honor, but she had a private wedding. Her "At Home" card was enclosed with the announcement, and I am wondering whether to send a gift, write a note of congratulations, or call in person.

MRS. H. R.

Since you know the bride only casually, her wedding announcement does not call for a gift. Of course, if you wish to send a gift, it is not incorrect, but it is not necessary. Plan to call on her to offer your best wishes.

* * *

SIGNING HER NAME.

I HAVE recently been married, and am at a loss as to the correct way to sign my name. Is it proper to sign it Mary Smith, or should I drop the Smith and sign it Mary Margaret Jones? (Jones is the new name, and Smith the maiden name.)

However, in my case, my middle name is a surname, and a person not knowing me before I was married, would think the surname was my maiden name. I have been signing Mary Smith Jones, and was recently informed that I am wrong. Will you kindly advise me?

MARY JONES.

Mary Smith Jones is the best and most usual form for the signature of a married woman, and I cannot understand why you were informed that this is incorrect. This form is the most sensible, too, I think, for it registers the first name, the important last name of the maiden name, and the last name of the new name. The form Mary Jones is also correct, and sometimes used, but it isn't so "informative" as the fuller form.

HERE IS THE FLY'S HISTORY

THE HOUSE FLY

THE house fly is chief scavenger among insects. It prefers a nice juicy warm bed of manure to almost any other home and it eats the liquid parts of garbage with an eagerness we cannot understand. Then it comes buzzing around our heads and perches familiarly on our chins and hands.

But as a matter of fact, it is not "personally dirty." Almost every time it rests for a moment, it improves the opportunity by doing a little scouring of its legs, or burnishing up its wings. Our quarrel with the house fly is not over its personal neatness, but rather about its associations. It may fancy the smell of the vinegar on our table—and come straight from some source of typhoid fever or infantile paralysis. And it may light for a moment in a glass of milk, with the fatal germs thick on its little hairy legs. The disease may be miles away, for the fly thinks nothing of a long journey when it is lured by the smell of vinegar, or alcohol, or any fermenting thing—even rotting plants.

The gray body of the fly, like that of any insect, is divided into three parts—head, thorax, and abdomen. Its eggs are brown. Besides the ordinary tiny claws with which the feet of most insects are equipped, the fly has special hairy pads by the aid of which it can walk up the slipperiest and steepest glass window panes without siding. The little hairs ooze sticky liquid as it walks, and even a stiff breeze cannot easily shake the fly's footing on any surface, however slippery.

The house pest cannot chew food, for it lacks the proper kind of jaws; and so it merely sucks in liquids. If there are not sufficient liquids available, it spits out a certain juice which makes small solid particles dissolve.

Most female flies lay something more than 500 eggs in a lifetime—which lasts generally only two or three weeks, though sometimes more.

The eggs are laid in fresh horse manure and in 24 hours, if the weather is warm, they hatch into little transparent maggots. These stay rather at the edge of the manure pile, where the temperature is not too high.

The full-grown maggots are creamy white and about half an inch long. They have a tiny hook in front, by means of which they pull themselves around. After the maggots have twice shed their skins, they look at the edge of the pile for some soil on which they can begin the operations of changing into pupae.

Then the maggot shrinks, and its skin forms a hard reddish capsule, inside of which it lives four or five days, when it pushes its head through the end of the shell and hatches, all of its own accord.

When winter comes, all but the hard-shelled pupae forms of the fly are destroyed, but enough of these are left for spring to insure a large crop of flies for the coming summer.

THE HUMAN BODY

By Dr. Logan Clendening.

BATHING

THE American people bathe probably more extensively than any other nation—except Japan. Certainly they bathe more luxuriously and comfortably than any other race. It is generally considered that the benefit which comes from bathing is largely due to the result of cleanliness. Some question may be raised as to the accuracy of this supposition. Many dermatologists are of the opinion that too frequent and too thorough cleansing with soap and vigor is detrimental rather than healthy for the skin. It removes the natural oily secretion of the skin which seems if not excessive to be necessary to keep the skin in good condition.

It is very probable indeed that the benefits everyone feels from his daily bath are due more to the general constitutional effects of the bath, the hot or cold water, rather than to the local effects on the skin.

Baths Affect Whole System.

It is well known that both the hot bath and the cold bath have definite actions on the circulation, the heart and the blood pressure, the excretion by way of the kidneys and by action on the heat regulating center on the central nervous system. With such definite physiologic actions it may well be that the universal chorus of approval of the bath is due to its general effect rather than its skin effect. My advice in general would be for anyone who bathes daily to undertake the vigorous cleansing not oftener than three times a week and simply soak and let the water do the treatment the rest of the time.

Most people find that either a hot or cold bath wakes them up. It unquestionably invigorates and relieves fatigue as after a golf game. For other individuals the hot bath is soothing. They take one before retiring in order to get a good night's sleep. My personal experience is that if I take a hot bath before going to bed I stay awake for hours, but that is purely individual.

Taste Dictates Temperature.

Whether very hot or very cold baths are healthy is again largely as matter of individualization. Some doctors believe hot baths are very debilitating and bring on colds. For those who have chronic or recurrent disease of the nose, or a chronic bronchitis, or are subject to asthma, this unquestionably is true. For them the cold or lukewarm bath is best.

A Crease in the Rug

If the rug acquires a bad crease in it, turn it upside down and wet the crease with a wet whisk until very wet. Then stretch the rug tightly and fasten with tacks until entirely dry. This method will iron out all traces of the crease.

"I went to the 'phone and my elder boy started to put little Harold in his bath before it had cooled. His tiny feet were so terribly scalded way up above the ankles . . . I covered them with Unguentine. They're healing nicely now and without a scar."

(RIGHT)
"I was taking out a cake . . . the oven door shut on my arm. The burn became infected . . . the pain was agonizing. I applied Unguentine faithfully. The deep wound is healing beautifully —there will be no scar."

HEART breaking sobs . . . How cruel, the pain of burns and scalds! How dreadful, the menace of infection, the threat of hideous life-long scars!

No true mother can take this risk. Let Unguentine, the famous antiseptic surgical dressing, protect your child.

In 8 out of 10 hospitals Unguentine is the first thought for all scalds and burns. Miraculously it soothes the pain; promotes rapid, normal healing; safeguards against infection. Housewives everywhere know the quick relief it brings to dreaded kitchen burns. And practically never does a scar remain.

Keep Unguentine always in your bathroom medicine cabinet, and extra tubes in your kitchen, your auto kit, your club locker, and in your office or work shop.

'The FORTUNATE WAYFARER'

by E. Phillips Oppenheim

INSTALLMENT XXXIII.

"IS that not what I am?" she asked, laughing. "After all, what do time or place matter?"

Martin deliberately walked away to the table, picked up the shaker and helped himself to another cocktail. Laurita's eyes followed him querulously. Blanche, her empty glass in her hand, also approached the table.

"What have you been saying to the child?" she asked, as he filled it.

"Not one word," Martin answered with smothered passion. "What I want to know is, what you others have been saying to her? The whole situation was to have been made perfectly clear."

"I tried," she whispered. "Laurita isn't like ordinary people sometimes. Talk to me after dinner. In the meantime you must humor her a little. Don't hurt her."

"I wouldn't for the world," Martin replied. "But there's something terribly wrong somewhere. She doesn't seem to realize—"

Once more Mallowes came to the rescue, announcing dinner. Here for a while there was respite. They sat at a small round table and conversation was necessarily general. When the champagne was served, Laurita raised her glass and looked across at Martin. There was a glow in her eyes as she sipped her wine. When the meal was over and Martin stood by the open door while they passed out, she raised her hand and pressed it to his lips.

"We dance soon—yes?" she murmured.

"If you will," he answered.

He returned to the table and waited for the departure of the servants. The door was scarcely closed after Mallowes' subordinate before he leaned eagerly across to his host.

"I say, sir—forgive me—but are you certain that she understands?"

Lord Ardrington filled both glasses with port, pouring out the wine with great deliberation.

"Why are you so concerned about this?" he asked.

"I haven't understood Miss Laurita at all, sir," was the anxious reply. "As you know, she went straight to her room after the ceremony and stayed there all the afternoon, and I was terribly afraid that she had misunderstood—that she didn't altogether trust me. Then, tonight, when she came down, from something she said, I was almost afraid—it almost seemed as though it were I who didn't understand."

Lord Ardrington caressed his wineglass lovingly.

"IS SERIOUS MARRIAGE REPELLENT?"

"MARTIN," he said, "I will be quite frank with you. I set out to explain this matter to Laurita as I should have done to Blanche or any other young girl amongst my relations. I tried to make everything quite clear. I told her of your pledged word. I tried to point out—vaguely, of course, but still with sufficient clearness—what this nomical ceremony might save her from. I thought she took it all in, and yet at times I wasn't quite sure. Laurita is very young, and she comes from a very emotional and passionate race. I watched her during the ceremony and I believe honestly that the memory of all that I had told her was swept almost into oblivion by that touch of drama, the curious excitement, which must visit a child of her temperament standing side by side with a man and subscribing to that service."

"What are we going to do?" Martin demanded. "I can't meet her eyes, sir. There are things in them I don't know how to reply to."

Lord Ardrington looked across at him keenly.

"Tell me," he asked, "is the idea of a serious marriage with my stepdaughter such a nightmare to you?"

"I haven't considered it," Martin rejoined. "It never entered into my head to consider it seriously until Lady Blanche warned me and Laurita came downstairs tonight. It was merely the shelter of my name which was required. You had a right to ask this of me and I was glad to give it, but now I don't know where I am. I don't know how to answer Laurita. Damn it all, sir," he broke out suddenly, "when she came downstairs tonight she acted as though she expected me to take her into my arms, as though we had really been married this morning, as though I were really her husband."

Lord Ardrington smiled benignly.

"Well," he said, "Laurita is a very lovely child. Would it have been so terrible?"

"But, sir," Martin expostulated, "what about my promise? What about the conditions?"

Lord Ardrington sipped his wine.

"There are times," he remarked a little cynically, "when the bourgeois conscience is a terrible obstacle to civilized life. However, Martin, no doubt your attitude is correct according to your lights. Let me approach the subject from another point of view. Laurita is—well, as you see her—beautiful, attractive in every way. What she lacks in athletic proficiency she makes up in her music, her dancing, her very beautiful voice. She is my adopted stepdaughter, and has been received as such by those of my relations who matter. She has as much money as you have. She will have more. Is the idea of serious marriage with her repellent to you?"

* * *

"THERE IS SOME ONE ELSE."

MARTIN was silent. Lord Ardrington waited patiently for several minutes. He cracked himself a walnut and refilled the two glasses. Then at last his guest found words.

"No one could help admiring Laurita," he said. "I'm not good enough for her. I know that quite well. All the same, I went through this without a single idea that it might ever become a reality. I purposely did not listen to a word of the service. I was only sorry for Laurita when I saw how affected she was by it. I have tried to carry out my bargain in the spirit as well as in the letter. I have kept even my thoughts away from the nature of the bond which holds us. If you are seriously asking me whether I wish that bond to be real, I honestly can't answer you. I tried so hard to convince myself that it was unreal that I can't turn around all in a moment."

"You're an extraordinarily conscientious young man," Lord Ardrington observed, with faint irony.

"I don't think I am," Martin replied. "I'm trying to be decent according to my lights. I'm no different to other young men of my age, and if you ask me whether I would like to have taken Laurita into my arms when she came downstairs before dinner. I will tell you that it would have given me an amazing amount of pleasure, but if I had done it, I should deserve to have been kicked out of the house. I should have been taking advantage of a child's temperament suddenly worked upon by those few minutes in church."

Lord Ardrington relapsed once more into silence. In a sense he seemed disappointed.

"Very well, Martin," he said, "we must all help one another so far as Laurita is concerned, but don't hurt her. Her mother suffered so terribly that notwithstanding her later years of happiness, I believe that she died of a broken heart. Laurita must be happy."

"Then I think, sir," Martin ventured, "that she should have a year or two to look around to choose a husband for herself."

Lord Ardrington shook his head.

"Her instincts aren't that way, Martin," he objected. "However, let that pass. I want you to answer me faithfully. Is there any reason why, if you accustomed yourself to the idea and if you realize that the child wants it, your marriage shouldn't be made a real one?"

The walls of the room seemed suddenly to fall away. Martin sat once more in the park and listened to Garnham's semi-ironic introduction. He stood in her miniature hall and saw her upon the threshold of her strange little room. He sat at his table at the Ritz and watched her come down the room, his heart pounding like a sledge hammer. It was a moment of absolute self-revelation. He knew himself and all about himself, knew whence had come that sense of horror barely an hour ago.

"There is no real reason, Lord Ardrington," he acknowledged, steadying his voice with a great effort. "I am not a romantic person. I realize very well what is possible and what is not. That is why I answer you that there is no real reason why I should not some day make Laurita a decent husband if she wants me."

Lord Ardrington inclined his head.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped, addressed envelope.

M. M. F.—The David Ranken School of Mechanical Trades was established at Newstead and Cook avenues in 1907 and endowed by David Ranken with approximately $2,000,000. Ranken's purpose was to give boys practical instruction in skilled trades and to men already in trades the further instruction which might make possible their advancement. He specifically forbade that the school should aspire beyond that and thus approach the aims of institutions of higher engineering instruction. Write to the school for a catalogue which gives entrance requirements.

S. G.—The American Consul at Stuttgart, Germany, is named Kehl. For further information inquire at office of German Consul in St. Louis, Dr. Geo. Ahrens, Planters' Building.

MARTHA.—The President of the United States is usually and properly spoken to as "Mr. President;" in writing to him, "My dear Mr. President" is good usage, and so is "Dear Mr. President."

BOB.—Write to the Numismatic Co. of Texas at Fort Worth for the Star Rare Coin Encyclopedia and Premium Catalogue which gives a complete list of all rare coins and their value.

F. L.—There are said to be 3424 spoken languages or dialects in the world, distributed as follows: America, 1624; Asia, 937; Europe, 587; Africa, 276. Although the war has added some few words to the English language, the number is less than 10,000. The reputable English language contains approximately 700,000 words. Possibly 300,000 more terms may be stigmatized as nonce, obsolete, vulgar, low, etc., and therefore seldom or never sought in dictionaries designed for the home. The chief artificial, "international" or "universal" languages are, in the order of their appearance, with the names of their inventors, when known.—Volapuk (1879), Johann Schleyer, Germany; Esperanto (1887), Dr. L. L. Zamenhoff, Warsaw; Spelin (1888), and Myrana (1889), J. S. Kempten, Germany; Mondolingue (1890), Universala (1893), Eugene Heintzeler, Germany; Kosmos (1894), Eugene A. Landa; Novilatin (1895), E. Beerman, Leipsic, Germany; Idiom Neutral (1902), M. Rosengerger, Leningrad; Ro (1906), Rev. E. P. Foster, Marietta, O.

O. J. R.—The classified section of the telephone directory gives list of studios which take moving pictures and will rent cameras for this purpose. See "motion picture machines."

MAMIE.—In the list below the Cabinet officers are arranged in the order in which they succeed to the presidency in case of the removal, death, resignation or inability of both the President and the Vice President. No such emergency has arisen. Secretary of State, Secretary of Treasury, Secretary of War, Attorney-General, Postmaster-General, Secretary of the Navy, Secretary of Interior, Secretary of Agriculture, Secretary of Commerce and Secretary of Labor.

OWENSVILLE. — The Tunney-Dempsey second fight took place in Chicago at Soldier Field, Sept. 22, 1927. Tunney was awarded the decision after 10 rounds.

E. L. G.—Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross was the first woman Governor in the United States. She was inaugurated as Governor of Wyoming, Jan. 11, 1925. Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson of Texas was the second woman Governor, taking the oath of office on Jan. 21, 1925, but was the first woman to be nominated for the office.

BOOB.—Apply at the Navy Recruiting station at the Federal Building (old Custom House), Third and Olive, for information regarding enlisting in the Navy.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association)

A. K. H.—Ex-service men are not entitled to free fishing licenses.

MRS. K. P. T.—There would have to be a trustee until your child becomes 21 years of age. You may be able to arrange for a joint account with a trustee for your child. Inquire of the bank.

CURIOS.—The owner's personal property can be levied on to collect the taxes on his real estate in Illinois. Consult an East St. Louis lawyer.

OLD SUBSCRIBER.—If any stock of goods is carried, a merchant's license is necessary, the cost of this depending on the stock and sales. No county license is necessary, but in some towns, a town or city peddler's license might be required.

A. B.—If the bill of the wife is for necessaries, the husband is legally liable for it.

MARILYN JANE.—A person's given name can be changed by applying at the Vital Statistics Office, ground floor, Municipal Courts Building, Fourteenth and Market streets.

T. B. D.—The purchasers of the lots should consult a lawyer. The real estate company may be subject to criminal prosecution.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

NELLIE.—The persistent periodical fever indicates some form of infection or toxemia. The periodicity of which suggests a possible malaria taint and if so should be benefited by taking "the elixer of iron, quinine and strychnia" in dessertspoonful doses in a wine glass of water three times daily after meals. The bowels should be kept moving freely and regularly, and for this purpose the taking of zilatone tablets, two or three at a dose at bedtime, is advisable.

M. W.—The true cause of warts is not well known or fully agreed upon. Some form of friction or irritation at times seems to cause their development. They may be cured by use of the following preparation: Salicylic acid, 1 drachm; collodion, 1 ounce. Mix and apply night and morning, after soaking in hot water for 15 or 20 minutes and drying thoroughly. Do not allow the medicine to touch the surrounding skin or tissues.

Old Styles Come Back at Opera

FASHION did a backward flip when the Diaghalev ballet had its first night at the Paris opera. There were ground-length skirts, fitted bodices and long kid gloves aplenty in the crowd of fashionable women that turned out for one of the biggest nights the Paris opera has had this winter.

The ground-length skirts, which swept like trains on the grand staircase of marble, included a Chinese red satin dress with princess bodice and square decolletage. It was worn by a slight blond woman with a fringe of curls on her forehead and shingled back hair. A long tight wrap of silver lame reaching to the ankles was another creation that caused comment.

Among the wearers of white kid gloves of more than elbow length was Mrs. Jefferson Davis Cohn, considered one of Paris' well-dressed women. Mrs. Gene Tunney, who attended with her husband, and had to undergo the stares from many pairs of opera glasses during intermissions, was one of the few women wearing long sleeves. Her gown was heavy black lace with close-fitting square neckline.

Tasty Pies

Make a pastry dough of two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, three tablespoons lard and butter mixed, two-thirds cup milk. Roll out and line well-greased muffin tins with the dough. Place ground cooked meat, well-seasoned and moistened with gravy in each little pie. Cover with crust. Bake in a hot oven until brown. A delightful way of solving the leftover roast problem.

Five-Strand Pearl Necklace

The classic pearl multiplies its chic when it is fashioned of five strands for a necklace. The smarter necklaces are adding strand to strand.

Even Dog Is Black

One of the most lovable and useful dogs yet to appear in any form is a black and white English bull made of soap. You may not be able to bring yourself to use this as soap, but even if you can't, its appearance in the washroom will certainly add charm.

Knitted Weaves

A knitted cloth of exceptional smartness brings something distinctly new to the realm of woolens. This is of soft worsted yarns in an openwork construction forming a zigzag design, the coloring being a striking contrast of gray beige and lemon yellow.

By Frances Olivier

AN OILY SKIN.

TO a shiny-faced lad who is either too masculine or too conscientious to appropriate his sister's powder:

His nose — and he happens to have quite a lot of nose — fairly beams. And there are times when the entire countenance looks as if it were oiled in preparation for the famed channel swim.

He has tried using talcum, but as he says, "it slides right off."

We hesitate quite a little to recommend a special kind of diet in a case like this. After all a gleaming face on a man is not exactly cause for suffering, but pieless, fryless meals are to him well-nigh unbearable.

The fact of the matter is, however, that an oily skin — in this country anyway—is almost invariably a sign of indigestion. So, once again, if the afflicted one cares about making a thorough job of his cure, he will abstain from foods difficult to digest, or at least cut down on them. We mentioned pies and the fries simply because they happen to be well known as "difficult" foods. But the young man in question may find for example, that he has a much more strenuous time trying to assimilate bananas.

Now we come to the subject of local treatment. What we have to offer is a superfine lotion designed to keep down the gleam of a nose for several hours at any rate. In other words, if the beaming-skinned one lightly daubs his face with the afore-mentioned liquid before he sets forth in the evening, the chances are that he will retain the well-groomed dull finish until he gets home.

The formula is as follows:

LOTION FOR OILY SHINY SKIN.

Campnor water	1 pint
Glycerine	½ ounce
Powdered borax	¾ ounce

Add the glycerine drop by drop, to the camphor water, stirring the two ingredients together thoroughly. Then slowly pour the borax into the mixture, while you continue to stir. Finally shake the lotion well, bottle it and cork it tightly. And always shake it before using applying it on a little pad of absorbent cotton or the end of a soft towel.

We doubt very much whether the "shining" lad will care to mix this preparation for himself, but should he rebel at the idea, the corner chemist will be only too pleased to oblige him.

(Copyright, 1929.)

A Little Water.

When not in use, all wooden washtubs and buckets should have a couple of inches of water left in them. Otherwise the wood will become too dry, shrink and leak.

WELL WELL SISTER BUNGLE, WHY SO BLUE? YOU LOOK AS IF A RICH UNCLE WITH A BAD COUGH WAS ON THE MEND AND......
OH GEORGE BUNGLE WHY ARE YOU ALWAYS SO LIGHTMINDED? HEAVENLY DAYS, LATELY I'VE JUST ABOUT HAD MY FILL OF PEOPLE IN THIS HOME WHO ACT AS IF ANOTHER DELUGE WOULD BE JUST AN OPPORTUNITY TO GET A NICE LONG BOAT RIDE.
MY WORD! WHAT.....?
IT'S ABOUT PEGGY! TWO DAYS AGO A SILLY LOOKING SHEIK GAWKED AT HER ON THE STREET. TODAY SHE, ACCIDENTALLY, AS SHE SAYS, BUMPED INTO THE BACK OF HIS CAR......A GREEN AFFAIR THAT CAN BE SEEN FOR MILES.......AND THEN TALKED TO HIM FOR AN HOUR.
WHAT, A COLLISION?! FINE STUFF! ANOTHER RADIATOR SHOT......AND TWO FENDERS GONE TOO I SUPPOSE! I WARNED PEGGY THOSE BRAKES DIDN'T WORK. I TOLD HER.......
HA! A YOUNG GIRL INTRODUCES HERSELF TO A FRESH LOOKING STRANGER AND HER FATHER.....HER FATHER, MIND YOU!......WORRIES ONLY ABOUT A FOUR OR FIVE DOLLAR GARAGE BILL. WHAT A LIFE!
YOU SAY SHE INTRODUCED HERSELF TO HIM. YOU HAVE TO DO THAT IN ACCIDENTS. SHE PROBABLY JUST GAVE HIM HER NAME AND TOLD HIM TO SEND THE BILL TO ME. FINE STUFF! NOW ALL I HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT IS HOW TO PAY TWO GARAGE BILLS ON A ONE-GARAGE-BILL INCOME, EH?
OH HUSH UP! YOU'RE HOPELESS! OH WHAT A WONDERFUL BLESSING IT IS TO BE PERFECTLY DUMB.

THERE! I KNEW IT! I KNEW ALL THIS PUBLICITY ABOUT ME WOULD BE BAD FOR BUSINESS!
THE HOUSE IS PACKED—WITH EMPTY SEATS! WHAT'S WRONG?
NOTHING— THE DISTINGUISHED-LOOKING GENTLEMAN OUT THERE BOUGHT OUT THE ENTIRE HOUSE FOR TONIGHT —IT COST HIM $5,000 —JUST TO SEE AND HEAR YOU ALL BY HIMSELF!
THEN WHY HAS HE THOSE TWO MEN WITH HIM ?
OH, HE CARRIES THEM JUST TO APPLAUD FOR HIM! THAT'S WHAT I CALL BEING EXCLUSIVE!
Maybe this is the Mystery Man! We'll soon find out now!
